RELIEF FROM THE WAR TAXES

The Bluffton basketball fans give the Decatur team credit for their victory of last Friday evening and the newspapers of that city give a fair accounting of the battle, the leads to the stories of the game follow:

The local high school basketball team met the first defeat of the season last evening on the local court by the close score of 21 to 17. The game was fast throughout and was exceedingly interesting and the large crowd that witnessed the game were never assured of who the winner of the game would be, until the final whistle.

The local team's defeat comes as a complete surprise to the local fans for the past dope on the strength of both fives was decidedly in favor of Bluffton, as the Red and Black had defeated Kendallville H. S. at Kendallville, and Kendallville had defeated Decatur on Decatur's own floor, by a large score.—Bluffton Banner.

Fate seemingly did injustice to the Black and Crimson cagers of the local high school when their splendid record was broken at the hands of the fast Decatur high school quintet by the small margin of a 21 to 17 count at the Cherry street gymnasium last evening. Bluffton high's efforts to maintain their record as an undefeated team were foiled after six consecutive victories.

The Bluffton lads started the contest at lightning speed and never slackened their pace during the entire game, but were unable to connect effectively with the basket. Bluffton's attempts at the goal were more frequent than the visitors but the "jinx" was with them and their efforts failed to bring a winning total.

However, it was apparent at the start that victory would be in the balance to the end. The Adams county aggregation made the majority of their baskets from near the center of the court. It was the general verdict Bluffton out-played their opponents at all times during the contest, except during the last two minutes of play when the visitors started their final spurt for a winning lead. Not more than four points ever separated the combatants.—Bluffton News.

VEGETABLE MEN HAVE THEIR OWN PROGRAM

A special program lasting five days in which the latest information on vegetables growing is offered will be a new feature of the farmers' short course at Purdue University, January 9 to 13. On this program will be the annual meeting of the Indiana Vegetable Growers' Association, a comparatively new organization of the men engaged in this form of agriculture. This meeting comes January 11 and 12 and is expected to attract about 400 market gardeners from the various vegetable growing regions in the state.

The meeting of the Association will stress in particular the economic phases of the vegetable industry. Prof. J. W. Lloyd, of Illinois, will discuss marketing problems. He spent two years in California studying marketing problems and methods and is the author of a book dealing with this subject.

Green house cultural practices and pest control will be discussed by specialists from the university and the growers from over the state who have scored unusual success will tell of their work. Fertilizers, cultural practices and pest control for outdoor vegetables also will receive attention.

Spraying to control pests is an important operation, and the methods of applying the spray is equally important. The spraying demonstration Wednesday of short courses will show the effectiveness of different methods of making spray applications.

In addition, the growers will take part in the state potato show to be held the same week under auspices of the association, and many of them will compete for the $600 in prize money offered there. The annual banquet of the vegetable men's association will be held Thursday evening January 11, the largest gathering of vegetable men ever held in Indiana is ex-

Corporations falling in this category include the railroads and public utilities, the income of which are regulated by federal or state commissions through the control of rates.

Many of the special taxes imposed upon manufacturers in many lines of business have been removed. Manufacturers freed from the "war" taxes include those turning out chewing gum, musical instruments, sporting goods, articles made of fur, pool and billiard tables and pleasure boats and canoes costing less than $100.

Other taxes which come off include those on insurance premiums and on bonds of indemnity while sharp reductions are made in the taxes on cereal and carbonated beverages sold in closed containers, on candy and works of art.

Some new taxes are put on manufacturers, the rate being 5 percent of the amount by which the sale price exceeds given sums in the case of carpets and rugs, trunks, valises, fitted toilet cases, pocketbooks, portable lamps and fans. Other new taxes are imposed on manufacturers of finished fountain syrups and carbonic acid gas.

Taxes imposed under existing law which are retained are those on telegraph, telephone, cable and radio messages; tobacco, cigars, cigarettes and snuff; estates, automobile and motor-cycles and parts and accessories thereof; cameras, photographic films and plates (other than moving picture films), firearms, shells and cartridges, hunting and bowie knives, darts, stilettos and brass and metallic knuckles, smoking articles and automobile slot device vending machines and weighing machines, jewelry and articles made of precious metals except eyeglasses.

Some Levies Retained.
