worth of Council Bluffs, Iowa, president and Fred Schurger, Decatur, secretary. The little one of the class, K. B. Garrell of Hicksville, Ohio, and an old hand of Mary Pickford, was elected treasurer and H. B. Kniesley, E. F. Penning, Fred Smith and L. E. Dedgwick, news reporters.

Instead of the stock sale this afternoon, a regular sale was held at the band stand, court house lawn, at two o'clock this afternoon. Owing to the fact that the farmers are so busy just now, the live stock could not be secured. The sales at the band stand are held each evening from 7:30 to 8:00 o'clock except on Friday evenings when the band concerts are held when the sales occur between 7 and 8.

These sales are proving a big attraction and the crowds grow each evening. Many real bargains are offered and the crowd enjoys the "pep" boys. If you have anything to sell at auction bring it down. There is no charge, the sales being conducted to give the students experience.

PUBLIC OPINION

THE PARKING ORDINANCE

Daily Democrat:—

After reading in your paper an article on parking cars on Second street, I would like to let the councilmen know first that we, as farmers, bought our cars to drive to town and do not care to go and trade in a town where you have to park your car on the outside of town and another thing there is not a cool place on Second street in Decatur where women can sit down and rest so by parking the cars on Second street they can rest in their cars and visit with friends passing by.

But, I guess the way it sounds, you people or councilmen want out of town folks to drive to the city limits walk and carry their trade up town and do their shopping, walk back to the car and drive home. Well, alright Decatur, if that's the way you feel we bid you good-day.

A FARMER.

COULD NOT KEEP HOUSE

Without Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Says Mrs. Pitts of Newburgh

Newburgh, N. Y.—"My trouble was a weak back and I could not walk two blocks without being tired out. I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in a newspaper and decided to give it a trial. Now I can do my own work and walk with ease. I always keep the Vegetable Compound in the house. It certainly is my best friend and I could not keep house without it. I have recommended it to many and always shall. You may use this letter if you wish."—Mrs. EDWARD PITTS, 2 High St., Newburgh, N. Y.

It has been said that "backache is an invention of the Evil One to try women's souls," but even so, it is more often a symptom of a female trouble which sooner or later declares itself. Day after day it drags a woman down and night after night prevents restful sleep. Such a woman should follow Mrs. Pitts' advice and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and regain health. Letters about your health will be given careful attention and held in strict confidence if you write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Their experience of over 40 years is at your service.

U. B. CAMP MEETING

Mr. Walter Fuelling, agent for the Delco Light company, is furnishing our people of the camp meeting at Belmont park, grand light for their services in the tent from night to night. People are well pleased with the service he is giving. Mr. Fuelling is a most kind and genial man and evidently worthy of the patronage of any who wish any thing in the line of his business. Our services are growing in interest from day to day. We are planning for a grand and interesting service on tomorrow (Saturday). Everybody is invited and the present interest assures us there will be large crowds to enjoy the services. Members of the city churches and the people of the city and community are cordially invited to be with us.

COMMITTEE

TO FIGHT EXTRADITION.

Fort Wayne, Ind., July 9.—(Special to Daily Democrat).—Bessie Gilbert, the prodigal wife of an Allentown, Pa., merchant, and her chauffeur, William Fogel, planned today to fight extradition to Milwaukee, where they are wanted on statutory charges.

A telegram from William Gilbert, the woman's husband, advised the couple to make every effort to prevent their return to the Wisconsin City.

WANT ADS EARN $

They asked me to tell you this story

by Mrs. Mary Preston
Cooking Expert and Food Analyst

I explained to the sales-manager of The Heekin Company that I didn't know the first thing about writing advertisements. But he said, "Just pass your enthusiasm along to the women of America, and I'll be satisfied."

The object of my enthusiasm is Heekin's Baking Powder. But let me tell you the story from the beginning.

I was asked to try out Heekin's and make a report on the results obtained. For my own satisfaction, I first made an analysis of it. Its purity created a strong impression—I really believe that no purer baking powder can be made. (No foreign ingredients are added to create an unnatural effervescence or to give a false impression of quality.)

I next baked with it and asked several of my assistants to do likewise. We never baked finer, lighter biscuits or more delicious cakes. There wasn't one failure where Heekin's was used. The excellent results showed me why Heekin's is the favorite baking powder of thousands of women.

I reported most glowingly. "But," I said, "surely such an exceptional baking powder must sell for a very high price." Imagine my surprise when I learned that Heekin's sells for much less than any other baking powder that even approaches it in quality—that The Heekin Company, by taking a small profit themselves, has maintained this low price for years.

Mr. Heekin said, "I wish we could make all American women as enthusiastic about our product as Mrs. Preston."

The sales-manager replied, "Why not let her tell her story in her own way in a series of advertisements?" And I agreed.

I know that any woman can achieve excellent results with Heekin's. The Heekin Company also feels so sure of this that they offer to refund the price of the baking powder, and the price of the ingredients in anything you bake—using Heekin's—if it doesn't turn out to your entire satisfaction. There is no red tape to this offer. Simply list the ingredients and the prices of them together with the price of the baking powder and send to The Heekin Company, Cincinnati, Ohio, with your name and address. Buy a can today at your grocer's and try it. You'll like Heekin's.

Mrs. Mary Preston
