

Adolph Hart of Montpelier, Indiana is here today visiting friends and will remain for the opening day of the big fair for which he is a real booster

It's toasted. This one extra process gives a delightful quality that can not be duplicated

Ashbaucher's

FURNACES
LIGHTNING RODS
SPOUTING
SLATE ROOFING

PHONE 765 or 739

THE CRYSTAL

TONIGHT
"JACKIE"

A big William Fox production featuring the famous little star,

Shirley Mason

The story of a dainty little Russian waif who danced her way into the heart of a real man. She grieved at the thought she would never see this wonderful man, but fate stepped in.

Added Attraction:

The fourteenth episode of the serial,

"Breaking Through"

Admission 10c and 15c

NIAGARA FALLS EXCURSION

Round Trip Fare—$13.10

Delightful—Instructive—Economical
Full length of Lake Erie Boat Trip
COOL—CLEAN

August 8th, 15 day excursion

Final excursion August 22nd

For reservations and complete information ask local Agent or address

J. A. GREENLAND, G. P. A., Fort Wayne, Indiana

INDIANA SERVICE CORPORATION

The CRYSTAL

TUESDAY WEDNESDAY

THOMAS JEFFERSON
"RIP VAN WINKLE"

A WARD LASCELLE PRODUCTION
Released by HODKINSON thru PATHE Exchange Inc

Added Attraction—"Out for the Night"
A two reel Christie comedy. Fun galore.
Admission 10-25 cents.

MONROE NEWS

Mrs. Ollie Heller and daughter, Miss Mildred will leave here next Wednesday for an extended visit with relatives and friends in Jackson and Detroit, Mich.

S. V. Johnson of Farmland, was the guest of his father, Mr. J. P. Johnson, Wednesday.

Mrs. James Kessler left Wednesday for Hamilton, Ind., where she will visit her son, Prof. Orvil Kessler and family for several days.

Mrs. Ruth Liby of Hudson, Ind., is visiting friends here this week.

Miss Elda Sprunger of Berne, a former teacher in our school, was the guest of friends here Wednesday.

Mr. Lem Merryman, employed for some time at the Enterprise Store at this place, moved his family to Decatur, on Thursday, where they will make their future home. Mr. Merryman has accepted a position with the Diamond Oil Co., and will drive the oil truck, with headquarters in Decatur.

Ollie Heller, the town blacksmith, will take a two half-day vacation next Wednesday and Thursday afternoon, and the shop will be closed, owing to his attending the Great Northern Indiana Fair on these days.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Smith and sons, C. R. and George, who left here three weeks ago on an overland trip in their Ford touring car for Marshfield, Vermont, and Maine, arrived home Thursday evening. They report having a successful as well as an enjoyable time visiting at Mr. Smith's old home Mrs. Louise Sanborn, a sister of the former, accompanied them here to make an extended visit.

FT. WAYNE & DECATUR TRACTION LINE

Leaves Decatur	Leaves Ft. Wayne
5:45 a. m.	7:00 a. m.
8:00 a. m.	9:00 a. m.
10:00 a. m.	11:00 a. m.
12:00 p. m.	1:00 p. m.
2:00 p. m.	3:00 p. m.
4:00 p. m.	5:30 p. m.
7:00 p. m.	9:00 p. m.
10:00 p. m.	11:05 p. m.

Car running every hour.

Freight car leaves Decatur, 6:45
Arrives at Fort Wayne, 8:30
Arrives at Decatur, 1:00

P. C. RAYMONDS, Agt.

The Inter-denominational tent meeting began at this place Thursday evening. Evangelist Rev. Harry Hays of Alliance, Ohio, conducting the meeting, which will continue for ten days from July 27, to Aug. 6, Prof. and Mrs. C. D. Jester of Indianapolis, are the evangelistic singers who will lead the singing during the meeting. All are cordially invited to attend these meetings in the large tent erected on the Henry Haggard lot just south of the school house.

