ELAINE HAMMERSTEIN AT MECCA THEATRE

Coming tomorrow to the Mecca theatre is the latest Selznick feature picture starring Elaine Hammerstein, and entitled "Poor Dear Margaret Kirby."

Kathleen Norris, author of the story, is known as one of the most brilliant and forceful writers for the nationally known fiction magazines. Miss Hammerstein is seen in the role of a popular society matron, a charming and noted hostess, who lives only for her social activities. Due to business troubles of her husband she is forced to turn her famous home into a boarding house. To add to her difficulties her husband, through an abortive attempt at suicide, is a helpless invalid, who is conveyed to his home. Hearing the "boarders" enjoying themselves, the husband who is not acquainted with the drastic nature of his business failure, misunderstands, and frequently upbraids his wife. Before the happy ending is reached Margaret Kirby suffers the torture which comes from unfaithful friends and scandalous tongues, but she is game all the way through and her detractors are suitably punished.

Also the sixth episode of the famous serial, "The Son of Tarzan," the world wonder serial. It gets better every time. Come! Admission ten and fifteen cents.

THIS WOMAN SUFFERED

Mrs. H. A. Laman, Sturgin, Colo., writes: "I suffered with bladder and kidney trouble or years. Doctored and tried everything. No help. Finally a friend sent me Foley Kidney Pills. They helped me so much I used 7 bottles. Now I feel fine. Spent sleepless nights. Suffered so it seemed I hardly could live. Recommended Foley Kidney Pills to all who suffer from kidney trouble as I did." Sold everywhere.

Easy Way To Ward Off Cold

It's better to take a few pleasant little tablets and ward off a cold than to pay big doctor bills and lie in bed for days or weeks with pneumonia.

During the fall and winter months when gripe and pneumonia keep the doctors busy, health authorities urge everyone to "Watch out for symptoms of colds and get after them right off."

Take no chances. At the first sign of sniffing and sneezing get a box of Lightening Laxative Quinine Tablets and stop the cold within 24 hours. Lightening Laxative Quinine Tablets are safe, pleasant; never gripe or sicken. Druggists guarantee them. Only 25c per box.

ACHES AND PAINS—SLOAN'S GETS 'EM!

Famous pain and ache Liniment. Keep handy, brings warming, gratifying relief

RHEUMATIC twinges ease up soon. So do stiff joints, lame back, neuralgia, overtaxed muscles, and those pains from weather exposure, too—they don't fight long against the counter-irritant that Sloan's Liniment produces. Always keep this old family friend handy for instant use—a little penetrates without rubbing, leaving no skin stains, muck, or clogged pores. Its very odor—healthy and stimulating—suggests the good it will do. All druggists. Three sizes—35c, 70c, $1.40. Largest size is most economical.

Smart Millinery for Matrons

THE most difficult to please, but the most loyal of the milliners' patrons—when they are pleased—are the matrons whose choice of hats is narrowed with the passing of youth. The shop that would build a reputation for style on a fine foundation has only to succeed in outfitting its older clients in the right way—it is easy to suit and to please younger ones. The matron of today wants dignified and spirited millinery, rich and beautiful, to express the poise and assurance that years have given her. In the group of hats shown here—some of them posed on young faces—there are four models that are suited to matrons, two of them new developments of regulation shapes; for there are some staple shapes in millinery. One of these appears at the lower right with high crown, further heightened by its trimming and narrow brim rolling upward at the left side. The vogue for high crowns and high luster in millinery fabrics proves a great advantage in millinery for matrons this season. At the right a similar shape, with slightly drooping brim of braid, has a "candy" cloth crown encircled by a handsome wreath of flowers and fruit. The braid hat with bell crown, shown at the lower left, is almost universally becoming. It has a sash of ribbon and a wreath of flowers and fruit in lively colors; for the matron no longer buys somber and sedate headwear, at any rate not before she graduates into the class of the aged. For the youngest members of the matron class, a spirited hat like that at the upper left of the group has several things to make it satisfactory. The shape of silk, with soft crown mounted on a bandeau, the accuracy of a group of tucks, the fine handwork that appears in workroom-made flowers of silk finished with needlework, the adaptability of lines to the face—all are factors which women of ripe judgment appreciate.

Favored Styles in Silk Hose

WITHIN the last decade American women have become more and more exacting about their footwear, but not always more discriminating. A good many of the younger generation, at least, are still to be educated in the matter of suiting the shoe to the occasion and when their eyes are opened we shall no longer see satin slippers with high French heels making a stab at walking the streets in company with fancy stockings. They are as much out of place there as a party dress at the kitchen sink and the same discrimination is needed in selecting them as comes into use in selecting hats or dresses. All the feminine world buys silk hose and a good pair of plain silk stockings has wearing qualities that prove a recommendation even to the economical. For the street, plain silk hose have had a sturdy and sensible rival in wool hose. For dressy wear their competitors are clocked stockings, drop-stitch patterns, embroidered hose and those with lace inserts over the instep; the favored styles are shown in the illustration above. Even for the street low shoes have become popular and styles for spring and summer point to nothing else. There is a decided trend toward daintiness and decorative footwear—a forerunner of this mode appearing above in gray suede slippers with beaded strap and vamp. But for those who like inconspicuous footwear there is the plain satin pump—always good style—and not to be displaced by less simple things. Julia Bottomley
