Entered at the postoffice at Decatur, Indiana, as second-class matter.

We have no quarrel with those who honestly believe the league of nations covenant wrong. These have a right to that opinion, wrong as it is but the fellow who knows and believes it right and still is willing to lightly throw it aside because of politics, what of him?

The city plant had but one day's supply of coal Saturday which gives you some idea of the seriousness of the situation here. Luckily Mr. Mylett managed to secure two cars of coal which gives him fuel for the week. We are on the verge of a tie up unless the conditions change soon, it is feared.

The women of Adams county have much work to do if they are to make any showing at the coming election. The first duty is the taking of a poll that you may know who has registered on September 4th and who has not. Don't put it off. Get busy at once and do it right. The precinct committee women should begin an organization that will be effective.

The cool snap over Sunday was just to remind you that it won't be long until you will need fuel. The outlook just at this time isn't as bright as it should be and it occurs to us that it's time some one did a little hustling or there may be a lot of inconvenience and some suffering in this community during the next six months.

The tax rates will be higher than a cat's back next year and based on the new valuations will make every payer feel the burden. Under the new plan thousands of dollars are converted into the state treasury and the money is used as a few men direct. We doubt if a single person in this county approves this mode of extracting your savings and you will hear an awful howl one of these days. It is but further proof that control of taxes should be local and that several commissions now busy spending your money should be shorn of power.

Senator Harding clings to his front porch and Governor Coolidge is as busy as ever in the east while Cox and Roosevelt are going to the people with their messages. Mr. Harding may find too late that he has been over confident for the people want to know the issues of the day and they want to hear the candidates say what they stand for. The election four years ago proved that a few men could not sit down in a New York hotel and tell the people how to vote and this year promises to be a more decisive answer to that kind of program than was the previous one.

The league of nations is not the terrible thing a lot of political office seekers would have you think. It is simply an agreement between the great nations of the world to prevent war and to settle all questions which arise between nations in an international court. Did it ever occur to you that there are people who prefer not to have permanent peace? Those who go about telling you the league of nations would entangle us in for eign wars are but spreading political propaganda as untrue as it can be. The purpose of the league is just the opposite and if we fail in securing it and a separate peace is made with the central powers, this nation will be the greatest sufferer. Think it over seriously folks and do not let politics blind you to what your own best interests as well as those of your country are.

The New York Times has made a careful survey of the political situation, and has reached certain conclusions as to certain important states that are interesting and indicative of the fact that the fight is yet to be won by either side. It is noteworthy that Indiana is put down as "doubtful;" that New York is said to be more promising for the democrats than the republicans "because of the strength of Governor Smith;" that New Jersey is said to lean strongly to Cox; that California is "doubtful;" Ohio practically certain for Cox; Illinois doubtful; with the republicans more likely to carry Iowa and the democrats Kansas. In each instance the reasons are analyzed and the attempt to make the forecast fair is patents. The most significant feature is the opinion expressed as to New York, New Jersey, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.—Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette.

Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania, is the big chief of the republican party this year and his greatest quality is said to be his ability to gorge himself at the dinner table when he is feeling well. The following picture of this ring master is from Indianapolis Star:

The senator's friends will know when they see him eat if he is back in normal health. Nobody in the United States can eat eat Penrose. When he used to sit down at a table, before he became ill, his first act always was to order an extra napkin for his chest and one for the lower four buttons of his vest and spread them across himself. If they were small napkins he invariably called for larger ones. He took no chances on gravy and such spotting up his shirt front. Napkins adjusted, Penrose would fall to with vigor. It won't be necessary for Penrose to campaign very hard this year. He had no opposition in the primaries and his democratic opposition is not very formidable.

RATS TAKE TOWN BY STORM

London, Eng.—A combined attack is now being made upon the rats which have infested Abertillery, a big colliery centre, and expert ratters have come to the town with dogs and ferrets. The rats have practically taken possession of the houses. One man could not go to work for several days, as he feared to leave his wife alone with the rats. Alderman Harris declared that people were afraid to go to bed.

WANT ADS EARN

BIG CROP OF HAY FEVER JOKES

But Kentucky Man Says People Who Belong to Hay Fever Colony Are Kidding Themselves.

Wouldn't Be Any Hay Fever If Simple Home Remedy Was Given a Chance.

"Yes, there's a real NINETY-NINE per cent effective remedy for hay or rose fever," frankly states a druggist in a prominent Kentucky city.

"But I don't expect anyone to believe me, because the treatment is so easy and the cost not worth mentioning."

