

Heed The Danger Signals!

IF we are not "fit as a fiddle" in the morning; if we don't feel better than when we went to bed; if our breath is offensive and we have that bad taste in the mouth, Nature has set the danger signals for us and we cannot afford to neglect the warning that she gives.

Probably eighty per cent of all diseases originate in the digestive organs, so it is evident that if we have stomach trouble, however slight, we are foolish indeed if we do not take prompt steps to correct it.

Stomach trouble is almost always followed by a complication of diseases. One of the first being an over-worked liver, with all the symptoms of biliousness, followed in turn by headaches, coated tongue, dizzy spells, pain in the back, palpitation of the heart and other distressing symptoms.

Sooner or later the kidneys will become involved and that is just why these danger signals should be heeded in time. A wise man puts out the fire before there is too much destruction. The same theory should apply to stomach trouble.

The American people have learned that Tanlac probably provides the surest, safest and quickest remedy for all such troubles, and millions upon millions have taken it with the most astonishing and gratifying results.

That is the reason for the phenomenal success of Tanlac and that is why it is proclaimed the world's Greatest Tonic.

Tanlac is sold in Decatur at Smith, Yager & Falk's and at leading druggists everywhere.

FOR THE FARMERS

Items of Interest to the Farmers of Adams County.

REPORT OF FOURTH DISTRICT INDIANA FEDERATION OF FARMERS' ASSOCIATION AT MARION JANUARY 12 AND 13.

About five hundred farmers from the counties comprising the fourth district of the Indiana Federation of Farmers' Associations met at the high school building in Marion on Thursday, January 12th, for the regular district meeting. Ex-governor W. L. Harding gave two very inspiring talks during the day discussing transportation problems which confront the American farmer. Mr. Harding explained our high transportation costs in comparison to those of other countries as being due in part to the extremely high average transportation distance. The average distance the American farmers products must travel in order to reach centers of consumption is 1,100 miles, while the average distance in other countries is 200 miles. These figures relate to the rail haul and not to the water transportation which is much cheaper. The remedy for this condition is the St. Lawrence waterway which will bring the ocean almost to the productive plains of the middle west. This proposition is part of the legislative program of the American Farm Bureau Federation at the present time.

On Friday the farmers re-assembled and the chief subject discussed was the tax situation. Plans were studied for the equalization of real estate values, this question being timely for the reason that this is the year for their appraisal of real estate. A plan was suggested whereby the various county Farm Bureaus will co-operate with the county and township assessors for the purpose of making assessments of land equitable, this plan to be worked out in detail by the county Farm Bureau co-operating with those officials and where adopted, the plan will no doubt prove very satisfactory. A number of assessors were present and heartily indorsed it.

Lewis Taylor, State Organizer of the I. F. F. A. next gave a talk and submitted plans for a membership drive in the counties. Intensive drives are in progress and will be instituted in each county in the state and reports from those counties where drives have been completed show a large increase in members.

MANY CASES OF RHEUMATISM NOW

Says We Must Keep Feet Dry, Avoid Exposure and Eat Less Meat.

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat less meat, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of salts occasionally to keep down uric acid.

Rheumatism is caused by poisonous toxin, called uric acid, which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a teaspoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.

WHO WILL BE NEXT?

United Press Staff Correspondent New York, Jan. 25.—Possibility of a Jack Dempsey-Bill Brennan match in Jersey loomed up today with the expected arrival of Jack Kearns here for the purpose of taking up the possibilities of the match with Tex Rickard.

Rickard, however, has troubles of his own today at the west side court and may not be able to see the champion's manager until tomorrow. Chances of a Dempsey-Carpentier fight to be held in London or Paris are not regarded as good. Carpentier's victory over Cook brought the usual crop of rumors to the surface in a possibility of another Dempsey-Carpentier match but Rickard is convinced that neither the public nor the French need another demonstration of the relative merits of the men.

Bartley Madden is mentioned as a possibility instead of Brennan. Kearns is known to prefer closing for an early match with either Madden or Brennan against the champion instead of waiting until the Jersey open air arena can be used.

"Outside the Law" a Real Screen Thriller, Lon Chaney Excellent

Having waited for nearly a year since the presentation of "The Virgin of Stamboul," for another picture starring Priscila Dean, the audience at the Crystal theater last night was in a rather expectant mood as it waited for "Outside the Law," to be shown. It must be frankly stated that after the feature had been screened the audience was not only fully satisfied, but there were many who declared "Outside the Law," to be the best crook play in many years, the acting of Priscila Dean to be a revelation and the supporting company as leaving nothing further to be desired.

