Entered at the postoffice at Decatur, Indiana, as second-class matter.

Some times a fellow thinks the ground hog knows what he is preaching about.

Keep on advertising and remember that work never kills but worry does and if you work harder you won't have time to worry. The loafer is usually the despondent one.

Almost made the boys want to hunt up the old fish pole and test the line. Don't be to sure however that the spring weather is here permanently. There is just a chance of us having some disagreeable days before the real straw hat season.

Politicians now say that the statements made by Mr. Hays concerning retaining postmasters in jobs where they have been efficient, refers only to those of the republican faith and that's just what most people thought it meant.

That wasn't an earthquake at Terre Haute. It was the rumble of the politicians getting busy on the city election. It's not the first time the old town has been shaken up, though it may have been a slightly different dose.

Patronage troubles are forcing the president to neglect the very important international problems, it is announced from Washington. That's been the trouble for several years now. Too much attention is given the office seeker and not enough to the business of the people.

When the state tax is fixed at thirty cents, this county will have to send several hundred thousand dollars to the state treasury. Other counties will be assessed in proportion and yet the state officials have the nerve to say they will be hard up.

A great roar is going up over the proposed appointment of Col. George Harvey as ambassador to England. While it is admitted he had most to do with discrediting Mr. Wilson with the people, it is argued that he also had most to do with making him president and for this they will not forgive him. Eventually he will land where all do who double cross.

Press dispatches continue to tell how worn the president is and how the first ten days have told on the Marion statesman. Now comes a special session of congress and it is presumed this is the plan for giving the president a rest. Hard as it will be on the people, they are willing to stand it, if they really get busy.

Jake Hamon may have been a powerful man, may have deserved credit for carrying the republican nomination in his pocket, was no doubt a shrewd and successful business man, but the public will never admit he was a great man for he mistreated his wife and Clara Smith both. And yet he would very likely have had a place in the cabinet if he had not met death at the hands of the girl he had wronged. 'Spect there are a lot of dark secrets back of the lives of many who gain prominence and die with apparent respectability. Funny old world after all.

According to the audit clerk in the state auditor's office, the state will be able to meet the obligations fixed in the appropriations of the recent legislature but it does not require much reading between the lines to discern that the means of doing it is by the use of the immense sums taken from the counties of the state. Johnson says he won't attempt to fix the amount of this but it will not be "a widow's mite." We should say not. It will be millions and millions of dollars and this ten million does not include a lot of specific appropriations made for the total expenditures were something over twenty-three million dollars.

Jimmy Cox, publisher of the Dayton and Springfield News, recently the democratic nominee for president shows he is a broad gauge man and a real citizen by the following statement which appeared in his paper over his signature:

"People of all classes and creeds accept the formal induction into office of the new president as the constitutional consummation of the public will as expressed November 2. The responsibilities of this office are many, and its problems are grave. It goes without saying that the transcendent wish of the new executive is to promote the welfare of the country. Warren G. Harding is now president of the United States of America. He is our president, and if emergency should arise he will claim the support of all patriotic citizens. The News extends to him its felicitations, and indulges the hope that his term will be tranquil and his labors fruitful of happiness and prosperity for the nation."

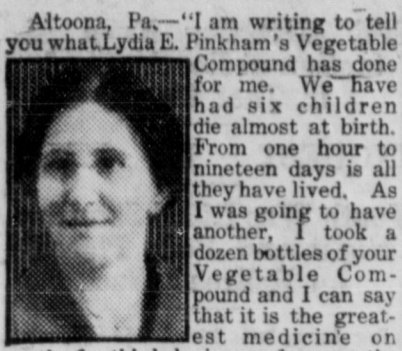

DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE

The members of the democratic city committee will meet at the offices of J. Fred Fruchte at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening and it is important that all the ladies be present. The women will organize permanently at this meeting and plans for the campaign will be discussed. Please be present promptly at 7:30.

JOY BROUGHT INTO HOME

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Restoring Mrs. Benz to Health

Altoona, Pa.—"I am writing to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. We have had six children die almost at birth. From one hour to nineteen days is all they have lived. As I was going to have another, I took a dozen bottles of your Vegetable Compound and I can say that it is the greatest medicine on earth, for this baby is now four months old and a healthier baby you would not want. I am sending you a picture of her. Everybody says, 'That is some healthy looking baby.' You have my consent to show this letter."—Mrs. C. W. BENZ, 131 3rd Ave., Altoona, Pa.

No woman can realize the joy and happiness this healthy babe brought into the home of Mrs. Benz, unless they have had a like experience.

Every woman who suffers from any ailments peculiar to her sex, as indicated by backaches, headaches, bearing-down pains, irregularities, nervousness and "the blues" should not rest until they have given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

UP TO THE PRESIDENT

(United Press Service)
Washington, March 15.—(Special to Daily Democrat)—The wage dispute of the packers with their employees was put up to President Harding today.

Secretary of Labor Davis, an hour before the cabinet meeting, called at the white house with a portfolio of papers bearing on the case and went into Harding's office.

The matter was expected to be discussed at the cabinet meeting which last week decided to make the offer of government mediation.

THE MONTH OF MARCH

March takes its name from Mars, the god of war.

The battle of the Monitor and Merrimac was fought March 9, 1862.

Alaska was purchased from Russia for $7,200,000, on March 30, 1867.

St. Patrick's day, in commemoration of the Irish patron saint, is the only semi-holiday in the month of March, and it boasts no legal holidays.

In the list of gems considered symbolical of the months of the year, commonly referred to as birthstones, the bloodstone or jasper is assigned to March.

Texas was annexed to the United States on the first day of March, 1845, and General Kerney declared California a part of the United States on March 1, 1847.

Three of the forty-eight states of the Union were admitted in March; Maine on the 15th, 1820; Florida on the 3rd, 1845, and Nebraska on the 1st, 1867.

March 4 is the most distinctive of the month's days in the political history of the United States. The president is inaugurated on the fourth day of March following the quadrennial general elections.

The expression: "Mad as a March hare" is said to have its origin in the statement of naturalists that the hare is wilder, or more sensitive to human approach, in March than in any other month.

The fifteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States, which provides, "The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied by the United States, or by any state, on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude," was declared adopted on the 30th of March, 1870.
