FORMER EDITOR OF DECATUR JOURNAL IS VISITING IN CITY

W. E. Ashcraft, former editor of the Decatur Journal and his son, Wendall, were here yesterday visiting old friends and enjoying the fair. Mr. Ashcraft left here 29 years ago and has been engaged in educational work most of the time since and is now in the real estate business with headquarters at Fostoria, Ohio. He will be remembered by the older citizens here and during the two years he edited the Journal built a reputation as one of the snappiest newspaper men in the state. The editor of the Democrat began his newspaper career in Mr. Ashcraft's office and still remembers many pointers given at that time.

Rev. B. N. Covert left today for a month's vacation at Ft. Madison, Ohio, and Mt. Vernon, where they will visit their relatives.

Harding is not inclined to take decisive action, such as taking over railroads that fail to function, until every other medium has been exhausted. But whenever he believes the public interest is menaced, he will not hesitate to take that step, he has made it known. He has full constitutional power to secure relationships for all railroads that fail to function, his advisors assured him.

MR. AND MRS. O. L. VANCE AND DAUGHTER LEAVE ON TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Vance and daughter Lee Anna left at noon today in their automobile for Canada and the east where they will enjoy a three week's tour over the hills and mountain roads in that beautiful part of the country.

They have their automobile equipped with a bed and will sleep in their car along the roadside during the greater part of their trip, except when they are in New York City, Montreal, Canada and Boston, Mass.

Leaving here they headed for Montreal, Canada where they will spend about a week and will start back on the homeward trip travelling through the states of New York, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and several others. A year ago the Vances made a four week's trip through the east and this year they will visit those places of interest not seen last year.

Metered Service

Because there is no meter on the coal pile, you do not know the cost of using it. If you could meter the coal as you cooked, heated water or ironed, and compare the cost with that of gas fuel, you would be surprised at the difference. Gas is the most economical fuel for domestic purposes.

Hot Water Service for All Seasons

Gas hot water service is all-year insurance of a plentiful supply of piping hot water for all household needs at the turn of a faucet.

The cut shows a Storage Gas Water Heater. A tankful of hot water always ready. No work. No dirt. Little expense. Automatic. See it demonstrated at our showroom, or ask us to send a representative.