The annual crop of Hay Fever jokes would be mighty scarce if people would get three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcline, and by just adding water that has been boiled, make a pint of liquid that will prove a real help to all who suffer.

"Many of my Hay Fever friends tell me that by starting to gargle and sniff or spray the nostrils a few times a day the expected severe attack often fails to appear, and in cases where it does show up, it is very mild and does not annoy."

"It's the same way with Rose Fever."

"The Better Class of Pharmacists who dispense Mentholized Arcline say that it will greatly modify any attack, even when taken three or four days after hostilities begin."

Go to a real live druggist when you get ready to make a pint, for up to the present time there has been little demand for this friendly medicine.

Mentholized Arcline is new in this market. It is possible that your druggist has not supplied himself, but he can get it for you from his jobber who has a large supply.

WIN CLOSE GAME

The Local Baseball Team Defeated Fast Otteville Ohio Nine Yesterday

BY SCORE OF 4 TO 3

Game Was Close Throughout and Best of Season—Fans Accompany Team

The Otteville, Ohio, baseball team, considered as one of the strongest aggregations in northeastern Ohio, accompanied by a large number of rooters journeyed to this city yesterday afternoon where they were met and defeated by the local baseball club by a score of 4 to 3. The game was called at three o'clock with Cashdollar, of Fort Wayne and Jenkins, of Otteville, acting as umpires, and both performed their work in a very satisfactory manner.

Both teams played a very fine brand of baseball, the visitors batting first and were unable to score until the sixth inning, when they registered three runs and failed to score the rest of the game. The locals started their scoring machine in the first inning, again scoring one run in the fourth and two in the fifth inning, giving them a lead over the visitors at all times, the final score resulting 4 to 3.

The game was clean and snappy at all times, and afforded much excitement. The visiting team is considered as one of the best ever playing in this city and have a reputation of defeating some of the best teams in northern Indiana. Wannamaker, a youth of great ability, twirled for the visitors, doing some fine work, and Kramer behind the bat. Cochran pitched for the locals allowing only six hits and performed like an old veteran with Coffee catching.

The summary of the game is as follows:

OPPOSE INCREASE

(United Press Service)
Indianapolis, August 23.—(Special to Daily Democrat)—Business and civic organizations went to the mat today with the railroads in the latter's fight for higher rates.

Appearing before the public service commission representatives of thirteen industries, the state chambers of commerce from several Indiana cities protested vigorously against the petition of the steam carriers asking the state utilities body to authorize the increases in Indiana granted by the interstate commerce commission.

Little business was transacted at the morning session which formally opened the hearing on the petition. Attorneys for the railroad outlined the procedure they will follow in placing their case before the commissioners.

BETTER BABIES

The crusade for better babies has spread from coast to coast, and taken firm hold of American Mothers. Few women realize how much the ill-health of the mother influences the unborn child, both physically and mentally. Women who suffer from mysterious pains, backache, nervousness, mental depression, headaches, etc., should rely on Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, which for nearly forty years has been the standard remedy for these ailments.—Adv.

Gasoline Prices Follow Crude

"What," asked a customer recently, "has caused the sharp advance in the price of gasoline?" And our answer was substantially as follows:

The advances in the selling price of gasoline which have occurred since January 1st, were due primarily to the increased cost of crude oil. The market on all grades of crude took an upward trend during the latter part of 1919, and has been climbing steadily since that time.

During 1919 gasoline prices remained stationary, the refiners absorbing the increased cost of crude as long as it was possible to do so. In January, 1920, gasoline prices generally were advanced to meet the increasing cost of raw material.

Another factor was the practical exhaustion of gasoline reserves brought about by the unprecedented demands for this fuel. During the first months of this year the consumption of gasoline greatly exceeded production.

But the primary reason was the constantly increasing price of crude oil.

Still other reasons for the mounting prices are the greatly increased cost of labor, of steel, and of other items used in manufacture; also the constantly advancing cost of marketing and distribution. Everything that goes into the refining of petroleum is very expensive today.

But the primary and controlling reason is found in the increasing cost of crude.

In keeping with its well-known policy, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been able to maintain low prices for gasoline in the face of advancing prices for crude oil because of its large scale operation in refining, and its complete and economical system of distribution. And, also, because of its advanced facilities for obtaining a maximum quantity of gasoline from a given quantity of crude.

The Middle West depends largely upon gasoline power for producing food stuffs.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is straining every fibre of its highly specialized organization to meet this demand.
