Entered at the postoffice at Decatur, Indiana, as second-class matter.

Isn't it funny that Lew Shanks is a fine fellow and Don Roberts and Dr. Bunch so terrible?

Now we have a packer's control bill and we will see how it works. The public doubts the sincerity of the men behind the law. The packers themselves had too much interest in making the law to suffer much.

Adams county is the best spot on this earth. If you don't believe it, hitch up your Ford some evening and visit one of the Community clubs, now becoming numerous over the county. You will know it when you come away.

Knee deep in June and some June with the thermometer popping out of the top of the tube and the corn growing so rapidly you can hear it. We are going to have crops and if a real market is provided and the freight rate question adjusted, we will be a happy and prosperous people.

Next Tuesday the state highway commission will receive bids for the construction of thirty-three bridges over Indiana, more than half of which are between Richmond and Indianapolis. The estimated cost is $225,000. If you will keep track of a few of these things you can easily figure why your taxes are exorbitant. Your money is being used to pay for these improvements in some other part of Indiana. Does it seem fair?

Have you invited your friends to attend the Northern Indiana fair and Old Home Coming, August 2nd? You need not be afraid to for it is to actually be the greatest county fair in America. That's talking in a lot of territory but we do it advisedly. If they can't come then they will enjoy attending the races on the Fourth or the chautauqua or the auction school or all of them. Tell 'em they can't miss having a good time if they come to Decatur.

The best move made in many years in this county is the organization of community clubs in the various townships. The farmers meet and discuss those matters of greatest interest to them and listen to talks from experts and others. The next best move is the attendance at these meetings by business men. Farmers and merchants thus become acquainted, imaginary difficulties and misunderstandings are wiped out, a more friendly feeling is awakened and it's just plain, common sense, old fashioned living. Cooperation is always a great thing and this is the greatest educational step taken in years. County Agent Busche is a booster for this move and he is seconded by many of the most progressive citizens of the county. It should be kept up and increased to cover every section.

There is a splendid possibility that Decatur will secure during the next few weeks or by autumn at latest, a new industry. Representatives were here yesterday and announced the fact that they were highly pleased. They ask no assistance and are trying to find the proper place in which to open a branch plant. At present they prefer not to make any statements or to have their name used. The president of the company however informs us that the chance for this city is excellent and that the matter will be definitely decided within a few weeks. They would employ fifty people to start and increase that number as rapidly as possible to perhaps three hundred. This partial information is given that you may know that we are still on the map and working and that some of these days the old town will revive with a bang of enthusiasm and every thing will be lovely. Keep on smiling.

After promising during the campaign last year to reduce the number of board and commissions in this state, the leaders pushed through the recent legislature a lot of "bunk" laws establishing more boards and commissions. One of these just coming to the attention of the public is the creation of a board of registration for professional engineers and surveyors, providing for five members at salaries of ten dollars a day each and all expenses. The law creating these fine jobs for henchmen makes it necessary for every person practicing engineering or land surveying to take out a license at a cost of $25.00 for the first year and $10.00 each succeeding year and failure to do so subjects any person practicing this profession without said license, to a fine of from $100 to $500 and to this may be added three months imprisonment. No wonder we groan under the burdens of present day form of government. Each succeeding legislature makes it harder to live and pay your debts and in the end the public pays the bill. Each campaign we are promised relief and then a few months later we get bumped by the enactment of laws providing more boards. Evidently reduction of cost of government is not included in the normalcy program.

TRACTOR CONTROL

Demonstrated at the Omlor Farm Three Miles South of the City, Yesterday

MAKES THE FORDSON

A One-man Outfit — Man Seated in Binder Seat Operates Tractor at Will

Yesterday afternoon at the Omlor farm, three miles south of the city on the Mud Pike, a number of Adams county farmers witnessed the demonstration of the Standard Control for Fordson Tractors, by means of which one man seated in the seat of a binder may control the operation of a Fordson pulling the binder or any other machine over a field and cutting grain.

The gasoline feed, the operation of the clutch, and the steering wheel are controlled from the seat of the binder just as easily as if the operator was seated on the tractor with his hand on the wheel and his feet on the pedals.

The invention is a wonder, and was planned and used by a farmer two years before he decided to have the attachment patented and manufactured. The inventor, Martin A. Cline, lives at Malinta, O., and on Friday made a trip east of Cleveland to demonstrate the patent there.

The device as demonstrated yesterday proves that it is invaluable to every man who owns a Fordson. It sells for the very small sum of $28.50, and anybody can attach it in thirty minutes. All information may be had at the Shanahan-Conroy garage, and they will be pleased to tell you of its worth.

Fred Berry, well known farmer from East of the city, was a business visitor here yesterday.

SPORT NEWS

Woodburn vs. Decatur.
The Woodburn Independent base ball team will arrive in this city tomorrow noon and will clash with the local club at Belmont park, the game to be called at 3 o'clock. The Woodburn aggregating came to this city with a good reputation, winning nine out of ten games played this season and have crossed bats with all strong teams. The locals have not been defeated this season, winning every game by an easy margin but expect a fight to the finish in tomorrow's contest. The locals have a real ball club and are worthy of your support. Come out to Belmont park tomorrow and help swell the crowd. Plenty of seats for all in the grandstand. Admission, fifty cents.

WHO'LL WIN
Columbus, Ohio, June 18.—Clarence "Pants" Rowland, manager of the Columbus base ball club and former manager of the world's champion White Sox:
"I don't look for a knockout by either man. They are evenly matched. Carpenter's skill offsetting Dempsey's slugging ability. It will be a very interesting fight and the Frenchman has a good chance to go the limit."