Tod Browning, who directed many of Priscila Dean's big successes, not only guided the players through "Outside the Law," but he also wrote the story, which was adapted for the screen by Lucien Hubbard. While it may be called an underworld story, it differs in almost every way from the usual crook drama. There are no "crooked" police, no villainous Chinese and no bribe-seeking politicians; nor does the author try to preach the oftused fallacy about their being honor among thieves. His characters run true to type, and they are enmeshed in a series of situations and climaxes that hold the interest in a vise-like grasp and at times make one's nerves tingle and one's breath almost to stop.

SOYBEANS TO GIVE MANY FARMERS A LEGUME CROP

The acreage of legumes in Indiana is short. There will not be enough clover this year to furnish the amount of legume hay needed. Some clover may winter-kill. Soybeans are filling this place according to W. A. Ostrander, of the Soils and Crops staff of Purdue University.

Soybeans can be seeded for hay the fore part of May at the rate of 1 to 1½ bushels per acre with a wheat drill and on the average from 2 to 4 tons of hay can be cut during the latter part of August, when the beans are half formed. This hay has a feeding value equal to alfalfa. The cost of seeding soybeans per acre this year will not be more than seeding clover per acre. This will give an opportunity to put some ground into a legume that will give an opportunity to put some ground into a legume that will help to hold the nitrogen supply.

Results of Purdue Experimental work show that wheat planted on soybean stubble ground yields about one-fourth more than if following corn. All corn that is going to be hogged-off should have soybeans planted with it at the rate of from 1 bushel on 8 to 15 acres, or from 1 to 2 beans to the hill of corn, or about 12 to 18 inches apart in the row. Soybeans to supplement corn silage are always good.

Four oil mills are now contracting for soybean seed to press for oil. This will give soybeans a commercial value other than for seed the coming season and one may expect the same number of bushels of soybeans per acre as wheat on the same type of ground and if seeded with a wheat drill, will cost no more per acre to produce, and could afford to be sold near the same price as wheat. Soybeans this year will command the attention of every business farmer in Indiana.

The presence of a small amount of white of egg in Calumet makes it possible to continually guard the leavening strength of the World's biggest selling brand of baking powder. It makes it possible for representatives of the Company to test Calumet right in the dealers' stores.

There is White of Egg
in

Housewives can make this simple test themselves. Place two teaspoons of Calumet in an ordinary drinking glass—add the same amount of water; stir rapidly for a moment—just long enough to mix the powder and water; remove the spoon and watch the mixture rise. Notice how even and uniform the gas bubbles are—through the use of a small amount of white of egg, the escape of gas, which raises your bakings, is prevented.

This test of leavening strength cannot be made with baking powders that do not contain white of egg. Buy it—use it—be protected against baking powder that has lost its proper leavening strength. You save when you buy it—you save when you use it.

On the one hand--

Mrs. Jones is "an old-fashioned shopper." When she hits the buying trail, it becomes a war path. She goes everywhere, sees everything, asks countless questions, and leaves a wake of piled-up counters and worn-out sales folk behind her.

Sometimes she wonders why a tired girl is a little snippy. Often she suspects that merchandise is not shown to her with particular enthusiasm or graciousness. She wonders why somehow shopping days are becoming an ordeal that leaves her limp and worn-out at supper time.

While on the other--

Mrs. Smith is a modern shopper. She makes up her mind what she is going to look at before she leaves the house. She knows just where she is going, how much she wants to pay, and where she'll find the right goods at the right prices.

She sets out long after Mrs. Jones has left her house, and gets back in time for a cup of tea before getting supper. Everybody has a pleasant word for her, and sometimes she feels that her own face wears a perpetual smile. To her shopping is a pleasure.

Now Here's the Difference. Mrs. Jones, being old-fashioned, doesn't realize the value—to her—of advertising. Mrs. Smith does. She makes a practice of reading the advertisements in her newspaper. Sitting at ease in her home, she formulates her shopping program and follows it out. She notes the things that interest her particularly, and plans to cut out waste motion, unnecessary steps and lost time.

Are you Mrs. Jones—or Mrs. Smith? Do you make the advertisements work for you? If not, try it. Read the advertisements carefully and regularly! You'll find the steps, the bother, the trouble they'll save you will make shopping day a holiday.
