THIRTEEN UNLUCKY?—NO!
*****

Wilber Porter, one of the proprietors of the Decatur Carriage Works, and agent for the popular Buick car, is now firmly convinced that the number thirteen is not unlucky. Wilber made a trip in the aeroplane Monday afternoon, and his ticket number on the trip was thirteen. He says the trip is well worth the time and money it costs, and that he enjoyed it thoroughly. He did a little advertising stunt by distributing Buick circulars and literature when he was directly over the city. The only time he says he felt just a little bit shaky was when the plane was gaining speed after leaving the ground, when the thought came as to what might happen if you hit a fence or ran off the road, but when he landed he realized there was no fence or road he felt perfectly free. Wilber says it's great, and glad he had the experience, even if that number thirteen did figure in the pleasure.

DOUGHNUT GIRL NOW LEADING CIVIL WORK

INDIANA GIRL WHO FRIED FIRST SWEETS IN FRANCE LEADS SALVATION ARMY WORK IN NEW YORK STATE.

OSWEGO CITIZENS BACK HER

Indianapolis. — (Special) — From the envied position of the girl who fried the first American Salvation Army doughnut in France Adjutant Helen Purviance, an Indiana miss, has advanced to the place of "leading citizen" of Oswego, N. Y.

Miss Purviance, who is widely known in Indiana for her work with the Salvation corps in this state, was born in Huntington, Ind., and her parents now reside in Warren. She joined the Army as a soldier, May 17, 1906, in Washington, Ind., and became an officer in 1908. She was in charge of a local corps at Oswego, N. Y., when this country stepped into the war and she applied for work overseas, winning fame as the "first doughnut maker."

Adjutant Purviance is now back in Oswego doing civilian relief work and every one in Oswego is happy. During the war her absence was so strongly felt that at the time of the Salvation Army Home Service Appeal last year the citizens of Oswego promised they would give their utmost to support the work if Adjutant Purviance could be returned to her work among them. This was done and Oswego expects to make its response to Home Service one that will place it among the leaders.

The Salvation Army in Indiana will hold its Home Service Appeal from May 10 to 20. Major Arthur R. Robinson, chairman of the executive committee making the appeal, declares the outlook is most favorable for successfully raising Indiana's share of $452,000.

FALL RIVER WOMEN ORGANIZED

Democratic women of Fall River, Mass., have not waited for full suffrage before preparing to exercise the privileges conferred on them by the franchise. They have now the distinction of being the first to complete organization. Under the direction of Mrs. Gladys U. Brangdon, of the state committee, they have done intensive work. Mrs. Michael F. Sullivan is city chairman and Mrs. Henry Clay Cook, vice-chairman. Under them are nine ward chairmen who have devoted themselves to the work of registering the democratic women.
