DOES "MAIN STREET" APPLY TO DECATUR?

Sinclair Lewis, author of "Main Street," does certainly hit the little towns of this country pretty hard in his book. The folks in New York who are supposed to hand out the literary standards for the rest of the country think he's just awfully realistic. They ought to know, for the majority of them who amount to much of anything came from small towns.

It all depends on what you see on Main Street. Mr. Lewis saw a lot of dullness, tedious inhabitants, vacant minds, and smugness, the horrible slime of smugness covering everything.

Now maybe if you're old-fashioned and remember "Tom Sawyer" and old Ed. Howe's book, "The Story of a Country Town," you have got a slightly different impression. Perhaps you have thought some American small towns and small cities were pretty good, anyway. What you see depends on what you're looking for.

"A savorless people, gulping tasteless food and sitting afterward, coatless and thoughtless, in rocking chairs, prickly with insane decorations, listening to mechanical music, saying mechanical things about the excellence of automobiles, and viewing themselves as the greatest race in the world." That's what Mr. Lewis says of the folk of Main Street.

He's partly right, too. If you want to hear the truth about yourself, go to a critic, not a friend. But Mr. Lewis' indictment, unhappily, isn't wide enough. It should be extended to the whole human race. We are dull. We are stupid. We are far too self-satisfied. Let's stir our sluggish minds a little, and thereby work a blessing from the curses put upon us.

There is an opportunity for the Industrial Association to be the common meeting place for every one in Decatur and surrounding community. The rooms are comfortable, they are your rooms and the desire is that you use them. Get the habit of going there where various problems can be discussed and where agreements can be reached. Meetings of the association will probably be held each week from now on, excepting during the extreme summer weather. There are many things to do besides securing industries and if we each devote just a little time to this public service, it will be easy and productive of results.

The plan of Neosho, Mo., as explained by Mr. Lowe last evening, was interesting and the reports from other cities show it to be adaptable. It's up to the men of the community to become better acquainted with the people who trade here and the way to do it is to bring them here. Mr. Lowe showed how easy that was, the big secret being to establish confidence. To do that, advertise and then keep your word. We hope the plan is given a trial for it has never failed yet and it won't here in the best community on earth.

"Swat the fly." This is the time. Don't allow them to fill your house and poison your food. Screen your windows, the doors and fight them. They carry disease and they cause sickness and death. Now is the season when the extermination of one means to prevent a million later in the year. The anti-tuberculosis society is making a campaign to "Swat the fly." Help them do it.

Normalcy seems to be growing if the number of men out of employment and the frequent strikes of tradesmen is to be the means of judging that something voted for but little understood. Just now you find few people who like it, whatever it is and it is possible that as time goes on there will be those who won't even like to hear it mentioned.

Visit the new quarters of the Industrial Association. These rooms are yours. Leave your troubles and your jealousies and your animosity down stairs and come up. Help make this a better place in which to live.

If you wish to use the Industrial rooms, phone 133 or see one of the members of the house committee. It is the desire that these rooms be used every afternoon and evening. That's what they are for.

Mr. Adams, of the Columbia City Post, was a caller at this office today.

YOUNG GIRL FINDS RELIEF

Wants to Tell Other Girls All About It

Evansville, Ind.—"I am eighteen years old and have been bothered for several months with irregular periods. Every month my back would ache and I always had a cold and felt drowsy and sleepy. I work in a millinery shop and I went to work every day, but felt stupid and would have such cramps. I had seen Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised and had heard several women talk of it, so mother got me some. This Vegetable Compound is wonderful and it helped me very much, so that during my periods I am not now sick or drowsy. I have told many girls about your medicine and would be glad to help anyone who is troubled with similar ailments. You may use my testimonial as you like."—STELLA LINK WILDER, 6 Second St., Evansville, Indiana. Some girls lead lives of luxury, while others toil for their livelihood, but all are subject to the same physical laws and suffer in proportion to their violation. When such symptoms develop as irregularities, headaches, backaches, bearing-down sensations and "the blues," girls should profit by Miss Linkwiler's experience and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

MARRIED WEDNESDAY

Miss Ida E. Lehman of Berne and Henry H. Stucky of Fort Wayne will be married tomorrow at Grabbil, at the home of Mr. Stucky's daughter, Mrs. Hulda Gehrig. The bride is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Lehman, and for many years had been employed at Fort Wayne. First at the Y. M. C. A. and then at the Y. W. C. A. A wedding dinner was served Sunday at the home of Miss Lehman's brother, and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Oswin Lehman, in Berne. The couple will make their home in Fort Wayne, where the groom is employed by the Bowser company.

ENTERTAINMENT FRIDAY

The entertainment to be given by the pupils of the North Ward school will be Friday evening, April 8, at 7:30 o'clock. In mentioning the program Monday it was stated the entertainment would be Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, this is a mistake. The announcement should have been Friday evening, April 8.

SMITH BRIDGE OPEN TO TRAFFIC WEDNESDAY

The county commissioners after inspecting the new A. J. Smith bridge spanning the St. Marys river north of the city, accepted it and stated this morning that it would be opened to the public Wednesday of this week. The bridge is safe in every respect and no doubt will see much usage this spring and summer and in future years. It's a steel bridge.

Leading food experts give interesting information to every mother in America

LEADING food experts of America have stated why Karo is one of the greatest of all energy-producing foods.

The reason for this is easy to explain. Karo is composed of a very large percentage of Dextrose.

Dextrose is one of the most important of all food items. You could not live long without Dextrose. Most of the foods you eat—such as bread, starchy vegetables, and all forms of sugar—have to be changed into Dextrose before your system can use them as energy foods.

So Karo may almost be said to be a predigested food. These are scientific facts, supported by the very highest medical and food authorities, and undoubtedly, is one reason for the tremendous nationwide popularity of Karo.

Give your children and the folks all the Karo they want.

Your Protection

Do not be deceived by cans containing syrup that might look like Karo. The name "Karo" is on every can of original Karo—look for it and be assured of full weight cans and highest quality.

BLUE Karo

The standard table syrup. Also for cooking, baking and candy making. Light brown color, delicious flavor—a heavy-bodied syrup.

RED Karo

The Ideal Syrup for every use—for cooking, baking, candy making and preserving. Because of its honey-like appearance many prefer it as a spread for cakes, biscuits, breads.

GREEN Karo

Flavored with highest grade real maple sugar. Very moderate in price—absolutely pure. The makers of Karo are the world's largest users of the highest grade maple sugar—over a thousand tons used annually.
