Fred Bell and Family to Move to Ft. Wayne

Fred D. Bell and family, formerly of this city, are planning to move about November 1 from Bluffton to their new home at Fort Wayne. A deal was announced today by which Mr. Bell sold his Bluffton residence, one of the best and most beautiful homes in the city, to Mr. Lloyd Cline, and at the same time Mr. Bell announced that he purchased Tuesday a new home in the city of Fort Wayne. He bought a handsome modern home, situated on Kinniard avenue, two blocks west of Fairfield avenue, from Wade G. Bailey, who has been located in that city as general sales agent for the Bower company, and is to leave Fort Wayne.

Mr. Bell also announced that he has taken a long lease on a double room, with a total front footage of forty feet, with a basement and four floors, at 122 and 124 West Columbia street, next to the Fisher Brothers, and the double building is now being remodeled for occupancy by the Fred D. Bell company. The company will occupy the entire building and will be ready for business about December 1, and will carry a fine line of dry goods, novelties and fancy articles.

The farm population of the United States is 31,614,269, or 29.9 per cent. Hallstones large enough to burst watermelons wide open fell in the Piedmont section of North Carolina recently.

HOG ISLAND SHIPYARDS RAPIDLY DEMOBILIZED

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 7.—Hog Island, the great shipyard where the government spent some $270,000,000, is today almost demobilized.

Where once an army of 36,000 men labored frantically to build ships and more ships, wrecking crews are now at work with acetylene torches and other instruments of destruction.

The government decided to dispose of the great shipyard piecemeal after attempt to dispose of it as an entity had evoked only very low bids. Nearly every day auction sales are held to dispose of things ranging from household furniture to steel in 100,000 ton lots. It is estimated that some $25,000,000 will be realized on steel and equipment by the time the sale closes in December.

But the 946 acres of Hog Island which were swamp before the war will not be useless, for government engineers have made it habitable. It is expected that some large factory will be erected there after the shipyards have been removed, as it is ideally located for such purposes.

Indiana Opens Season Against DePauw Today

Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 7.—Opening the 1922 gridiron season, Indiana University's fast developing eleven meets DePauw here today in a game which will give football followers an opportunity to figure out Indiana's chances in the Big Ten Western conference this year, and particularly the showing which the Hoosiers will make against Minnesota at Indianapolis a week from today.

Coach Pat Herron, after seeing DePauw wallop Millikan last Saturday to the tune of 39 to 0, has had his regulars diagnosing and breaking up DePauw plays this week, as carried out by the third and fourth elevens and by the freshmen team.

Herron will probably start the game with Captain Hanny and Wichterman at the end positions; Clay and France, tackles; Butler and Mumby, guards; Lohrei, center; Wilkins, quarterback; Raymond and Thomas, halfbacks, and Harris at fullback. Unless the state university team should meet unexpected opposition from the Old Gold and Black, probably nearly every one of the fifty men on the Cream and Crimson varsity squad will be given a trial during the game.

To Give Proceeds From Tie Game to Charity

New York, October 7.—(Special)—Intense feeling aroused against the club owners and baseball in general because the second game of the series was called Thursday in the tenth inning on account of darkness cooled over night when it became known the Giant and Yankee club owners had decided to turn over the entire receipts to charity.

The total receipts of the game were $120,554 and Col. T. H. Huston, part owner of the Yankees, said he would see to it that the money went to disabled soldiers.

The demonstration of thousands of fans, directed particularly at Commissioner K. M. Landis, because he was the only official in sight, was unparalleled in baseball history and the mob needed but one stroke of leadership to do something serious.

The commissioner realized that something had to be done if the world's series, or the game itself is to survive and in conference with the club owners the Yankees suggested the entire receipts be turned over to charity.

Nimrods to Gather at Edinburg for Fox Hunt

Edinburg, Ind., Oct. 7.—Nimrods with their hound dogs gather here Monday for the annual meeting of the Fox Hunters of Indiana.

According to some of the fox hunters here that are preparing for the meeting today, the finest hounds in the state will be brought here to run down the fox which abound in this territory.

The convention will remain in session until next Saturday, Oct. 14.

Races, dog shows and dog races will be some of the features of the entertainment.

BONUS FOR G. E. EMPLOYEES

Officials of the General Electric company made a study recently of the five per cent supplementary compensation bonds issued to the employees for the length of their service and found that it tends greatly toward the savings of the employees.

Each employee receiving compensation of $4,000 or less a year after five or more years of continuous service after January 1, or July 1, each year, will be given five per cent supplementary compensation bonds semi-annually in cash securities which will be redeemable upon presentation by the employee.

