Rev. and Mrs. B. B. Uhl and family, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lord, of Monmouth, guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Wolford; Enos Lord and three children Marcella, David and Martha, of Fort Wayne; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Christen, Toledo, Ohio; and Ray Christen, at home; Miss Catherine Christen, a granddaughter, student at Purdue, was among those here.

The nuptials of Miss Reva Caesar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Caesar, of North Clinton street, and Mr. Samuel Wertsbaugh, were solemnized in a beautifully appointed home wedding at the home of the bride's parents last evening. The wedding service was read at six o'clock by Rev. T. P. Potts, pastor of the Westminister Presbyterian church of which congregation both the bride and groom are members. The ring ceremony was used and the bride was attended by Miss Georgia Giant while the groomsmen was Mr. Merritt Simon. The bride wore pale blue crepe de chine trimmed with silver lace and ornamented with silk rose buds and carnation pink roses. The attendant was attired in pekin blue silk and carried pink roses. Following the ceremony supper was served. Mr. Wertsbaugh is employed as an interior decorator by Wolf & Dessaunier and he and his bride will make their home in this city. Besides the immediate members of the bride's party those present at the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. William Caesar, Mrs. T. P. Potts, Miss Mable Hoagland, Misses Mary Etta and Irene Caesar, Miss Helen Risk and Miss Elizabeth Potts.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Rice and family entertained at Thanksgiving dinner yesterday Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Rice and family of Fort Wayne, Mrs. Cecelia Ball John Evans and George Perkins of Fort Wayne.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Garard has as their guests yesterday Mr. and Mrs. John A. Mumma and grandson, Johnny D. Aber; Mont Fee and family, Leo Williams and family; Miss Remor Swansing, of Fort Wayne.

Our advice is to choose now the phonograph you would have for Christmas—for when present stocks are exhausted, there is no telling when they may be duplicated.

The Brunswick is beautiful with a finish that is second only to its tone producing qualities.

The annual family reunion of the John Christen family, which heretofore had been held on Christmas, which is also the birthday of Mrs. Christen, was held at the home here Thanksgiving Day, on account of the greater number of conflicting things which come on holiday time. All of the children and grandchildren numbering twenty-seven in all, were at home, except for one grandson, Ellis Christen, who is an instructor in State College, Pennsylvania. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Christen and family of Root township; Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Christen, Louisville, Ky.;

Rise to the Occasion

The Holidays challenge your ability as a cook. Pies with brown, flaky crusts, cake as light as a feather, and light, home-baked bread are a part of the season. You can bake that kind with Valier's Enterprise Flour, not only on Holiday occasions, but always. And why confine extra good baking to special occasions? Your family deserves the best all the time.

Valier's
Enterprise
Flour

produces results impossible to secure with flour of less exceptional quality. Milled slowly from the choicest hard winter wheat grown (obtained by the payment of an unusually high premium), rich in gluten, and silk sifted to remarkable fineness, Valier's Enterprise Flour is unexcelled in the field of good baking.

Try a sack today, and experience the satisfaction of doing full justice to your cooking ability.

"Community" is Valier's high-grade popular priced flour. It has made hosts of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schmitz spent Thanksgiving Day at Monroe at the home of David Fuhrman.

Mrs. C. C. Sheets entertained her Sunday school class of the Mt. Pleasant church Thursday evening with an oyster supper. She was assisted by her daughter Florence and Miss Gladys Suman in entertaining. The members of the class arriving at seven sat down to a most delicious supper consisting of oysters, pickles, doughnuts, pumpkin pie, pop corn, apples and coffee. After eating all they could possibly consume they were taken to the parlor where contests and music were enjoyed. In the leading contest Mrs. Ernest Tumbleton received first prize while Mrs. Francis Fuhrman and Jess Singleton won the booby. Those present of the class were Mr. and Mrs. Jess Singleton, Mrs. Charles Cook; Mrs. Francis Fuhrman, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Tumbleton. Others besides the class were Charles Cook, Francis Fuhrman, Franklin and Kenneth Singleton, Beryl George, Earl and Martha Katherine Fuhrman, Cedric Tumbleton, Dorothy and Donald Cook, Harold and True Sheets. Due to sickness all of the class could not be present.

Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Keller entertained at Thanksgiving dinner and supper Dr. and Mrs. P. B. Thomas, Mrs. Carrie Haubold and children, Miss Cecile Miller, and Mr. Kegan of Tipton, Ind. Mr. Kegan is a chum of Raymond Keller and works at the same place. He will remain for a visit over Sunday with the Keller family.

The Ladies Aid for Concord church will have their regular meeting next Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Asa Malon instead of the home of Mrs. Charles Magley as planned at first. The illness of Mrs. Magley's mother Mrs. Jonas Cline makes this change necessary.