Mr. L. L. Lobenstein of Van Wert, Ohio, arrived here Thursday to visit relatives for several days.

Mr. C. W. Hendricks returned Wednesday evening from Chicago, where he attended a six weeks course at the Chicago University.

Social Given By Monroe School Orchestra Was Fine Success

Monroe, July 29.—The ice cream social given for the benefit of the Monroe school orchestra on Thursday night was a complete success, both financially and social. A large crowd was present and everyone was highly entertained throughout the evening. The supplies were exhausted by nine o'clock, but still the crowd remained. The large crowd was entertained by numerous selections rendered by the orchestra and the members were at their best. Those present were well paid for the time and money spent. Prof. Bliss, the instructor, deserves much praise and credit for his efforts in bringing out such a musical organization in such remarkable short time of practice. The members of this orchestra are composed from every branch and grade of the Monroe schools, who have developed into real musicians and become proficient in their parts. They play many difficult and up-to-date selections and will in a very short time reach out further in their musical line. The numbers rendered Thursday night were beautiful and were well received, which was evidenced by the loud applause given them.

The members of the orchestra desire to extend their most sincere thanks for the liberal patronage accorded them, for the assistance rendered, and especially to the ladies who furnished the cake on this occasion. This was the first entertainment and social given by the school orchestra, and it is hoped that a repetition of the same will again take place before the social season closes.

REFORMATORY SUPERINTENDENT ADVISES FATHERS TO BE BUDDIES TO THEIR SONS

Indianapolis, July 28.—If dads would be buddies with their sons, the state penal institutions would become gradually vacant in the opinion of G. A. J. Shideler, superintendent of the state reformatory.

"If modern fathers would spend less time chasing the almighty dollar and more in companionship with their sons, the reform school and penitentiaries would not be half so crowded," he said.

Shideler's advice to fathers of Indiana was:

"Be a pal to your son and you will not need to have fear for his future."

Kleinknight-Kunkle Family Reunion to Be Held on August 31st

The annual reunion of the Kleinknight-Kunkle family will be held at Washington Park in Fort Wayne, on Thursday, August 31. A program of entertainment for the occasion has been outlined by a committee in charge of the reunion. Charles Kleinknight is president of the family organization, and John Kunkle is vice-president. The program for the reunion consists of the following numbers: opening songs; invocation; address by W. A. High; three songs by the Poe quartet; piano duet by Mr. and Mrs. William Grimm; song by Pauline Arnold; address by John Kleinknight; song by the Hubner sisters; address by John O. Kunkle; piano solo by Erna Sommers; song by Ruby May Arnold; and recitations by Homer Kleinknight; Dorcas Kleinknight; Ardola Smith; Eva Kleinknight; Mary Kunkle; Catherine Thomas; Norman Kunkle; Robert Sonder; Jean Hammond; Max Sherry; Ruth Ellen Kerschner; Mrs. Rosenberger; Janet Souder; Mary Ann Kunkle; Joe J. Fudge; Freida Kleinknight; Dortha Waugh; Helen Osborne; Elizabeth Johnson; and Alice Shimer. A dinner will be served promptly at 11:30 a. m.

Watermelon, ice cream and sandwiches will be served at the Psi-Phi prize stand during the fair.

APPOINTMENT OF EXECUTOR
Notice is hereby given, That the undersigned has been appointed executor of the estate of Frederick Busick, late of Adams county, deceased. The estate is probably solvent.
EDWARD BUSICK, Executor
July 29, 1922.
Merryman & Sutton, Attys. 31-7-14

DOINGS IN SOCIETY

CLUB CALENDAR

The Delta Theta Tau sorority held initiation for a number of candidates yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Florence Holthouse, on West Madison street. Following the initiation a cafeteria lunch was served. Those initiated were Mrs. Chalmers Schaefer, Mrs. Louis Holthouse, Mrs. Earl Coverdale, Mrs. Clayton Carroll, Mrs. Germaine Christen and Miss Margaret Moran. Mrs. H. T. Vall was to have been initiated also, but was detained for a few hours on a motor trip and failed to reach the city until too late for the initiation. She will be initiated in the near future.

