ABOUT TOWN

H. A. Hartman, superintendent of the Marion, Ohio, schools, and his family are here for a visit with the Irvin Brandyberry family. With them is the eldest son, Dale, who has just returned from France, where he served many months with the 37th division. He took part in the famous Arras fight and the first night his battery reported at the front at one o'clock with 240 men and 180 horses. They came out at nine o'clock the same morning with 180 men and five horses. Dale was with Battery A of Cleveland and had many thrilling experiences.

Did you notice that big yellow truck on the streets yesterday? It went from Fort Wayne to Valparaiso Wednesday, on in to Chicago the same day, loaded up the household goods of Mr. and Mrs. Annen, drove the night through and arrived here yesterday morning. THE KAPPA GIRLS

Will Assist Mrs. Albion Fellows Bacon in the Child Hygiene Work

IN EACH COUNTY

County Chairman to Work Out Details for Collecting Necessary Data.

The Indiana child welfare committee of which Mrs. Albion Fellows Bacon of Evansville, is chairman, and Mrs. Edna Hatfield Edmondson, of Bloomington, vice chairman, has announced that the Kappa Kappa sorority will assist with the child hygiene work in the state. The young women of the sorority have volunteered to do follow-up work for the 100,000 children who were weighed and measured last year by the child welfare committee.

The child welfare chairman in the counties worked faithfully last year on the weighing and measuring of all children under six years, as the first step in the national children's bureau plan for "Children's year." With this work accomplished, the next step of the child welfare committee was to obtain passage of a state law providing for a child hygiene department in the state board of health. This department, however, will not be organized until October, so the Tri Kappas will take up the work in the meantime in order that the results of the weighing and measuring may become apparent as soon as possible. The sorority members will work in each county under the direction of the county child welfare chairman.

According to Dr. Ada Switzer, who is to be director of the department of child hygiene, the most important work to be done immediately is to learn some facts about the children who were examined last year. Blanks have been prepared for recording the following facts about the children: Their nutrition; their gain in height and weight; the condition of their teeth; defects which have been corrected; health habits established since last year; and birth registration. These blanks have been printed by the extension department of Indiana university.

Mrs. Bacon has asked the county chairmen to work out details for collecting this data, according to conditions in their communities. She has suggested that it may be found best to have a canvass of all the children who were weighed and measured last year, and that perhaps a house-to-house canvass by means of teams of young women in automobiles, carrying in the automobile a pair of scales and a tape line for finding out the gain in height and weight may be the best arrangement.—Indianapolis News.
