LOWDEN
DECLINES:—

The cabinet situation has been still further complicated by the refusal of former Governor Lowden of the honor of being secretary of the navy. President-elect Harding had proceeded on the theory that this position had been as good as filled. With the declination of Governor Lowden three places are left uncertain—secretary of the navy, secretary of labor, and secretary of commerce. It is said that there may even have to be a general rearrangement. There is a growing feeling, shared by Republicans as well as Democrats, and reflected in the comment of such Republican papers as the New York Tribune, that Senator Harding is, in this matter of choosing a cabinet, giving himself needless trouble. So many other tests than the test of fitness are being applied that it is not easy to find men who will meet them all. And there is, of course, always the danger that fitness may be the last thing considered. Geographical considerations, political availability, personal relations have all figured prominently. One result is that some of the strongest men in the Republican party, such men as Root, Hoover, Wood and Dawes, have been set aside, and such a man as Daugherty chosen. However, the country will hope for the best, and will continue to do so even though the cabinet does not measure up to popular expectation. If the sole requirement had been fitness, Senator Harding would long before this had his cabinet filled. With such tremendously important problems to deal with, it would have been well if the president-elect could

A card sent out by the Philadelphia Bulletin gives ten reasons why a merchant succeeded. They are the best recipe the average man can practice for success is sure. Here they are: 1—He kept up with the times; 2—He did not try to do everything himself; 3—He took time for exercise and relaxation; 4—He maintained efficiency by developing able help; 5—He did not permit system to run into red tape; 6—He did not practice cheseparing economy; 7—He did the little things worth while; 8—He developed his capacity for large things by avoiding the pitfalls of detail; 9—He took frequent inventory of himself and his stock, and last but not least he was a regular and consistent newspaper advertiser. Study them over and you will agree that this set of rules carried out will win.

Monroe earned the honors at the county basketball tournament for first boys teams, a worthy victory for they had to contest every inch of the way. Decatur gave them a merry chase Saturday afternoon and Berne fought them to a standstill the first half of the finals. The boys from the center of the county have a good team and will make an excellent showing in the district tournament we predict. Decatur still has the best girls team in the state and if the state tournament included the ladies, they would sure bring home the bacon. The tournament was a success and every one enjoyed it.

The Legion boys are starting a fund for the erection of a home and an athletic hall in which effort they deserve the support of the community. They are a live bunch of the cleanest and best young men of the county and deserve substantial boosting.

The republican committee announces a shortage of funds of more than a million dollars, not a very bright start after all. So far no good angel has appeared with a check book in hand to square up the account.

Bert New, one of the best known men of Indiana has been selected to serve as acting secretary of the democratic national committee with headquarters in Washington. He is qualified, a hard worker and his selection will please the party workers of this state and prove satisfactory to the organization every where.

ERIE CUTS WAGES

Huntington, Ind., Feb. 21.—The Erie railroad has made its second cut in the pay of unskilled laborers, this time in that of shop laborers. A bulletin has been posted in the shops stating that effective February 16, which was Wednesday of this week, the wages of all laborers who had been receiving 48½ cents an hour, would be cut to 30 cents an hour.

The cut is the second one made in the pay of unskilled laborers, and the reason given is the same as in the first instance, that the falling off of business and the necessity of meeting obligations made it necessary.

The first cut was made in the wages of track laborers, but it was ordered held in abeyance until the United States railroad labor board, now in session in Chicago, can make a decision on the case.

Two Important Bills Are Killed

tion of adjournment was made. The report covers the last year of the term of Otto Klaus as auditor of the hands of the board for some time, and it is understood to have been in introducing his motion Cravens asserted he understood the report contains information which may require legislation and for that reason it should be brought before the assembly without delay.

While the house was voting to kill the banking and insurance department bill the senate approved a bill to increase the salary of the department head from $3,500 to $5,000 a year. The measure passed 32 to 9.

The endeavor was made in a majority report of the finance committee exempting the Indianapolis Salvage Corps from taxation which attached a rider effecting the fraternities and sororities. The senate accepted a minority report of the committee.

jured slightly, and a great many others were more or less injured. But two deaths, however, resulted, those of Tobias Burt and Mr. Humphrey.

The head of the boiler was thrown entirely over the blacksmith shop and alighted in the middle of First street, east of the Jacob King dwelling house. The blacksmith shop belonged to the company. The boiler head struck an embankment, which caused it to glance, forcing it over the shop, without even touching it.

Scenes following the explosion are well remembered by several of the older citizens. How many of the men escaped death or serious injury will always be a mystery, as the plant was a complete wreck.

Uncle Billy Blackburn called our attention to the anniversary, and he is one who well remembers the explosion.

PROMINENT NEW YORK MAN PRAISES TANLAC

John F. Hyatt, of Albany, N. Y., is Relieved of Severe Attack of Rheumatism of Many Years' Standing.

JOHN F. HYATT
227 Pearl St., Albany, N. Y.

"I am now seventy-two years old and am just getting rid of fifteen-year case of rheumatism that had me so crippled up I could not walk," said John F. Hyatt, 227 Pearl street, Albany, N. Y., in relating his remarkable experience with Tanlac, recently. Mr. Hyatt was chairman of the committee in charge of building the Albany County Courthouse and was four times elected a member of the County Board of Supervisors. At present Mr. Hyatt is Assistant Superintendent of the Albany County Courthouse, with offices in the building.

"I don't believe," he continued, "anybody could have rheumatism any worse than I did, and my case was of such long standing I didn't expect to ever get over it. I was unable to walk except for a short distance, supwalk with a cane, and even then the pains struck me every time I took a step. My legs, hips and ankles hurt something awful and my joints were stiff and ached. I couldn't cross my leg without having to lift it up with my hands, and to turn over in bed, why, the pains nearly killed me.

"My appetite was gone and the sight of food nauseated me. My stomach was out of order, and I had a sluggish, heavy feeling all the time. I was weak, off in weight and discouraged so that it looked like I might as well quit trying to ever get well.

"I had no idea Tanlac would relieve my rheumatism when I began taking it last Spring. I took it because I saw where it would give a fellow an appetite. Well, sir, I was the most surprised I ever was in my life when the rheumatic pains began to ease up.

I took seven bottles in all and it's a fact, I didn't have an ache about me, was eating fine and simply felt like I had been made over again.

"I have been in the best of health ever since, with only a slight twinge of rheumatism at intervals. I do not need my cane now, but as I had been unable to walk without it for several years, I got into the habit of carrying it and so still take it along. I am enjoying life and health once more and can conscientiously recommend Tanlac as the greatest medicine I have ever run across in all my experiences."

Tanlac is sold in Decatur at Smith, Yager & Falk's; in Berne at Stengel & Craig's; in Geneva at F. C. Deitsch's and in Monroe at O. O. Hocker's.
