LABOR EXPECTS

least a partial settlement of the railroad shopmen's strike had been reached here on every hand today.

The rumors grew out of the mysterious disappearance of Bert M. Jewell, president of the shop crafts, who has been dodging process servers since the issuance of the "Daugherty injunction."

The reports stated that Jewell had been in conference with several railroad executives in the east and that a compromise agreement was reached. It was also stated that Jewell was to return here today to attend a meeting of the shopmen's policy committee tomorrow.

"I do not believe that Jewell will return for several days," John Scott, secretary and official spokesman of the shopmen declared.

"There is no truth in the report that a call for the council of chairmen has been called. No call has been sent from this office."

"Jewell could not effect a settlement alone and I know nothing of any peace move."

A. O. Wharton, labor member of the railroad labor board, who has been closely allied with Jewell in all peace efforts also discounted the reports.

"I think I would be likely to hear of any general peace move. I have no such information," he stated.

Jewell yesterday in an article in the shopmen's bulletin defied the railroads.

"Despite your threats, your cunning and your scheming you are licked," he declared in part.

Mrs. Keach Tells How She Got to Know Rat-Snap

"Have always feared rats. Lately noticed many on my farm. A neighbor said he just got rid of droves with RAT-SNAP. This started me thinking. Tried RAT-SNAP myself. It killed 17 and scared the rest away. RAT-SNAP comes in three sizes."

LIKE CLOUDS ACROSS A SUMMER SKY

foretelling the dreaded storm are the symptoms of women's diseases which point the way to physical and mental breakdown. The nervous irritability, the backache, the dragging pains, are not only hard to endure, but they bring certain knowledge of collapse unless something is done to relieve the sufferer. There is one standard remedy which has shown the way out for nearly fifty years. The women who have "come back" through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound present an argument stronger than words could ever be.
