A decided raise in prices is noticeable on the menu of a number of local eating houses. The raise is not unexpected, however, and follows a warning by restaurant owners of several weeks ago. Practically every line of food was included in the raise. Coffee remains the same, but there is a promise that even this commodity will soon rank in the ten-cent list. Increased wholesale prices is the universal reason given by the eating house proprietors.—Gt. Wayne Journal-Gazette.

OBITUARY.

Andrew Jasper Case was born April 3, 1862, in Willshire township, Van Wert county, Ohio, where he spent the most of his younger life. At the age of 21 he was converted and joined the M. E. church at Willshire, Ohio. Later his membership was transferred with that of his family to the M. E. church at Pleasant Mills, where he has been a trustee. His religious faith and experience were quiet but strong and he has ever trusted in his Heavenly Father. On July 17, 1887, he was united in marriage to Miss Mary Watkins of Pleasant Mills, Ind. To them were born eight children, two boys dying in infancy. He leaves to mourn the widow and six children: Jesse Case, of Pleasant Mills; Rufus, in the west; Marion Case, of Jackson, Mich.; Roy, Mary and Vaughn, at home. One sister, Ida May Teeple, of Geneva, Ind., and two brothers, John and Warren of Willshire, Ohio. He has gone to meet his father and mother and the children who are resting in peace. He will be missed by his loved ones and friends. Mr. Case was ready to meet his blessed Master. We mourn, but our mourning is mingled with joy for we expect to meet father and children in the sweet bye and bye.

Card to Thanks.

The wife, children and other relatives of the deceased desire in this manner to thank the many friends and neighbors for kindnesses and sympathy expressed in their bereavement. To the minister and singers we wish to especially extend thanks for the messages of comfort in words and song.

SMOKE BARRAGE TO SAVE BRAZIL'S COFFEE

(By Lawrence S. Hass, United Press Staff Correspondent)

[Rio De Janeiro—(By Mail)—The "alerte" and d'all clear" system of warning of air raids, which was used in Paris during the war, has been adopted by the coffee planters of Southern Brazil in unique measures which have been ordered to combat frost. A smoke barrage is to be adopted instead of the shrapnel which was so effectively used to "get" enemy air raiders and the agricultural officials of this country believe that compliance with the new regulations will provide against a repetition of the damage of last year's frost, which cost so many millions of dollars to planters and also to consumers.

During the winter of 1918 an extraordinary cold wave, beyond the memory of the oldest inhabitants, swept over Southern Brazil, and it was during this spell that the first snow in more than eighty years fell in Buenos Aires. The frost found the planters absolutely defenseless, and when normal weather returned, it was found that millions of coffee trees were killed and a large percentage of the others injured so badly that the crops for the next three years will be cut down by about one-half. Instead of a production of 15,000,000 bags a year, seven or eight millions is all that can be hoped for annually until 1921.

This frost had the effect of about tripling the local price of coffee.

The new plan which has been evolved for getting the best of "Jack Frost" is being put into effect by the Municipality of Itajahy, a city in the state of Santa Catharina, in the heart of the Southern Brazil coffee country. Planters in other localities will watch the effect of this campaign with the greatest interest and many are considering its adoption. Its success will probably mean the enforcement of such a regulation in other districts where coffee crops would be subject to frost.

The regulations are compulsory, being issued by the agricultural authorities. Violation by planters under the jurisdiction of the district lays them subject to heavy fines.

The project for the preparation of fuel for bonfires North, East and West of the coffee groves at distances of thirty to forty metres apart. This preparation must be made early in the cool season and continued for several months. Each planter must collect sufficient wood and brush to keep fires burning three nights in succession, and in case the fuel reserve becomes in any way depleted must maintain the adequate supply. When the forecasters see a frost, a signal to the planters to light their fires immediately will be given by means of the firing of bombs.

The idea is to create as much smoke at possible, and hay and green leaves are to be thrown on the fires. When the danger of frost is passed the planters will again be notified by bombs to extinguish their fires.

AMERICAN STUDENTS
WED BRITAIN'S GIRLS

(United Press Service) London—(By Mail)—American soldier-students at British universities are doing something else besides studying. They are negotiating entangling alliances between U. S. male citizenry and the gentler sex of Britain. In other words, they are marrying English, Scotch, Irish and Welsh girls wherever they happen to be quartered by the army educational authorities.

According to the "American Soldier-Student," the organ of the student detachment of the U. S. army educational detachment of the U. S. army in Great Britain, ten marriages with British girls have occurred among the detachment at University College, London, while other detachments at Oxford, Cambridge, and elsewhere are not very far behind. There are between six and seven hundred American students in London, and Edinburgh has nearly as many. Nine weddings are reported from Edinburgh, and there is hardly a town in which they cannot report an Anglo-American wedding.

HOW MRS. BOYD AVOIDED AN OPERATION

Canton, Ohio.—"I suffered from a female trouble which caused me much suffering, and two doctors decided that I would have to go through an operation before I could get well.

"My mother, who had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, advised me to try it before submitting to an operation. It relieved me from my troubles so I can do my house work without any difficulty. I advise any woman who is afflicted with female troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and it will do as much for them."—Mrs. MARIE BOYD, 1421 6th St., N. E., Canton, Ohio.

Sometimes there are serious conditions where a hospital operation is the only alternative, but on the other hand so many women have been cured by this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, after doctors have said that an operation was necessary—every woman who wants to avoid an operation should give it a fair trial before submitting to such a trying ordeal.

If complications exist, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice. The result of many years experience is at your service.

Feeding
the Millions

INCREASING the food supply of the world is the most vital problem which man must solve. The burden of this solution rests heavily upon the shoulders of the farmers of America.

The service rendered by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) in producing fuel and lubricants for the economical and efficient operation of farm machinery has made it possible for the farmer to cultivate a greater acreage, produce larger crops, and get them to market at least expense.

By maintaining its comprehensive system of distribution, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) makes it possible for the farmer to get his requirements of petroleum products easily, regularly and quickly.

By virtue of this complete service on the part of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), he may, literally, "make hay while the sun shines."

He is independent of the health or endurance of horses. He can plow, cultivate or harvest when these tasks should be done. He can have a complete cycle of activity, operating even by shifts, if necessary. He can plan his operations on a definite schedule to produce a steady, constant supply of farm products for you and your family.

Thus is illustrated how you benefit by the service rendered by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to the farmer. These are benefits accruing to the world at large which accentuate the usefulness of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) as a public servant, and emphasize how completely it discharges its obligation as such.
