THE LEAGUE AT WORK:

The league of nations is really beginning to affect international relations. It has been charged with the duty of adjusting the differences between Sweden and Finland which, but for the league, would certainly have resulted in war. Yesterday saw the meeting of the league's commission of military control which is to mediate the boundary dispute between Poland and Lithuania, thus stopping another war. The international financial conference now in session at Brussels is considering matters of the highest importance, and is expected to formulate a policy and set up machinery which will prove very helpful in solving the many serious problems which must be solved if Europe is ever again to have that stability that is essential to her well-being, if not her salvation. There is not one of the subjects thus far dealt with that does not touch us closely.

The purpose of the league is, not so much to maintain and enforce peace, as to create and support conditions out of which peace necessarily issues. Good will, clear understanding, open dealing, mutual consideration, wise financial arrangements, fixed and clearly defined boundaries, arbitration—it is on these that the chief dependence will be placed. Without clear understanding, good will and open diplomacy no reduction of armaments—and of crushing taxes—will be possible. The question with every thoughtful American should be not whether we shall go into the league, but how can we, how dare we stay out.

Here is the greatest chance to set the world forward that has been offered to mankind for centuries. We are facing a new day, and must decide whether we shall turn our backs on the rising sun. Perhaps it is "the sun of righteousness with healing in his wings." Who can say? One day the visions of the prophets, and their longings will be realized. It may be that we are on the eve of the fulfillment of Israel's revelation. Surely the world needs healing, and so do human hearts, the millions of hearts that have been torn and crushed by the horrible war god. We have our own prophets, and they have had the same vision. Among them was Longfellow, who sang thus:

Were half the power that fills the world with terror,
Were half the wealth bestowed on camps and courts,
Given to redeem the human mind from error,
There were no need of arsenals and forts.

Peace! and no longer from its brazen portals
The blast of war's great organ shakes the skies!
But beautiful as songs of the immortals,
The holy melodies of love arise.

A dozen years hence men will marvel that there should have been any holding back from this great opportunity, any shrinking from the slight risks involved—if indeed there are any—in view of the supreme good that is held out. We ought to go into the league wholeheartedly, joyously and with a determination to do everything in our power to make it a success.—Indianapolis News.

Just now voters are being patted on the back and told all kinds of stories that are meant to take your minds off the real issues. For instance, voters of Adams county, one of the issues that should be discussed is the new tax law which will reach into your pocket and grab out many, many dollars. This county will next year send thousands of dollars to Indianapolis, much more than this year and double last year. In many cases taxes of individuals will be tripled, and in some cases more. It's fine to be a good fellow but remember that it's for a purpose. If you don't vote against the republican administration you are not voting for yourself.

Speaking dates for every corner of the county have been arranged by the local speakers bureau and from now on until November 2nd, you will have numerous opportunities to hear the issues of the campaign explained from the democratic viewpoint. In this state there is no doubt that the new tax law and the highway commission mean much to you and if you care about saving your money or getting value received for your investment. Nationally there are many great questions of interest to you. Attend the meetings and study the political problems of the hour.

Samuel M. Foster, a leading business man of Fort Wayne, well known to many of our people and Miss Mary Kolb, a speaker who has already gained a reputation as a wonderful platform orator, whose message on the issues is clear and understandable, will speak at the court house in this city Thursday night. Every voter should hear them.

Mr. Vestal said some one sold a Toledo junk dealer twenty cannon for $3,000 and the government later bought them back for $450,000 and that he was on the investigating committee. Well why was nothing done about it? Surely you don't expect any one to believe such bunk at this day. During a campaign one hears all kinds of dope but a little common sense makes it sound foolish.

Ora Davies, has definitely decided to stay on the republican state ticket as a candidate for treasurer. Of course he will, that kind of a fellow always does refuse to comply with requests. He should get a command in the way of a defeat on election day.

The registration in Adams county is large, indicating that the vote cast on November 2nd will be practically double that of any previous election. In a number of precincts, more women registered than men and in each, the per centage was large.

Senator Harding, Senator Watson, Congressman Vestal, all voted for the war, and now oppose such men as Governor Cox who had absolutely nothing to say about it. It's a queer game, this politics.

The women will vote. Any doubt of that fact has been dissolved by the almost total registration in this county.

Hear Samuel M. Foster and Miss Kolb at the court house in this city Thursday night.

TARANTULA AND TARANTELLA

The tarantula is said to have derived its name from the town, Taranto, in Italy, where this species of spider is said to be especially common.

The graceful dance of southern Italy called the tarantella, is the only relic of the tarantism which in early days was supposed to have been produced by the bite of the tarantula.

This was a dancing mania, nothing more or less, and the world eventually learned that its real cause was to be found in the epidemic then sweeping the country of an exaggerated hysterical condition and not from madness and depression distributed into the system by the tarantula's poison. — Boy's Life for October.
