If Decatur doesn't get more coal in the next three months than in the last quarter year, it won't make much difference whether the coal men strike or not.

The women of Adams county should complete their organization immediately. Important work including the first registration, marking the poll and planning the campaign should begin at once if results are to be obtained.

This is chautauqua week and the people of this community will have the opportunity to enjoy five days of high class entertainment under the big canvas. If you haven't a ticket better be getting yours for you should not miss a single event of the week.

The cool over Sunday weather was a breath of relief after two or three scorers. Indications are that we will have another spell of hot breezes within the week and it is well to remember that the best thing you can do is to keep from "getting all het up." Be sane and sensible about your eating, drinking, clothing, labor and recreation and bathe often.

Senator Tom Taggart entertained the committeemen, national convention delegates, newspaper men and others at French Lick Springs three days last week. As always the senator proved a genial host and the meeting was a most eventful one at which plans for every part of the big campaign were completed. It will be a busy, bustling, active campaign and every voter will know the real issues of the scrap within a short time.

The Indiana Democratic Editorial association are planning to hold their mid summer meeting at South Bend the latter part of August and it will be the read letter session of the editors, marking the real opening of the campaign in the state. Jimmie Cox of Ohio, candidate for president, and Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York, candidate for vice president, will be the speakers. There will be other numbers on the program and a big time for those who attend.

The Northern Indiana Fair will open in two weeks and the men in charge are doing everything in their power to make it bigger and better than advertised. There is not the least question that the Decatur fair will outclass everything of its kind in the middle west, and you will find here the greatest exhibit of live stock, the best races, the real thrillers in public exhibitions, the cleanest shows the most wonderful lines of products and the things you wish to see at a big fair. The program is great and the show will be even better.

If Senator Harding has thrust a sword into his own party, he has given the democrats a clear issue and great opportunity. It is no longer a question of balancing a set of repub-

MONEY COULD NOT BUY IT, HE SAYS

Pennsylvania R. R. Man Would Not Take Anything for the Good Tanlac Did Him.

"No, sir, I wouldn't be back in the fix I was in before I got Tanlac for all the money in the world," said Earl J. S. Hunter, a popular boiler maker for the Pennsylvania railroad, living on R. F. D. 11, Fort Wayne, Ind., recently.

"I had always enjoyed good health," he continued, "until one year ago, when my stomach got out of order and I commenced to lose in weight and became run-down generally. I work as a boiler maker at night and have to carry my midnight lunch, and every time I ate it I would get so nauseated about thirty minutes afterwards that I could not retain a bite I had eaten. No, sir, I ate several times a day, but I felt tight across the chest and had the worst gnawing pains in my stomach. Sometimes when these spells came on I would be in such agony I thought I would die in spite of all I could do. Often I would get so weak and nervous that my legs seemed to give way and I couldn't hold myself up, and would have to go to bed and be laid up two or three days. My head ached constantly, in fact, I was troubled in one way or another until I never knew what it was to feel good."

"When I commenced taking Tanlac I thought it might give me a little temporary relief, but it never once entered my mind that it would make a clean sweep of my troubles like it has and put me back on my feet in as good health as I ever was. I have gained twelve pounds in weight and am feeling as fine as I did in the best days of my life. My digestion was never better in my life and I am enjoying everything I eat, because it never bothers me in any way. My nerves are as strong as steel and I don't have headaches any more. I am strong enough to tackle any kind of work and I don't believe any man feels better than I do. It keeps me pretty busy working at night and looking after my little arm, too, out on the edge of town, but Tanlac will keep a man on top."

Tanlac is sold in Decatur at Smith, Yager & Falk's; in Berne at Stengel & Craig's and in Geneva at F. C. Deitsch's drug store.

lican reservations to the treaty against a democratic set. The republican candidate has thrown overboard the whole previous program—or pretense of his party. He is against the treaty in any form; opposed to the league however amended. This opens the way for any positive plan which Governor Cox may propose. Anything affirmative by the democrats will be better than this deadly republican negative. Mr. Harding has cleared the field for his opponents and given them a stronger cause and a more favorable fighting ground than they could have hoped for.—New York Times.

