Indiana, as second-class matter.

Evidently those senators who are supporting Newberry are doing so on the theory that he has bought and paid for his seat and ought to have it for that's about the only excuse that can be offered.

Ex-governor James P. Goodrich is the newest guess as a successor to Will Hays as postmaster general should the latter accept the picture job as now seems assured. Mr. Goodrich stands well with the administration and his selection would please his Indiana friends.

The minute is to the hour what the penny is to the dollar and those who win must save both and keep on doing it. Wantfulness is a crime and a lot of people throw time away and think they are wise in doing it. Always they find they are wrong but too late.

When it is known that Secretary Mellon is a director in companies with total resources of nearly two billion dollars, including several breweries and distilleries, this may explain his position on the income tax law, the prohibition questions and several other matters now before congress.

The treaty creating the Irish Free State was ratified late Saturday by the Dail Eirann and Valera has resigned. He declares he will carry on for the republic for which he has dreamed but students of the great question believe that government under the new treaty will prove so popular that opponents will soon lose the support now given them.

The citizens of Decatur regret that Rev. Saunders of the Presbyterian church and his family, have felt duty bound to accept the call to a Denver church but they unanimously hope for them all the happiness and success that come to excellent people which they are. They have endeared themselves to this community, and their good work here will be felt to advantage for many years.

The Burdick Tire and Rubber company of Noblesville is in the hands of a receiver and hundreds of people over Indiana who believed the smooth story of the slick stock salesman are now grieving over their losses. If when you are approached by these men you go to some banker in whom you have confidence you will be playing it safe for usually his advice is worth considering seriously.

The progressive party is now being revived in Nebraska and the Wall street Journal, strictly an old guard paper devotes an entire column to efforts to crush the movement which may develop such proportions as to defeat several northwest republican senatorial aspirants. Out west they are arguing in strong language just now that political promises have not been kept and the worst part is they prove it. The Journal has a right to feel alarmed over prospects.

Mr. Tincher, of Kansas, in the exuberance of his soul, cried out in the house for a tariff tax of one thousand percent on importations from Germany. Mr. Mann of Illinois, who tries to keep his feet on the ground, said in reply: "Let there be a few more statements on this side of the house that the republicans are in favor of a tariff duty of one thousand percent." and there will not be enough republicans here to gather together in one aisle. I have been here long enough to know."

In this early part of the new year it is well for us all to think over the words of Henry C. Frick, who went from a very poor boy to a multi-millionaire. He said: "There is no secret about success. Success simply calls for hard work, devotion to your business at all times, day and night.
I was very poor and my education limited but I worked very hard and always sought opportunities. To win in the battle of life a man needs in addition to whatever ability he possesses, courage, tenacity and deliberation. He must learn never to lose his head but above all, hard work is the thing."

Mr. Frear of Wisconsin is a republican congressman; on page 832 of the Congressional Record, January 3, he said: "Congress is repeatedly charged with unsoaking the rich while preparing to skin those least able to pay. Is that charge true? In this session of congress it is proposed to pass a consumption or sales tax that will lay a new tax burden and increased prices on necessities of life consumed by four to five millions of idle laborers and their families, on millions of farmers and other laborers and their families who are now fighting for a bare existence, and on over three millions of ex-soldiers and their families, who are told the price of any compensation bill is a consumption tax." And yet the congress has sent 20 millions to Russia to feed people no more starving than millions here in the United States.

THE WHEAT CROP

Acreage is Slightly Under That Reported at This Time Last Year

CONDITION IS GOOD

Decrease in Acres is Due to Slump in Price and Production Cost

The winter wheat acreage in Indiana is slightly under the acreage seeded to that crop last year, according to the monthly report of the cooperative crop reporting service, issued today. The condition of the crop however, is above the average. Wages paid to farm hands are considerably less than last year, but still about 50 percent higher than pre-war wages.
The report follows:

In many counties the wheat acreage has been reduced to some extent, while in other counties a slight increase is shown. In the former the decrease generally is attributed to the low price of the grain and the cost of production, with the larger decreases shown in the central part of the state where land values are highest. In the counties where an increase is shown, it is mostly for the purpose of getting back to normal rotations. The total acreage sown this fall is slightly less than last year and amounts to 2, 052,000 acres, compared with 2,074,000 acres last year.

The condition of the plants compared with normal is 92 percent, which is somewhat above the average. Weather conditions up to the first of December were especially favorable. The plants have developed a wonderful root system and will go into the winter well fortified to stand the strain of severe cold weather.

Rye is much the same as wheat.
The acreage in some counties has been increased while in others a decrease is shown. Generally, however, the tendency has been to increase and for the state as a whole, it will develope approximately 318,000 acres. The reasons for increasing or decreasing acreage in the various counties, the are practically the same as for wheat except where rye has been substituted. Weather conditions have been very favorable and the plants are exceptionally vigorous and will go into the winter under most favorable conditions. The estimated condition is 95 percent of normal which is somewhat above the average.

Only a little more than 5 percent of the apple crop was shipped out of the counties where grown, which is considerably below the average. In the large commercial districts in the southern part of the state a very small crop was produced and in no part of the state was there a full crop.

The yield of wheat and rye straw was fairly good, being 1.07 tons per acre for the former and 1.26 tons per acre for the latter. For oats the yield was 86 tons and for barley, 95 tons per acre.

Soil and weather conditions were very favorable for fall plowing and considerably more than usual has been done this year. It also might be stated that farmers are attempting to do as much of their work as possible without the services of hired hands.

While wages of farm labor are considerably lower than a year ago, they are still more than 50 percent higher than pre-war wages. The average wages per month, with board, are $32.00; without board, $40.00. Harvest work the past season was rated at about $2.60 per day with board and $3.25 per day without board. For ordinary farm work the wages averaged about $1.90 with board and $2.30 without board.

The average amount of four foot wood consumed on a farm during the year was twelve cords and the value about $4.65 per cord. This does not mean that every farm consumed that amount, but includes all that burn wood for heating purposes.

It's not what you pay---

---it's what you get for what you pay

Facts you should know when you buy a car

The question of greatest importance is not what you will be allowed for your old car but the price you pay for the new car and the value received.

You are money out if allowed $100 more for your old car, yet have to pay a $150 higher list price for a new car when the comparative value is not there.

A purchaser's loss is only postponed when trading allowances are made above a used car's real value. The deal that may appear most satisfactory to you in the beginning may prove to be the most expensive in the end.

No one receives anything gratuitously in this world—don't be misled by false allowances.

We believe that any sales policy which encourages the giving of fictitious values for used cars is an injustice to the public. We wish to establish definitely the fact that the Buick Motor Company has never followed this policy —rather has always based the price of its product upon actual costs and when costs came down correspondingly reduced the prices of its cars to the public without any camouflage whatsoever.
