Benefit Certificate of the Yeoman Lodge Explained

The Brotherhood will also pay a funeral benefit of $100 on a $1,000 policy, but such benefit is to be accepted by the beneficiary as part payment of the death benefit. After a policy has been in force for two years or more, and upon satisfactory proof that the holder has become totally and permanently physically disabled through accident or disease, the Brotherhood will pay $500 or the cash withdrawal value of the certificate. Such payment shall be in full settlement of the policy. Benefits are paid by the Brotherhood for partial disability.

Payments on the certificates may be made annually, semi-annually, quarterly or monthly. The sum of ten cents is paid monthly for the Children's Home Fund. This fund provides for the rearing of orphans of Yeomen in a home as nearly like a private home as is possible.

The following limitations are placed on the benefit certificates of the Brotherhood: Should the member named in the certificate be expelled from the Association, or engage in any occupation prohibited by the By-laws thereof, or become intemperate in the use of intoxicating liquors, or become addicted to the use of any drug or narcotic, or die by his own hand within one year from the date of the delivery of the certificate, or die by the hand of the beneficiary named in the certificate, or in consequence of violation of the law, or be convicted of a felony, or attempt suicide, or if the application for beneficial membership or any part thereof shall be found to be untrue, then in that case the certificate shall immediately cease and determine and be of no effect, but the Association will pay to the member named in the certificate or to his administrator or executor the then cash withdrawal value of the certificate.

The premiums on a certificate for $1,000 for a person 35 years of age, are as follows: annually $20.85; semi-annually, $10.83; quarterly, $5.47; monthly, $1.93.

Nation Feels Weight of Its Industrial Crisis

three trains on the Norfolk Southern in North Carolina were taken off today, while the fuel supply of the Washash railroad in Missouri is only sufficient for 20 days, the department announced.

Serious delay in rail transportation between DeLeon and Cross Plains, Texas, because U. S. Marshals refuse to protect strike breakers on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas was charged by General Manager Whitenton in a message to the department.

"We will have no train service between DeLeon and Cross Plains until we get protection for men working at DeLeon," Whitenton said.

Richmond, Va., July 20.—(Special to Daily Democrat)—Several hundred Chesapeake and Ohio clerks walked out here at 10 o'clock this morning. Hundreds of striking shopmen greeted them and all marched together to the city auditorium where a joint mass meeting will be held. The company employs 800 men in the local offices.

Daily Democrat)—Between 300 and 400 cars of coal are tied up with hot boxes on side tracks of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad between Sullivan and Evansville, unable to move because of the railroad strike, Jeff Davis, king of hoboes said here today.

Davis just returned from a trip through Southern Indiana where he addressed striking coal miners and railroad workers.

Augusta, Ga., July 20.—(Special to Daily Democrat)—Six men were arrested here today charged with delaying the mail trains.

The men were taken by police following disturbances at the Union Station when rail workers were attacked and two trains carrying mail were delayed.

The Union Station has been closed to all persons except workers and passengers with tickets because of fear of further violence.

Chicago, July 20.—(Special to Daily Democrat)—Hope of ending the rail strike was abandoned today.

Chairman Ben W. Hooper of the railroad labor board declared a settlement was "impossible"; rail executives said "It is a fight to the finish"; union leaders were silent.

Conferences held daily for the last three weeks with a view to bringing a settlement of differences have been abandoned.

The latest peace failure came at a time when it was believed strikers and railroads were on the verge of reaching an agreement.

Satisfactory compromises had been reached on all questions on which the shopmen and others voted to strike.

The stumbling block intruded itself when railroads refused to allow the strikers to return to work with full seniority rights.

Railroad executives claimed return of seniority rights to the strikers would be unfair to hundreds of loyal employees who refused to walk-out and to thousands of newly employed men.

Union leaders would listen to no peace plan which did not guarantee the standing of their men.

Added to the strike peril was the menace of diminishing coal supplies.

Scores of trains have been discontinued. Others are running anywhere from a few minutes to several hours late. Business houses report that freight shipments which before the strike took four or five days now take eight to ten days.

Plans were being completed to organize a "dry land" fleet. Thousands of motor trucks have been listed and will be rushed into service if further curtailment of train service result. Airplanes will carry the mails.

The Difference In Advertising Is The Difference In Men

Of itself, advertising is little. And the differences in it are the differences which exist in men.

Just as some men are strong and virile and interesting, so is some advertising. And just as some men are ineffectual and weak and boring, so is some other advertising.

"Does it pay to advertise?" It pays those men who are keen enough students of the public to make it pay them. It pays those men who are truthful, sincere, interesting and believable.

It pays the men whose product deserves the payment, whose brains are keen enough to organize for success and judge enough of the human mind to know how to tell their story with sincerity and interest.

So when you judge advertising, judge it by how it is used and by whom—not of itself and of itself alone.

Remember, an ugly man looks just as ugly in a mirror.