Col. Fred Reppert, greatest cattle auctioneer in the United States, known from coast to coast, will open an auctioneer's school here January 3rd next. Like every thing else he tackles, he will do this just right and within a few years the auctioneer college here will be known over the entire country. He will build splendid buildings, club rooms and other wide make the school, which is to be located at the beautiful park just east of town, the most attractive in every way. Details will be worked out during the next few weeks and work on the school halls will start immediately after the fair. It is an important step for Col. Reppert and for this community and the success of the great enterprise is assured from the numerous inquiries and boosts he is receiving already.

The country newspapers are having a continuous struggle these days and the time is very near when dozens of them must cease publication. The spot market prices range from fourteen to eighteen cents per pound making the newspapers stand a loss of at least fifty dollars a day on a 3,000 circulation. Of course none of them can stand this long. In the meantime, the larger papers are not worrying, since they have a contract and the managers sit back and smile at the poor business ability of the smaller brother. The manufacturer is selling his paper to jobbers who boost the price to suit their own taste. It's a fierce game and the chances that it will work out seem to become sligher each week. In the meantime we are taking our own medicine and trying to smile.

WERE DEFEATED

Local Base Ball Team Were Met and Defeated Yesterday Afternoon by the

HUNTERTOWN TEAM

Final Score Resulted 6 to 4 —Many Errors on Part of the Local Club

The Huntertown base ball team journeyed to this city yesterday afternoon where they crossed bats with the local club, and pulled a big surprise over the many fans by defeating the local boys by a score of 6 to 4. The Huntertown aggregation was composed of a fast bunch of players and played a nice game of ball, the locals losing out on errors, nearly every member on the team being credited with a black mark.

The game opened in regular style the first three men up to bat on either side not being able to reach first base. The visitors started the scoring in the second inning they bringing in two runs and again shut out the locals giving them a lead. The visitors also brought in another run in the third inning, and again shut out the locals and things began to look blue for the home team. In the fourth inning the visitors managed to score again and were unseemingly happy until the locals finished their turn at batting, they hammering the pill for all it was worth and succeeded in bringing in four runs, tying the score at 4 to 4. The fifth and sixth inning slipped by with out either side being able to score, the visitors tearing loose in the seventh and obtained credit for two runs giving them a small lead over the locals which they were unable to overcome the score ending 6 to 4 in favor of Huntertown.

The Huntertown team will probably return to this city for another game on August 8. The summary of yesterday's game is as follows:

Score—
Huntertown 021 100 200—6
Decatur 000 400 000—4
Two base hits—Compton 2, Dunten 1, Garman 1, Kolb 1, Frank 1.
Base on balls: off Dunten, 1; off Cochran, 2.
Double plays—Thompson to V. McComb. Passed ball—Kolb 3. Struck out—By Dunten 7, by Cochran 12. Left on bases—Huntertown 9, Decatur 4.

AGAINST LEROY

Detroit Police Believe the Body of Woman Shipped to New York Was

MRS. EUGENE LEROY

Gathering Evidence Against the Man—Was Not Miss Katherine Dan

(United Press Service)
Detroit, Mich., July 26.—(Special to Daily Democrat)—Police today, working on the theory that the woman whose mutilated body was shipped to New York in a trunk was Katherine Jackson of Starkville, Miss., known here as Mrs. Eugene Leroy, continued to gather evidence against "Leroy."

Positive identification of articles of clothing in the death trunk as having been worn by the Leroy's was made yesterday by Patrolman Leo Trumbull and his wife Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Pfeifer. Both of these couples knew the Leroy's.

Patrolman Trumbull was in Chicago today with a member of the homicide squad of the local police department in an effort to identify Roy Miller, arrested there yesterday, as the man who passed here as "Eugene Leroy."

Washington, Pa., July 26.—(Special to Daily Democrat)—Police here today declared the body of the young woman found in a trunk in New York was not Miss Katherine Dan, 20, of Canonsburg, Pa. Suspicion that the murdered woman might be Miss Dan who disappeared some time ago, was set aside when a letter written several days after the trunk was shipped, was received from her by relatives.

Chicago, July 26.—(Special to Daily Democrat)—Detroit authorities were expected here today to attempt identification of Roy Miller, 29, former army aviator as E. Leroy, suspected shipper of a trunk found in New York City containing the nude body of a murdered woman.

Miller was arrested yesterday. A police informant declared Miller was also known as "Leroy" and that he was in Detroit about the time of the alleged murder.

Chicago authorities doubted he was connected with the trunk murder mystery.
