Who said we needed rain?

Even though the wind blew over some of the corn the big rain of Sunday night was worth a million or two to Adams county. It makes the corn and the beets and other crops.

The coal situation in Indiana is now in complete control of Governor Goodrich. If the system provided doesn't work any better than the tax law, most of the people of Indiana will be citizens of some other state or foreign clime long before spring.

The Decatur Industrial association will meet next Monday evening to take up a number of important matters. There is much work to be done, the summer vacation is about over and it's time to warm up and continue the business of making a better Decatur.

The law enacted by the recent Indiana legislature increasing the rates for legal advertising also provides that each city and each school board must publish a financial report within thirty days after the close of the calendar year. Officials should keep this in mind as it may prove a difficult job if put off too late.

The managers of the Northern Indiana certainly did pick out the right week. If you remember the dates originally announced for the fair were four days this week but were changed because of conflicting dates with other fairs and it looks like a lucky change.

Adams county is rapidly becoming the greatest live stock center of the United States. For many years we have been recognized locally as the best county in this section for fine horses, cattle, hogs and sheep but the advertisement from last week's fair will herald the fact all over the country.

County Agent Fred Gray is planning an Adams county exhibit of live stock for the state fairs and the international show for next year and it would be the greatest publicity any county could have. This county has more pure bred stock than any in the middle west and we ought to let the world know it. That's Gray's idea and it will work if he is given proper support.

A man named Jackson Morris from Kentucky was sent to Winona last week by the republican national committee to debate the league of nations with Senator Hitchcock. He made a stronger speech for the covenant than did his opponent and has been snatched off the circuit. The job of carrying water on both shoulders becomes more burdensome each day.

The big fair is over and gradually we are getting back to normal. It was such a complete success and so much larger and better than any one expected that the process of getting down to earth again is a little slow. The fair as an annual event is assured and with the co-operation of our people the big purpose back of it, improving the live stock in the county, keeping the boys on the farm, securing a greater production and a better quality, will be realized.

You are cordially invited to attend the Cox meeting at South Bend Thursday when the mid-summer meeting of the Indiana Democratic Editorial association will be held. You will enjoy it, you will hear politics, you will have an idea of the attitude of the people and you will hear the next president of the United States deliver his first political speech in the state. The meetings are open to the public.

Jimmy Cox, democratic candidate for president together with the other occupants of his car and three other autos in the party were arrested yesterday afternoon as they moved slowly through Jacksonville, Ohio, the charge being speeding. The unusual part of the incident is the fact that it was announced twenty-four hours ahead that this was to be done as an embarrassment to the candidate. He informed the bicycle cop that he could be reached at the executive office at any time and drove on.

Jimmy is too speedy for them as a candidate and that's about all the violation of law or senatorial rules he has violated, according to members of his party and other citizens inclined to be fair.

RISING DEMAND FOR HORSES AND MULES ON BIG MARKETS

Chicago, August 16.—In spite of unfavorable business conditions during the spring months, and the fact that the building has been very largely at standstill this season, demand for horses and mules has shown a substantial increase over the first six months of 1919. This indicates that business men in the cities have been studying costs of transportation and are increasing purchases of horses and mules which are decidedly the most economical in all short haul heavy traffic, and on frequent stop routes regardless of length. This increase in demand is not a matter of estimate or guess work. The actual records from the large markets show increases in horses and mules handled during the first six months of 1920 over the first six months of 1919, as follows: Fiss, Doerr & Carroll Co., New York, 4,445 head; Union Stock Yards, Omaha, 5,011 head; Grand Island Nebr. Horse Market, 1,451; East St. Louis National Stock Yards & Mule Market, 3,765; Union Stock Yards Horse Market, Chicago, 3,863; Kansas City Stock Yards-Horse and Mule Market, 15,482; making a total net gain on the six markets of 34,017.

SMOKING AIDS WORKERS

London, Eng.—Dick, Kerr & Co., big contractors of Preston, find that smoking helps the workers to increase the output. Three months ago their men were granted permission to smoke during fifteen minutes in the morning and fifteen minutes in the afternoon. The innovation has proved popular with the employees and had a good effect on the firm's output.

NEW AUSTRALIAN LOAN

Melbourne, Australia.—The Commonwealth government is preparing the issue of a loan of $100,000,000, the proceeds of which, it is understood, will be loaned to the various states for repatriation purposes. If the total is not subscribed voluntarily compulsion will be applied.

COLLECT BIG AMOUNT

Winona Lake, Ind., August 16.—About $15,000 in money and pledges was collected in the offering preceding the dedication of the new Winona Lake tabernacle. This money will be used in completing the big tabernacle, which is declared by Rev. "Billy" Sunday to be the greatest of its kind in the entire United States. The auditorium contains permanent seats for 8,000 persons, and has a stage which will seat a choir of 1,500.

Rev. "Billy" Sunday preached the dedicatory sermon after the dedication ceremony which was conducted by Dr. Col. C. Dickey, general secretary of Winona Assembly and Bible Conference, W. P. Carmichael, of St. Louis, president, Dr. Ira Landrith, of Chicago, vice president, Dr. G. Campbell Morgan and Dr. Samuel Chadwick, of London.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's estate amounted to $163,682. One-third of this was in Canadian Victory bonds.

Mrs. William Barrone entertained at a supper last evening in honor of her brother, Julius Bischoff and family, of Milwaukee, Wis., and Walter Gotsch and family of Chicago Heights, Ill. "Before I took Tanlac I had suffered with muscular rheumatism for fifteen years, but now I am free from all pain and have gained twenty pounds in weight," said Loren R. Peck, of 1032 East Columbia street, Evansville, Ind., who is employed at the L. & N. railroad shops.

"My arms and fingers were so stiff and sore that I couldn't handle a wrench or hammer to do any good and when I tried to get under a car or stoop over my back hurt so bad I could hardly straighten up. At times I had awful pains and cramps after eating, gas would form and work up around my heart with a pressure that nearly took my breath. I couldn't eat what I liked and if I ate anything like cabbage made me sick. I felt tired all the time and became so weak and nervous that I couldn't rest at night. I started getting better before I had finished my first bottle of Tanlac. My rheumatism is all gone and I can now do my work at the shop as well as any man there. I eat anything I want, even cabbage, and never have any more trouble. I have only taken five bottles of Tanlac but feel as well as I ever did in my life."

Tanlac is sold in Decatur at Smith, Vager & Falk's; in Berne at Stengel & Craig's and in Geneva at F. C. Deitsch's.

A Printer Saw the Possibilities

The Printer looked at the financial statement of a large New York Bank and asked permission to change it from a mere mass of figures to an advertisement worthy of the institution issuing it.

Formerly the printed statements had been mere reference sheets,—seldom read by anyone not intimately concerned with the welfare of the Bank.

The type was changed—a different paper was suggested—copy was added—cuts were used, and a 112% increase of results could be traced to this job of printing.

What a New York Printer did for this Bank can be done for you—for your business or industry, no matter what your business is.

The skeletons of old printing jobs that are gathering dust on closet shelves are merely examples of work that an up-to-date progressive printer can turn into printed salesmanship.
