SULLIVAN IS DEAD

DIED LAST NIGHT

Worth Many Millions—Helped to Nominate President Wilson

(United Press Service) Chicago, Apr. 15.—(Special to Daily Democrat)—Millionaires, policemen, ward heelers, widows, bankers and statesmen joined today in expressions of sympathy over the death of Roger C. Sullivan, financier and politician, who rose from farm hand to political boss of his state.

Sullivan died late yesterday as a result of a sudden attack of heart failure, superinduced by bronchial pneumonia. He had been in failing health for several months. Funeral services will be held Saturday.

With the death of Sullivan, Illinois democratic politics today were leaderless. Split into factions, Sullivan led the state party successfully. His political enemies included Carter Harrison, former governor Edward F. Dunne, and former United States Senator J. Ham Lewis. He had intended, it was said today, to put Dunne and Harrison in the delegation to the democratic national convention at San Francisco.

"The boss is dead," was the message flashed through Chicago's great west side last night. There was general mourning throughout for it was among the Irish and the foreign elements in that part of the city that Sullivan was loved best. Old women and men who grew up with the democratic boss told today of his favors. "He never forgot," said an old supporter. Roger played the game squarely. You could always count on him. If you were his friend he was yours.

Sullivan, 59, was born at Belvidere, Ill., and as a child worked as a farm hand for $8 a month. He came to Chicago, worked in a railway shop and got into politics. Gradually he got into business on a big scale. It is estimated he was worth $10,000,000.

To Sullivan, perhaps more than to anyone else, Woodrow Wilson owes the fact that he is president of the United States, said Sullivan's friends here today.

It was at the Baltimore convention in 1912. Champ Clark had the Illinois instructions but Sullivan controlled the delegation.

After several ballots had been taken Sullivan decided to swing to Wilson.

It was the first big break in the convention and Wilson's nomination followed.

Sullivan dominated Illinois democratic politics for 25 years and for the last 12 has been a national figure.

GETTING READY FOR THE BIG DRIVE

Mr. C. E. Bell, of this city has been appointed chairman of the Four-Minute Speakers of the Salomonie association for the Northern Baptists' convention of Indiana. The work of collecting the huge sum from the Baptists of the northern states has been organized down to the smallest church. It will start April 25 and continue through May 2. The money will be spent in the Baptists' New World movement which has for its purpose the erection, improvement, equipment of scores of new colleges, missions, churches, hospitals, relief stations and welfare huts. The movement marks the greatest religious activity ever undertaken by a single denomination. Baptist leaders, however, are supremely confident that the organization and the spirit behind it will put the great drive over and that Indiana's quota of $3,434,000 will be fully raised by the state.

LUCKY TO HAVE THEM

Chicago, April 15.—(Special to Daily Democrat)—Heirlooms, wedding rings and diamonds are being used more than ever to help bridge the gap between wages and the cost of living, according to pawn brokers here today. Persons who have never before resorted to pawning cherished belongings to obtain enough money to help them live, are now steady patrons of the loan brokers.

"Our business has been greater than ever before," said Paul Korshak, loan broker. "I have noted a steady increase in amounts we lend as well as a change in the class of persons to whom we advance money. The middle class clerks, teachers and department sales girls—patronize us to a great extent now. The laborer is making plenty of money and we don't see him so often."

THIRD VICTORY FOR STRIKERS

Dublin, April 15.—(Special to Daily Democrat)—The general strike had won its third great victory within a month today.

Striking Sinn Fein prisoners in Mount Joy prison were released unconditionally by the British government after commerce throughout Ireland had been tied up for two days as a result of the protest-walkout called by the labor unions.

Decision to grant the prisoners who had been on a hunger strike for more than a week, freedom, came after the Sinn Feiners had refused a parole pending further investigation of their cases.

Most of the prisoners were so weakened by their self-enforced fast that they had to be taken in ambulances to hospitals.
