Entered at the postoffice at Decatur, Indiana, as second-class matter.

One wonders where they are going to put all the cabinet officers that have been suggested by the prognosticators who claim to be close to Mr. Harding.

It is now announced that Mr. McCray will not remove the appointment of Governor Goodrich. Wonder if this includes Mr. Zoercher and the others of the famous or infamous tax commission? If this board is to continue, the public will immediately lose faith in the new governor and his promises to correct the defects in this law.

Over in New Jersey at the recent election, the democrats elected one lonely member of the legislature. Well any way there will be perfect harmony in the minority and the democrats there can find solace in the fact that in Michigan their brothers failed to win a single seat. In the meantime the democrats cannot be held responsible for the "normalcy" period.

One of the qualifications advanced for Mr. Coolidge as a candidate for vice president was that he lived in a flat that cost him $32.00 per month and now he has started the world by announcing that he will continue to make that ordinary place his home. A good many tenants over the country would like to get in communication with his landlord if he has any more at home like this one.

We have heard of several cases where people in Decatur need assistance and it is more than probable that the United Board of Charities in Decatur will have more calls the coming winter than for several years.

Charity should begin at home and the citizens of this community should see that there is as little real suffering here as is possible. We can't be honestly comfortable if we know that others are not and lend no hand in helping them.

If you want to buy or sell any thing you can do it at least cost and with less trouble to yourself by using the columns of the Daily Democrat. Each day our columns are filled with wonderful announcements from the live merchants. These business concerns realize the advantage thus obtained and have proven in the past that this is the only real method of reaching the people. The holiday season is approaching and the people are looking for your offers on merchandise.

If you have a friend who is suffering from tuberculosis, don't buy him the latest "cure." It is a simple stove-like machine in which medicated wood chips are burned to produce a vapor. This vapor, it is claimed, will accomplish a cure within six months. The machines are rented at from $25 to $600 a month, according to the income of the patient. The National Tuberculosis Association reports that most of the people who have testified to the machine's curative properties have since died.

If you wish to help the general war on tuberculosis, the annual sale of Christmas Seals is now under way. —Colliers.

The Indianapolis police recently made a raid on the Henry Stegmeier place in that city, confiscated a lot of gambling paraphernalia and a supply of various kinds of "medicines." The proprietor was charged with pool selling and operating a "blind tiger" and much publicity given the incident. The case was heard yesterday before a special judge named Henry Abrams, who won more or less fame as a member of the legislature. He fined Stegmeier ten dollars for pool selling and dismissed the booze case. Evidently the police courts of Indianapolis do not believe in the campaign against the sale, as a beverage, of medicines containing alcohol.

Mr. Davis of Jay county, a member of the next legislature is preparing a bill that seems worthy of support. His proposed law will regulate the speed of automobiles by limiting the speed of these vehicles to twenty-five miles an hour and will also safeguard the public by providing for stricter qualifications for drivers of cars. In this day and age when there are thousands of automobiles and motorcycles in every county, something must be done to protect the pedestrian and the public will approve the proposed law. A few will complain for the speed maniacs are quite numerous but twenty-five miles an hour ought to be fast enough for the ordinary person in the car and we know it is for the children and others who happen to be on the road.

We still claim that the Decatur industries are the best in the land for all of them are continuing to operate and with announcements of early resumption of full time and added help. The action of the General Electric plant is most commendable. When the orders were reduced, instead of closing down their plant they arranged for a reduction of about one-third time, thus holding together their organization and permitting the employees to have the afternoons for themselves. The managers feel sure this will only be necessary a short time and the employees may rest assured it will not be for any longer time than good business makes necessary. This community will suffer less than

Woman's Misery.
