

William found a pocketbook But the string jerked it back

It looked like a happy discovery as it lay there on the sidewalk—until the discoverer reached to pick it up. Then the hidden string jerked it away. All William got was disappointment.

That's the way a good many people have found it to be with the comfort and cheer they thought they had secured in tea and coffee. When they came to depend on it—there was a hidden string, and nothing left but disappointment.

The drug, caffeine, in tea and coffee, is a nerve stimulant. Constant stimulation of the nerves often produces rebellion that takes the form of sleeplessness, headaches, irritability, high blood pressure. That's the string to tea and coffee.

Postum, that wholesome and delightful cereal beverage, is completely satisfying and there's no harmful quality whatsoever, to jerk away the comfort which you find in this splendid table drink. Any member of the family may enjoy Postum with any meal—and there will be no after-regrets.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes. Sold by grocers.

SULPHUR CLEARS A PIMPLY SKIN

APPLY SULPHUR AS TOLD WHEN YOUR SKIN BREAKS OUT

Any breaking out of the skin on face, neck, arms or body is overcome quickest by applying Menthosulphur. The pimples seem to dry right up and go away, declares a noted skin specialist.

Nothing has ever been found to take the place of sulphur as a pimple remover. It is harmless and inexpensive. Just ask any druggist for a small jar of Menthosulphur and use it like cold cream.

BETTY COMPTON AT MECCA

Betty Compton, who meteoric rise to stardom was the result of her remarkable portrayal of the role of the girl in the George Loane Tucker production of "The Miracle Man," makes her initial stellar appearance in "Prisoners of Love," which will be presented at the Mecca Theater tomorrow.

The story is taken from one of the works of Catherine Henry, and contains innumerable tense dramatic situations which give Miss Compton the fullest opportunity to display her remarkable versatility.

As Blanche Davis, Miss Compton portrays the role of a girl born of wealthy and cultured parents, and cursed through inheritance with a dangerous degree of physical attractiveness. Discovering her father buying the silence of an adventuress who has become part of his life, Blanche leaves home and disdains even the use of her father's name. She flees to San Francisco, where she obtains employment in the law offices of Martin Blair and James Randolph. The latter seeks to marry her, but his mother, an invalid since his birth, selfishly compels her to promise that she will not take her son from her until after her death.

Death's swift intervention fails to solve the riddle of "Prisoners of Love," and the best work of many present dramatists seems childish compared with the magnificent gesture with which the picture ends.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

Grandma Kept Her Locks Dark, Glossy and Youthful With Simple Mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grand-mother's recipe, and follows are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

DON'T DISREGARD A COLD
Foley's Honey and Tar will check a cold if taken in time, and will also stop a cough of long standing. It promptly gives relief, soothes and heals. Mrs. Geneva Robinson, 88 N. Swan St., Albany, N. Y., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar is the best cough medicine I ever used. Two bottles broke a most stubborn lingering cough." It loosens phlegm and mucus, eases hoarseness, stops tickling throat, helps "flu" and grip coughs.

HERE IS HOW CORN SHOW CHAMPION GREW HIS CROP

By County Agent.

Some points worth thinking about in corn growing were brought out recently by R. L. Heilman, of Hope whose ten ear sample of corn took sweepstakes honors in the state corn show held in January at Purdue University. Mr. Heilman uses good methods in corn production and gets good yields which shows that show type corn is high yielding. He won a bronze medal given by the Indiana Corn Growers' Association in the five-ear corn growing contest for a yield of 78.5 bushels to the acre.

"I have been trying to improve the quality and quantity each year by selection and testing of seed," said Mr. Heilman. "The reason I find that testing is necessary each year is because with the modern method of testing, all ears that show disease and low germination can be discarded before planting time."

The soil on which he grew the grand sweepstakes ears last year was level, black bottom-land, tile drained. The previous crops were, 1920, Alsike clover; 1919, wheat; 1918, oats and wheat; 1917, corn.

The ground was plowed during the winter and early spring and worked into ideal condition the latter part of April. It was planted May 5, 6 and 7, with about 80 pounds of 2-8-2 fertilizer per acre. The rows were 36 inches apart and it was drilled 18 inches in the row. The corn was cultivated four times, a severe wind storm blowing the corn down and preventing further cultivation. Owing to this wind storm, and the dry, hot weather, the yield which would have been much higher was cut to 78.5.

During the first two weeks in November, the corn was husked and the seed corn picked as the wagon went through the field. Mr. Heilman attributes his success as a corn grower to selection of seed in the fall from standing stalk and then through testing of his seed every spring.

MOTHERS AND DAUGHTERS

Read This Letter from Mrs. W. S. Hughes

Greenville, Del.—"I was under the impression that my eldest daughter had some internal trouble as ever since the first time her sickness appeared she had to go to bed and even had to quit school once for a week. I always take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound myself so I gave it to her and she has received great benefit from it. You can use this letter for a testimonial if you wish, as I cannot say too much about what your medicine has done for me and for my daughter."—Mrs. Wm. S. HUGHES, Greenville, Delaware.

Mother and oftentimes grandmothers have taken and have learned the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. So they recommend the medicine to others.

The best test of any medicine is what it has done for others. For nearly fifty years we have published letters from mothers, daughters, and women, young and old, recommending the Vegetable Compound. They know what it did for them and are glad to tell others. In your own neighborhood are women who know of its great value.

Mother—daughters, why not try it?

HELPED HER MOTHER

WONDERFULLY
In these days of "flu," coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough, it is well to know that every year there are used more bottles of Foley's Honey and Tar than of any other cough medicine. Mrs. S. L. Hunt, 515 W. 6th St., Cincinnati, Ohio, writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar relieved me of a hacking cough, tickling in the throat, wheezing and pains in the chest. It is helping my mother wonderfully." That's why druggists recommend Foley's.

WE ARE PREPARED

In anticipation of a possible coal strike, we began months ago to buy large reserve stocks of oil, gas coal, steam coal and coke. These materials are now stored in our yards, to make reasonably sure that your gas supply will not be cut off. All of this means added expense to us in storing, teaming and rehandling, but it is a part of our service.

GAS THE SOLE RELIANCE

Gas fuel, which at all times is best and most economical for household work, is practically the sole reliance for fuel with which to cook the daily food and obtain hot water in such an emergency as a coal strike.

While appreciating this great insurance against suffering and hardship in the home, would it not be well for you to come in and inspect the new Gas Ranges and the various types of Gas Water Heaters? Easy term payments, if desired.

All gas appliances sold by us are guaranteed as to durability, service and lowest possible gas consumption.
