

Big Savings For The Thrifty Housewife

Few homes indeed do not feel the need of economy. The necessity of making every penny count touches the purse of every housewife. It is doubtful if there is a single article employed as a food or in the preparation of food that demands more buying wisdom than Baking Powder. Upon its quality depends the success and economy of the bakings themselves.

Calumet Baking Powder enables the housewife to make three worth while savings. She saves when she buys it—it is moderate in price. She saves when she uses it—she uses only half as much as is required of most other powders. She saves materials it is used with—it never permits cake-day failure. Any woman can use Calumet with absolute certainty of best results—delicious, tasty bakings that are pure and wholesome.

True home economy of time, material and effort is completely handled in Reliable Recipes, the 76-page Cook Book and Household Hints. A copy is yours FREE—for the asking. Address Home Economics Dept., Calumet Baking Powder Co., 4100 Fillmore St., Chicago, Ill.—Adv't.

WATCH YOUR "FIVE'S"

Give your $5 bills the once over, particularly those bearing the portrait of an Indian chief, is the advice received by the postmaster, in a circular from the United States treasury department announcing a new counterfeit bill which is in circulation.

According to the circular the bill is well done and is deceptive enough to escape the notice of the ordinary handler of money. The counterfeit is a $5 Indian head silver certificate, series of 1899, bearing the portrait of Chief Oneape, the signature of W. S. Elliott, register of the treasury, and John Burke, treasurer of the U. S.

It is a photo-mechanical production on two pieces of paper. Faint ink lines are used to imitate the silk fiber of genuine bills. The printing of the face is a trifle too dark and the back of the bill of off color. It is slightly larger both in length and width than the genuine.

SERVICES WELL ATTENDED

Govert is a very prepossessing young man of excellent personality and the sermons delivered by him were greatly appreciated and pleasing to all present.

HIRING HELP SOLELY ON REFERENCES PLAN WRONG.

A shining example of the fallacy of employing help solely on the reference plan is presented to employers in a delightful way by Constance Tadmage in her newest picture, "Good References," to be shown at the Crystal theater, Tuesday and Wednesday.

In this picture Constance, as the heroine, takes the part of a poor girl seeking a job without references. She is turned down everywhere until finally she "borrows" the references of a sick friend. The scheme works and she gets a job, and proves quite efficient.

The trouble with many employers, according to Miss Tadmage, is the fact that they themselves pay too little attention to the study of character and too much to looking up past records of achievement.

"Many girls with little or no previous experience would prove excellent workers if they were only given a chance," she said. "But the employers are afraid to try them out. However, times are getting better, and I hope to see all employers gain a broader and more human point of view."

"If a picture such as the one I have just made has any influence toward bettering the condition of deserving girls by calling attention to bad business practices, then I will feel satisfied."

"Knowing that references are sometimes misleading and often fail to do justice to the bearer, wise employers are hiring their assistants on a trial basis. Experiments in many of the country's largest offices have proven this to be the most satisfactory and economical method of maintaining an efficient staff."
