The Hoover

Lifts the rug from the floor, flutters it upon a cushion of air, gently "beats" out its embedded grit, and so prolongs its life.

Pride in the appearance of one's home property must include the rugs. And like all other beautiful things, rugs respond to frequent and right care with longer life time and beauty. Three processes—beating, sweeping and suction cleaning—are vital to such care. Only the Hoover combines the three.

We will gladly demonstrate the Hoover in your home or at our store without obligation.

Neglect Keeps Doctors Busy

An eminent physician once said: "Were it not for people who neglect the early symptoms of disease, many doctors would have to find a new way to make a living."

Every winter doctors are busy calling on gripe and pneumonia patients because the first symptoms of colds were neglected.

Watch out for a cold this year. At the first sneeze and sniffle take Lightning Laxative Quinine Tablets. You'll stop the cold and feel like a new person in 24 hours. Never gripe or sicken. Druggists guarantee them—25¢ a box.

Pioneers of Tomorrow

AND ORGANIZATION is only as big as its personnel, and the personnel reflects the bigness and vision of the men who direct it.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been able to attract to its service men of ability, high ideals, and broad vision, because of its policy of selecting its executives from those who have come up through the ranks.

The men who are today the directing heads of the organization hold their position by reason of their thorough knowledge of the oil business, and because they have shown a profound understanding of our economic structure.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) foresaw the development of the automobile engine, and realizing the tremendous increase in the demand for gasoline which would result, prepared in advance to meet the needs of the people.

Ten years ago the average yield of gasoline from the crude produced in the United States was only eleven percent. Today the average yield for the country is well over twenty-six percent.

This increase is in large measure due to the foresight of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), and the advanced work done by the chemists and refining technicians in the Company's service.

The result of this vastly increased yield of gasoline has been the more rapid development of all types of automotive machinery, which, in turn, has enabled the farmers of America to increase their output of foodstuffs in the face of an acute shortage of agricultural labor.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is still working well into the future, and the men who are directing the destinies of the Company confidently expect to meet the needs of tomorrow as completely as they are meeting the needs of today, and to give a creditable accounting of their trusteeship to the 5124 stockholders, to the 23,000 employees, and to the public at large.

Death Takes MacSwiney on Seventy-fourth Day

charges of preparing and having in his possession seditious literature.

Eleven other Irish republicans about the same time went on a hunger strike two days earlier in the Cork jail.

When MacSwiney was deported to England to be placed in Brixton jail shortly after sentence, he was so weak he had to be carried abroad the steamer. It was believed then he would die within a few weeks.

The lord mayor lived, however, with only slight changes in his condition. He lived to see one of the other hunger strikers, Michael Fitzgerald, die after 68 days of fasting.

MacSwiney who was 41 years old was elected lord mayor of Cork by unanimous vote last spring after the murder of Mayor MacCurtain.

He was arrested during a session of a republican court at which he was presiding.

MacSwiney's friends charged the government wished to put him out of the way because of his restraining influence on the people of Cork which prevented them from committing acts to justify British soldiers and police in shooting inhabitants.

All through the fast there were rumors that the prisoner was being kept alive by secret feeding. This was denied alike by prison officials and MacSwiney's relatives.

"When Men Betray"

A Stirring Drama of Human Frailities
Featuring

Gail Kane

And An All-Star Cast

If a husband is faithless, should a wife be untrue? If a man does wrong, should a wretched and deserted wife seek in a carnival of worldly pleasures, forgetfulness of her husband's betrayal of his marriage vow? Would the shame that is hers because of her husband's infatuation for a woman who came into his life after his marriage, be lessened or decreased by her wanderings in the crooked path? Is she justified in seeking revenge when tortured by the pain of humiliation? These are the vital questions that are presented in Ivan Abramson's latest powerful screen offering—"WHEN MEN BETRAY."