Twelve Entered in Race.
Speedway, Uniontown, Penna, June 18.—Twelve of the country's most daring drivers today turned their mounts for the 220 mile grind on the world's fastest track. Today's race is for the universal trophy, twice won by Tommy Milton.
The drivers entered are Eddie Hearne, Tommy Milton, Jimmie Murphy, Eddie Miller, Eddie Pullen, Roscoe Salling, Ralph Mulford, Ira Vail, Jules Ellingboe, Johnny Thiel, Johnny Houle, and Tom Alley. Barney Oldfield, former king of the drivers, will act as official pacesetter and will lead the speedsters as they start on their long grind.

Watching the Scoreboard

Yesterday's hero — Menoskey, the Red Sox outfielder who had a wild day at bat slugging one a single, double, and triple in the first game and a triple and homer in the second game against the Tigers. The double win 5 to 4, 6 to 4, put the Red Sox in the first division.
The Cubs outslugged the Giants for a 11 to 10 win.
Fillingim blanked the Cards with four hits and Boston won 10 to 0.
Mogridge pitched a strong game for Washington against the Browns and the Senators won 5 to 4.
The Reds made it three straight over the lowly Phillies by a 11 to 3 score.
Leon Cadore pitched Brooklyn to a victory over the leading Pittsburgh Pirates, holding them to three runs while the Dodgers amassed eight.
Rain busted in on the Yankee-White Sox, Cleveland-Philadelphia games.

Atlantic City, N. J., June 18.—(Special to Daily Democrat)—Jack Dempsey's right hand was his greatest weapon at Toledo—now his left is the best.

I heard a lot about the improvement in his left hand, but I got the first proof of it yesterday when he was sparring with Battling Greer, the colored boy.

His left is not only the best, but he has perfected the greatest of all punches, the one-two left of the original Jack Dempsey. It is the greatest blow of the ring, because there is no defense against it.

Against Greer several times he shot in a terrific short left to the body and then to the jaw. Twice he had Greer out with that punch and had him a sure victim—but he held it back.

If Dempsey gets an opening for that left in the first round and gets it over with a right cross, the Frenchman will go down and stay down.

Win First Game.

Hurlington, Eng., June 18.—America won the first game of the international polo championship here today.

The final score was 11 to 4. In the seventh and final chukker America again scored twice while England was scoreless.

The final goals were made by Hitchcock and Webb.

Powers, 81 Winthrop Ave., Revere, Mass., writes: "I have taken Foley Cathartic Tablets and I recommend them to everyone." They banish biliousness, headache, bloating. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

Foch Doesn't Like the Limelight

Paris, June 17.—Marshal Foch has an awful time of it every time they trot him out to shine at official ceremonies.

The little grey-eyed gentleman, who looks more like a professor of Greek than the greatest soldier of his age, was particularly put out when they cast him and Cardinal Dupuy as the costars for the Napoleon centenary. For while the Cardinal, being used to the purple was quite at ease, the commander of the mightiest army ever gathered together most distinctly wasn't.

He was particularly embarrassed when they brought him the famous "sword of Austerlitz," which "the little corporal" had brandished at that battle. He fingered it gingerly, as though it were a lighted firecracker. Then he laid it across his knees, but that didn't suit him. Next he stood it up by the side of the gilded chair in which they had placed him. But, fearing it might fall down with an awful clatter at the solemnest moment of the service, he took it up in his hands again. It was more of a nuisance than a crown.

One of those near to him says he heard the marshal muttering into his moustache:

"Yes, I suppose the next time they'll bring me the 'sun of Austerlitz'—and then what'll I do with it?"

DEATH CLAIMS OLDEST POILU

Paris, June 16.—The "oldest poilu" of the great war, Monsieur Surugue, mayor of Auxerre, in Murgundy, has just died.

He was 75 years old when the mobilization call came early in August of 1914. Far beyond the military age, the rugged old mayor signed up as a volunteer, and by dint of bluffing, cajoling and threatening the army doctors, finally got himself accepted for the service.

And he didn't have any rear-sinure, either. From 1914 until early 1919 he did the dirty work of a private, then of a corporal and sergeant. In a fighting unit, and went over the top with all the rest of the bright young men.

He had a great civic reception in 1919 at Auxerre, when covered with mud and glory, he marched into his neglected town hall, displaying his Croix de Guerre, Medaille Militaire, and Legion of Honor. Latterly the old "dean of the poilus," as the French refer to him, removed to Paris. But the flat air of the capital proved more detrimental to his robust old frame than the snow of Donau-mont or the marshes of St. Gond; and at the super-Clemenceauian age of 82 the grand old man has finally been gathered to his lost comrades of the war.

IN BED EIGHT MONTHS

Cause—Change of Life. How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Got Me Up

Afton, Tenn.—"I want other suffering women to know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. During the Change of Life I was in bed for eight months and had two good doctors treating me but they did me no good. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did, and in a short time I felt better. I had all kinds of bad spells, but they all left me. Now when I feel weak and nervous I take the Vegetable Compound and it always does me good. I wish all women would try it during the Change of Life for I know it will do them good. If you think it will induce some one to try the 'Vegetable Compound' you may publish this letter."

—Mrs. A. KELLER, Afton, Tennessee.
Women from forty-five to fifty years of age should take warning from such symptoms as heat flashes, palpitation of the heart, smothering or fainting spells, or spots before the eyes, and prepare their system for this perfectly natural change by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has helped many, many women through this trying period, just as it did Mrs. Keller.
