MANCHESTER SWAMPS MUNCIE.

Muncie State Normal journeyed to M. C. September 6, counting on returning home carrying the laurels, but were sadly disappointed when M. C. showed them up with a score of 35-15.

M. C. started out with their usual speed slipping the pill through the ring in the first few seconds of the game, but was followed by one by Muncie, tying the score, causing great interest among the spectators. Then M. C. started out with a safe lead which they held throughout the game.

At the end of the first ten minutes, M. C. having a good lead, Coach Stauffer ran in the Freshman squad in place of the Varsity regulars and allowed them to play the remainder of the first half ending with a score of 20 to 9. Two of the freshmen lineup are Bryan and Byerly who starred for Kirkland last year.

At the beginning of the last half Coach Stauffer put the regulars back in. With the substitution of a guard and forward M. C. rans their score up to thirty-five while Muncie raised theirs to fifteen.

A Delightful Row

MAKE GAIN

Pigs Make Good Showing on Corn, Middlings and Tankage

Indiana farmer co-operating with Purdue find this ration good for fall litters.

Shelled corn, wheat middlings and tankage self-feed makes an economic ration to feed fall pigs during the winter according to results from feeding demonstrations that have been conducted by the Purdue University Extension Department in co-operation with county agents and farmers. Records show that J. L. Craning, of Miami county fed out 59 fall pigs that made 100 pounds of gain on seven bushels of corn, 21 pounds of wheat middlings and 20 pounds of tankage. The feed cost of each 100 pounds of gain was $3.71, figuring corn at 50 cents per bushel, wheat middlings at $1.50 per 100 pounds and tankage at $3.00. These pigs were fed from the time they averaged 54 pounds until they were marketed at an average of 214 pounds.

Austin Waggoner of Davies county fed out a bunch of 46 hogs that made 160 pounds of gain on 6½ bushels of corn and 29 pounds of tankage they being self-fed. The cost per 100 pounds gain was $3.47 at the prices of feed at that time.

Henry Wichman of Davies county fed out 72 fall pigs which made on the average 100 pounds of gain on 7½ bushels of corn and 31 pounds of tankage the feeding cost being $3.73.

James R. Wiley of the Animal Husbandry Staff of the university who has general charge of these feeding demonstrations makes the following statement: "The experiences of these men show that rations consisting of corn, wheat middlings and tankage or corn and tankage will be economical ones to feed fall pigs this winter. Provide such a ration, plenty of drinking water at ordinary well temperature, dry sleeping quarters and free from cold drafts and the fall pigs will have a good opportunity to make economic and profitable gains."

Rest from thy loved employ;
The battle fought, the victory one,
Enter thy Master's poy.

The voices at midnight came—
He started up to hear;
A mortal arrow pierced his frame,
He fell but felt no fear.

The pains of death are past,
Labor and sorrow cease;
And life's fierce warfare closed and past.

His soul is found in peace.

And while eternal ages run—
Rest in thy Saviors joy.

ADDITIONAL NEWS FORM THE TOWN OF GENEVA

Misses Marie Elick, the Geneva high school Domestic Science instructor, gave a demonstration of the home-made dress form Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ben. Farlow. Eighteen ladies attended and many of them decided they wanted a receipt for themselves because they liked them so well. Miss Elick volunteers her services for ladies who wish to learn how to make them.

BUTTER IN THE DIET

After making a feeding experiment with white rats, Dr. J. F. Lyman, of the Ohio State University, reached the conclusion that "Vegetable fats can never take the place of real dairy butter in the human diet." He fed two half-grown white rats a mixture of protein, starch, salt, yeast and fat. One received in addition, butter fat, and the other coconut oil. At the end of three months, the rat fed butter fat had doubled in weight while the one getting the coconut oil weighed about one-fourth less than in

Breaking the Shackles of Time

CLOCKS are as much a matter of course as suspenders or sausages. But it took energy and initiative to get the first clock on the kitchen shelf and start it going. The Yankee pack peddler was sole distributor and transporter. His lean, lanky, loose-jointed legs set the limits for most distribution problems in those days.

Modern transportation with progressive sales methods—and advertising—have broken the shackles of time. They make a quick job of what used to take years. Through advertising, many an article has been introduced simultaneously in stores all over the country.

This newspaper does you a two-fold service. It not only brings you news of the world, but also news of what to buy, where to buy and how to buy.
