HARVEST IS OVER

For Bootlegger in Indiana Says Prohibition Commissioner Morgan

SIXTEEN OFFICERS

Now at Work in State—Twenty Stills Confiscated During Month of Oct.

Indianapolis, Nov. 29.—The bootleg harvest in Indiana is over. The days of golden floofo for the hip pocket Argonauts are passed.

Take this from Bert Morgan, federal prohibition commissioner for Indiana.

"People of Indiana got the impression that bootlegging is on the increase," Morgan said in an interview today, "but in reality it is decreasing greatly. They got the impression because of the activities of prohibition enforcement officers who bring the illicit booze traffic to the surface. The professional bootlegger is becoming obsolete."

Morgan admitted however, that the private individual who "sells to his neighbors and friends" is yet to be caught. He is trying to combat this practice with his sixteen agents who comb the state from one to the other.

"But these violators slip through Uncle Sam's fingers more easily than those who are organized for business on a big scale," said Morgan.

Morgan said the Angelo-Provosano company, whose operations centered around Lawrenceburg, is the last of the professionals in the state. He said this company operated in Cincinnati, Chicago and the Calumet region and that they had their own warehouses, counterfeited their own bonding labels, organized their own wholesale houses under the guise of drug stores and operated their own transportation companies.

There are many cases of bootlegging among foreigners yet to be cleared up, he stated.

During October officers confiscated twenty stills, 205 gallons of spirits, 102 gallons of distilled spirits, 65 fermenters, 178 gallons of beer and 127 gallons of wine.

All of these figures show about a twenty percent increase of the previous month due, not to increased violations, but increased activities of the sixteen field men which the federal government now has in the state, Morgan said.

"Trust worth is in being, not seeming. In doing each day that goes by; Some little good—not in dreaming. Of great things to do by and by.

Pocahontas Meeting—7:30.

Baptist Women—Mrs. C. Hilyard.

There will be a meeting of the Pocahontas Lodge Friday evening at 7:30. All members of the degree staff are especially requested to be present as there will be business of special interest to them. This is also election night.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernst Conrad entertained at dinner Sunday in their home northeast of the city for the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schulte, Dr. and Mrs. L. K. Magley and daughter, Viola, of Decatur; Arthur Lentz, Wm. Klepper, Emil Schultz and William Dennis, all of Fort Wayne. In the evening they were joined by Misses Ida and Esther Luttmann, Ruth and Esther Busick, Clara Gerke, Viola and Gertrude Conrad, Otto and Wm. Luttmann, Lester and Clarence Busick, Ben, Amos and Henry Gerke, Harold Tieman, Wm. Macke, Paul Sherman and Alvin and Clarence Conrad.

The Pythian Sisters had another most enjoyable session at the K. of P. home on Monday evening. Fourteen candidates were given the initiatory work, and three members reinstated. This now makes a total of 103 members added to the roll during the present year. Several more have been accepted and are ready to take the work, and there are also a number of applications pending. The degree work Monday evening was done by the Decatur Sisters' team, under the direction of Percy Raymond, as drill master, and it was perfectly executed. The degree team of the Eureka Temple will be one of the best to be found in the entire state within a few weeks. Following the work, the members of the degree team surprised the lodge members by serving a luncheon of sandwiches, coffee and pickles. The Monday evening meeting was one of the most delightful events in the history of the organization in Decatur. The ladies are working, through their committees, to make the mortgage-burning celebration on Thursday, the biggest lodge event ever held in Decatur.

The Woman's Society of the Baptist church will meet Friday afternoon with Mrs. C. Hilyard of Rugg street, it being the occasion of the regular monthly business meeting.

Mrs. Burkhardt entertained for Sunday dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hook, and son, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Sprunger, Mrs. Emma Hook of Monroe, Miss Estella Perkins of Prairie Depot, O.; and Miss Olive Perkins of South Whitley, Ind.

Owing to the various Thanksgiving dinners, and church services on Thanksgiving day, Mrs. C. L. Spuler and daughter, Clara, of near Pleasant Mills, postponed their Thanksgiving dinner until Sunday. After attending services they invited their pastor and family and a number of the folks to accompany them home for dinner. The invitation was accepted. The usual Thanksgiving scheme of dinner was carried out such as roast pork with oyster dressing, cranberry sauce, mashed potatoes, macaroni with cheese, sweet potatoes, venison whip, mince pie, cake, coffee and everything else that goes to make up a good dinner. Some of the folks departed in the afternoon, some delaying until the evening service, and Miss Mamie Hoblet stayed until Monday evening. The afternoon was spent in visiting and singing. Mrs. Hazel Snyder played several instrumental selections on the piano. Those who enjoyed the day were Rev. A. M. Johnson, wife and daughters, Maxine and Dorris; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morrison; Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Wilson and son, Robert; Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Tague and daughters, Mable, Ruth and Marie; Mrs. C. L. Spuler and daughter, Clara; Mrs. Hazel Snyder and Miss Mayme Hoblet.

New Vitamine Tonic Food Perfected At One Of Our Leading Medical Colleges

Provides the Growth-Promoting, Strength and Life-Giving Elements Lacking in Our Daily Food—Decatur Druggists Interested

Leading medical men of the country have for some time been advocating dietetic treatment rather than medicinal for many of the conditions for which medical tonics have been prescribed in the past.

Malnutrition, under-development of children, general debility, simple anaemia, blood impoverishment, loss of weight and run-down conditions respond rapidly to a properly balanced diet; that is, the addition to the daily food of a balancer which contains all the life-sustaining and growth-promoting elements so often lacking in our regular meals.

Vitamines—the curious growth-promoting, health-giving elements found chiefly in milk, yeast, leaf vegetables, eggs and the outer covering of rice, wheat and other cereals—are often eliminated from the modern diet because of scientific milling and over-cooking.

Until those vital elements are supplied, the body cannot attain its highest development, the system is weakened, and a lowering of vitality is the result.

Now science has discovered an easy way of supplying these health-building vitamines in the wonderful new tonic food called SUSTO—which was perfected by Dr. Philip B. Hawk, Professor of Physiological Chemistry at Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia.

Before SUSTO was offered to the public he subjected it to the most rigid tests and pronounced it the most perfectly balanced tonic food on the market.

SUSTO is not a medicine. It is a food balancer—it adds to the daily diet all the growth-promoting, strength and life-giving vitamines of yeast, rice, eggs, milk, with beef protein and iron that we are not getting otherwise, and which are as necessary as fresh air to sustain life.

Therefore if you need strength—lack energy, are nervous, anaemic, rundown, thin and ailing—SUSTO will nourish the shrunken tissues, create strength, build up shattered nerves and energy.

Ask them about SUSTO at Smith, Yager & Falks drug store. If you try the treatment for one month at a cost of 10c a day and you are not in better health every way—weigh more and feel stronger, they will return your money.