Mrs. J. A. Bright, of North Third street, enjoyed the happiest birthday anniversary of her life yesterday when she was entertained at her mother's beautiful country home by a large number of her friends. Mrs. Bright was taken to her mother's home by her husband and when they arrived there they found many of her friends already there with well-filled baskets. A fine dinner was served on the lawn. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Beery and family, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Bright, of Peterson; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bright and family of Huntington; Rev. and Mrs. J. F. Bright of Roanoke; John Parish and family, of Willshire; N. U. Abbott and son of Craigville; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cloud and family of Decatur; Miss Mayme Cloud; Mrs. Letta Peters and daughter, Doris; Mrs. Clint Cloud; and Miss Mary Yost, of Decatur.

THIEVES BROKE INTO RESIDENCE

Home of H. D. Wyant on Belmont Park Road Entered Last Night

Thieves broke into the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Wyant on the Belmont Park road last night but it is not thought any articles were taken before the intruders were frightened away.

The Wyant family is moving from Seventh street into the house located on the point where the paved road and the gravel road separate a short distance east of the river bridge, and did not have all of the household goods moved into the house yet. The family stayed at the old home on Seventh street last night but Mr. Wyant stopped at the house on the Belmont road about 10 o'clock last night after a visit at the fair ground. When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

When the lights from his automobile flashed on the house, Mr. Wyant noticed a man running from the house, and the rear door, which had been locked, was open. Mr. Wyant hurried into the city and returned to the house with Mat Breiner, night policeman, and a few other men. When they entered the house no trace of the thieves could be found. Owing to the fact that the family was in the act of moving, it is difficult to determine whether or not any articles were taken.

CLASSIFIED ADS

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—A few second hand coal ranges.—Gas Office. 86tf

FOR SALE—One 12-HP Buick Traction engine. Good condition and a bargain. Decatur Foundry & Machine Co. 159-4f.

FOR SALE—West Virginia Block Threshing Coal. Adams Co. Equity Exchange. 163-4f.

FOR SALE—3 ton trailer, $55.00; 1 half-ton trailer, $20.00; Ford touring car, $85.00; Ford runabout, $85.00; Ford 1-ton truck $115.00. W. D. Cross, Geneva, Ind. 16812

FOR SALE—Indiana wood stove silo. T. A. Gottschalk, Berne, Indiana. 174-6fx.

FOR SALE—Typewriter and typewriter desk. Dan Erwin, 155 S. 2nd St. 17713

FOR SALE—Maxwell touring car; Oakland touring car; Ford touring car. McKinnie Motor Sales Co., First street, Decatur, Indiana. 178-3t.

FOR SALE—Dodge touring car. Excellent condition. Cheap. McKinnie Motor Sales Co., First street. 178-3t.

FOR SALE—Household furniture. Leaving town. 3-piece mahogany suite, practically new. Refrigerator, good bed davenport, Favey side board and other household articles. Apply Jacob Atz, 511 N. 2nd St. 179-3t

WANTED

WANTED—Young men over 16 years of age to learn core making. Steady employment. Decatur Castings Co. 17715

For Rent

FOR RENT—Good house on Madison street, 3 blocks from court house. Occupancy at once. Call phone 43. 17218x

FOR RENT—3 unfurnished rooms. Inquire at 115 So. First street. 179-3t.

FOR RENT—Four room house on Russell street. In good condition. See J. Fred Fruchte. 179-4f.

LOST AND FOUND

FOUND—Key in Anker Cigar Store. Owner may have same by calling at this office and paying for ad. 178-3t.

LOST—Plaid silk umbrella at Chattanooga Monday afternoon. Finder please return to this office. 178-3t