MONROE NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. William Counts of Shelby county, Ohio; Mr. John Baker and daughters Bessie and Blanche, of Logan county, Ohio, arrived here Friday for a week-end visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Corson, west of town.

Mr. Gregg Oliver, who has been employed at the Maxwell automobile Works at New Castle, for some time resigned his position, and after an over-Sunday visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Oliver, accepted a position at the General Electric works in Decatur, Monday morning.

Linn Shirk began work at the General Electric works at Decatur, Monday.

Mrs. Clyde Graham has been quite ill during the past week. She is reported as slowly recovering.

Mr. C. W. Hendricks was a business visitor in Fort Wayne, Friday and Saturday.

Mr. Jesse Michaud of Berne, was here Monday on business.

Joe Johnson says he does not want to commit murder, but if the party persists in visiting his hen roost he might cause the intruder the trouble of having to extricate a load of buck shot from his anatomy, if worse results will follow. Joe informs us that the night visits to his hen coop have become too frequent.

The Malloon Bros. dog and pony show passed through town Friday en route to the Bluffton street fair.

Mohroe had a mad dog scare Friday when the small dog belonging to Floyd Brandyberry became mad and running into the Berne Lumber Co. office growling and snarling and stirring things up in general about the place. Manager Adolph Sprunger soon quitted the canine by a bullet after which he was cremated in the tile mill crematory, which ended the excitement in the south part of town.

Many of our people will attend the street fair held at Bluffton this week.

The Sunday School Rally held at Monroe Sunday, was a largely attended at the M. E. church.

A number of friends attended the funeral of Mrs. Will Archbold, held at Decatur, Sunday afternoon.

GERMAN WATERS NOW CLEARED OF MINES

Berlin—The work of clearing the German seas of dangerous mines, planted during the World War, has been successfully completed without the loss of a single life.

German mariners, ending their three and a half-year task, today announced that the 47,000 English mines, the 10,000 German mines and the hundreds of Russian mines planted in the North and Baltic seas have been taken from their watery beds and that the seas are free again.

In February, 1919, German sailors began their hazardous work. Their first effort was to clear a lane where ships from Northern European ports, Kiel, Hamburg and Dantzig, could safely ply.

Nineteen girl friends of Miss Lydia Gunsett, were entertained at her home on North Seventh street last night, when Miss Gunsett celebrated twenty-fourth birthday. The house was attractively decorated in colors of gold and white. The color scheme was carried out in the lunch which was served during the evening. Gold and white ice cream hearts with little cupids on top were served. Favors of paper caps and a little toy were given to each guest. Miss Gladys Gardner found in her favor, the following announcement: "Lydia and Mart, October 15." The announcement of the coming wedding was a pleasant surprise to the guests and they showered her with congratulations. The groom to be, Mr. Martin Kiess, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kiess, of Preble township. The wedding will occur in the Lutheran church in this city. Miss Marie Shuman of Fort Wayne, was an out-of-town guest at the party.

Sunday was picnic day for the "Hello" girls. They hitched old "Charlie" to a spring wagon and started out laughing and singing with baskets loaded with good eats. After jogging along in this fashion for a few hours they came to a very pretty grove and all jumped out and preceded to make themselves at home. Games were played and then supper was announced, and what a meal it was, fit for a prince, any day. Later in the evening they returned to

A SWEET LITTLE BABY BOY

Makes a Bright Spot in Every Home. A Comfort in Years to Come

Park Rapids, Minnesota.—"I have taken your medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—when I was a girl for pains and before and after my marriage. I now have a sweet little baby boy and will send you his picture if you wish to publish it. My sisters also take your medicine and find it a great help, and I recommend it to those who suffer before their babies are born."

Mrs. Wm. JOHNSON, Box 156, Park Rapids, Minn.

To marry and arrive at middle age without children is a great disappointment to many women. Think of the joy and comfort other women have in their children as they grow older.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped to bring great happiness to many families by restoring women to health. Often the childless home is due to a run down condition of the wife, which may be helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It brought health and happiness into the home of Mrs. Johnson. Why not to yours?

Big Results Expected Of Pat Herron At I. U.

Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 26.—(Special to Daily Democrat)—After watching Pat Herron, new head coach of the Indiana University football team during the absence of Jumbo Stroh, for one week, students, alumni and followers generally of the Indiana team have made up their minds that Herron will show the Big Ten-Western Conference something worth while in football, when his team meets Minnesota, October 14, at Indianapolis.

Pat is a fighting Irishman, young, aggressive and acquainted with both the eastern and western styles of football. He is expected to carry into the west the Glen Warner style of football, which he learned at Pittsburgh University both as player and as first assistant coach to the famous Warner.

The Warner style is a combination of eastern and western football and great stress is placed on "football brains." His teams always have been great defensive machines, not only in the line but in the back field. Hard tackling is a feature of his tactics. His teams usually have been of the forty type, quick to size up the opposing team's attacks and quick to realize weakness in the opponent's defense.

The Indiana team last year was rated by Harvard coaches as the hardest tackling team which had played Harvard in many years. That Pat Herron intends to make the Cream and Crimson live up to their reputation this year is indicated from the strenuous drill he is giving his men in the technique of tackling and in charging through the air at the dummies. Fundamental training and a sizing up of players, with the learning of three or four elementary plays, has occupied most of the time of the sixty candidates on Jordan Field so far. The first scrimmage was held last Saturday. Only three weeks remain before Herron's first conference game. He will begin the preliminary practice for this contest at once and will be assisted by two new coaches, Leslie Mann, and Kenneth W. Brewer, both former football stars and college coaches.

Outer Beauty—Inner Strength

Beneath the beauty of a skyscraper stands a skeleton of steel—hidden, yet holding the great structure together for all time.

Under the weatherproof surface of Flex-a-Tile Giant Shingles lies a base of genuine Richardson felt—hidden, yet giving tensile strength without which surface beauty cannot last.

The best obtainable materials, and all the skill of more than 50 years' experience are built into every piece of Richardson felt. Scientific manufacture is primarily responsible for the long life of Flex-a-Tile Roofing.

This superfine felt is first thoroughly saturated with natural asphalt; then asphalt-coated on both sides. That is why Giant Shingle roofs offer perfect resistance to heat, cold or moisture from above or beneath.

FLEX-A-TILE HOUSE TOPS

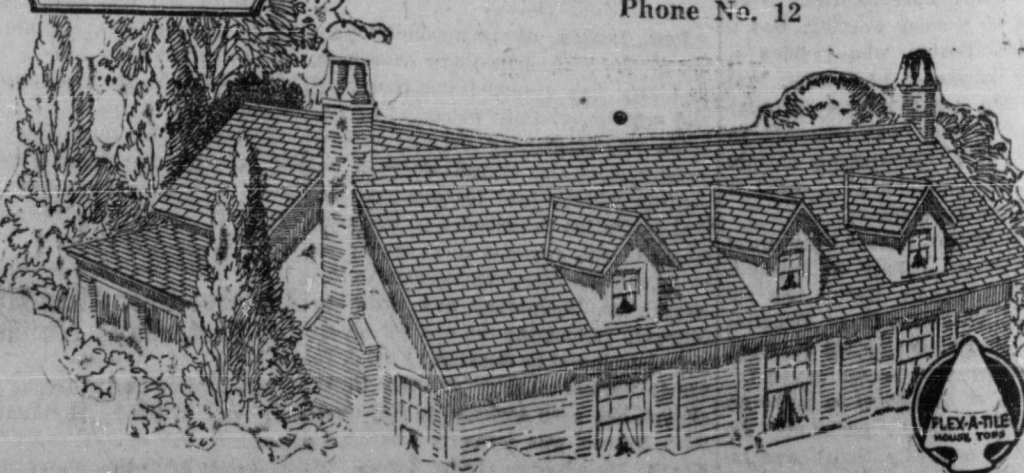

Outer beauty is added to this inner strength by a layer of genuine slate from our quarries at Flex-a-Tile, Georgia. The rich, natural green of this special slate blends beautifully with any surroundings and any type or architecture. It cannot be imitated, because nature produced it and age has mellowed it.

Flex-a-Tile Giants give to a roof, whether new or old, an appearance of strength and permanence that adds to the beauty of the entire house. And they are better adapted for laying right over the old roof covering than any other type of asphalt shingles.
