Entered at the postoffice in Decatur, Indiana, as second-class matter.

Senator Root, greatest constitutional lawyer of the world, in a letter to Will Hays, chairman of the national republican committee, declares for the league of nations with certain changes to which most people agree. His attitude is in contrast with certain other near senators and political tumbler. The difference, too, seems to be that Mr. Root thinks before he expresses his opinion.

Adams county should plan to meet her quota for the Fifth Liberty Loan before sundown on the first day. Their should be no need of making any person buy bonds, you ought to want to buy them. Of course if you are seeking some little two by four excuse for not doing so, you will find it. No one is perfect and without doubt mistakes have been made but these facts do not permit us to repudiate our debts or neglect bringing home the boys and finishing the job.

When you hear a fellow say that he is not going to buy bonds because some official in his opinion has been incompetent just put it down that he is playing politics in preference to being loyal to his government. It's the cheapest kind of petfoggy.

Senator Watson is making speeches against the League of Nations, making the only kind of speech he knows how to make, a Fourth of July, red-fire, rip and snort political harangue, fairly tearing the tail feathers out of the old eagle. The people smile and pass it over for there is no argument to his fierce outbursts. He is against it evidently because the president is for it. The great majority of people are for a league because they believe it to their interests and it is more than probable that Mr. Watson will be busy next year explaining his attitude on this great international question.

And talking about incompetency the record of the recent legislature in Indiana ought to forever close the mouths of some of the men who are crying the loudest. The tax and road laws and a few others are rather fresh in our minds and as time passes it will be clearer than now that the men behind the gun in the 1919 assembly were not just what you would call over competent.

That the amendments to the constitution for the League of Nations will make it a stronger and better document, no one who is half fair doubts, that in the future there will be other changes are assured. The fellow who takes the attitude that the original form was perfect is just as far wrong as he who opposes it blindly and viciously because of political reasons. What we all want is the best peace treaty possible and the way to get it is to be honest and square and non-partisan.

Have you tried to rent a house in Decatur? Well try it and you will soon convince yourself that if this city is to grow, some one will have to start home building soon. We talked to one man today who said he had been here four days and had spent several hours a day trying to find a house in which to live and that though he had not been particular, he had so far failed. A row of modern dwellings or a flat would be rented before the basement was ready and it looks like a mighty good investment.

FOR CONSTIPATION

The Root of Many Malignant Diseases Laxcarin is Used Very Effectively How Laxcarin is Used.

As a Stomach or Dinner Pill—The dose is one pill taken immediately before or after dinner. Sugar-coated and non-nauseating they can be taken without inconvenience and by their power of gently stimulating the stomach, organs of digestion, liver and bowels, will tend to give relief from the effects of over-eating, indigestion and any tendency to the formation of a costive habit of the body.

Doses, as a Laxative, in dyspepsia, liver complaints, chronic constipation or costiveness, sick headache, etc., take one, or two tablets at bed time, or any number required to insure a healthy movement of the bowels once and not more than twice during the next day. When taken every night or every other night, in many cases a single pill will be sufficient; others again will require more, while in a few instances a half pill will be found ample. When thus taken, patients will soon learn by experience the size doses they need, bearing in mind that a single, healthy, natural movement of the bowels daily is all that is required. This is the best time and manner of taking them in these diseases, as operating very gently next day they carry off vitiated secretions.

As a Purgative—The average dose for an adult, to produce moderate purging in bilious attacks, disordered stomach, is from 2 to 3 tablets.

For Children—They should be given in doses proportionate to age, say a child from 5 to 8 years, one-half tablet; from 9 to 15 years, one whole tablet.

Constipation or Costiveness—They should be given in doses proportionate to age, say a child from 5 to 8, one-half tablet; from 9 to 12, one whole tablet.

Constipation or Costiveness—This condition is really a parent of evil, giving rise, when habitual or chronic, to an almost innumerable class of ills and affecting a numerous host of people. To obtain relief, take Laxcarin at bedtime in laxative doses sufficient in size only to induce a single natural evacuation of the bowels next day. After a few days omit the tablets, but nevertheless on the following morning at the same hour on which the pills operated the day before, make an effort to have an evacuation, whether there is any desire for it or not. If successful, never fail to go to stool at that hour every day or the constipated habit may return. If any evacuation should not follow the first or second morning after omitting the tablets return to their use for a few days and then omit them again as before, and so continue until regular evacuations are established.

In most cases whether with adults or children, the doses will have to be varied in size and in the same intervening between the doses to suit the peculiarities and habits of different individuals and of differing circumstances, each learning by experience for themselves what is best adapted to their use.

It is best to have a box of Laxcarin always on hand. It is the safest purgative, and no family medicine chest is complete without it.

Laxcarin is sold solely by The LAXCARIN PRODUCTS CO. Price—$1.00 per box; 6 boxes, $5.00 Money Order, Cash, Registered Letter Will send C. O. D. Anywhere Dept. E-147 Pittsburgh, Pa.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.