Hoosier College Teams Have Games Saturday

Indianapolis, Oct. 6.—(United Press)—Ten of the eleven Hoosier college football teams in Indiana will be busy Saturday, Oct. 7. Some will play other teams from this state while others are meeting the college elevens from other states.

The two most important games are played by the two universities which are members of the Big Ten Western conference. These two are Indiana and Purdue. Indiana meets DePauw University at Bloomington, while Purdue is scheduled to play James Millikin at Lafayette. It is the first game for both Indiana and Purdue. Both are meeting strong opponents.

DePauw may surprise Indiana. Reports from Bloomington are that Indiana has a strong team, but the change in coaching staff may prove a handicap in early games. DePauw, however, has had a change in its coaching staff, but the Tigers got an early start at practice and are going good. Purdue will find the team from Illinois will be a hard one to stop.

Notre Dame should have little trouble in beating St. Louis University in a game to be played at Notre Dame. Butler will meet the Chicago Y. M. C. A. College. Butler lost to the Chicago team 14 to 7 last year. The game Saturday will be played in Indianapolis.

Wabash will play Lake Forest. The game will be played at Crawfordsville and Coach Pete Vaughn's team will find the team from Illinois a much stronger aggregation than Wabash played last week.

Valparaiso meets Kalamazoo at Valparaiso. The Michigan eleven will give Hoosiers a real game. Rose Poly plays its first home game. Rose Poly will meet Hanover College at Terre Haute.

Franklin will not play this week. Earlham is scheduled to meet Dayton University at Dayton, O.

Four Indianapolis high school teams have games this week and all are scheduled to play away from home. On Friday, Oct. 6, Manual Training high school will play Wabash H. S. at Wabash; Shortridge meets Elwood at Elwood; Cathedral will play Noblesville at Noblesville. On October 7 Technical is scheduled to play Logansport high school at Logansport.

AUTHORITY ON HOGS TO SPEAK

R. A. Hayne, of I. H. C., to Make Address Swine Day, Monday

Late yesterday afternoon county agent Busche received a telegram from Mr. Ralph A. Hayne, of the Agricultural Extension Department of the International Harvester Company to the effect that he will be at the swine meeting Monday at the C. W. R. Schwartz farm in plenty of time for the afternoon session. Mr. Hayne is a noted authority on swine, having gathered his knowledge from practical experience and years of study. A book on hogs written by Mr. Hayne was published recently. At present Mr. Hayne is engaged in short course work and it was only with much effort that his service were secured. Mr. Hayne has been asked to speak on the subject, "The Future of Pork Prices" and anyone interested in hog raising should not miss the opportunity to hear him because such opportunities do not often occur.

In addition to giving information regarding the ways ton litters have been produced in the contest in Indiana, Mr. Wiley will be prepared to tell of the process of the experiments now being carried on at Purdue. Chief of these, perhaps, is the one comparing soybeans and a mineral mixture consisting of wood ashes, acid phosphate and salt, as a substitute for tankage in supplementing corn in feeding hogs. Interesting results which promise to change future hog feeding methods have thus far been obtained in this experiment.

The litter of 11 pigs which will be weighed Monday afternoon is reported to be doing nicely and it is thought they will easily total 3100 pounds on that day. Further information from the county agent's office is to the effect that if the winning litter in the contest is a pure bred Poland China litter, better than $200 will be given the owner in prizes.

Everyone is invited to attend the meeting all day or part the time. For those interested in pitching horse shoes it might be said that contests of that nature will be conducted during the forenoon in which everyone will have the opportunity to demonstrate his skill.

L. F. Martin, of Detroit, Mich., will arrive in Decatur tomorrow for a week's visit with Dr. and Mrs. C. V. Connell, 610 West Monroe street. Mr. Martin is a brother to Mrs. Connell.

Intersectional Football Contests Held Today

New York, Oct. 7.—(United Press)—Six good intersectional games brighten up today's football schedule, the first real week of the new season.

Three southern teams come north to engage three of the eastern leaders.

North Carolina meets Yale at New Haven; Virginia plays Princeton at Princeton and the University of the South opposes Pennsylvania at Philadelphia.

The University of Kansas, one of the leaders of the Missouri Valley conference, journeys to the plains of West Point to meet Uncle Sam's Cadets and the midshipmen at Annapolis will have an intersectional combat with Western Reserve from Ohio.

In the middle-west the big intersectional game will be played between Notre Dame and St. Louis University.

Today's games also provide debut for football in the Western Conference. All of the games, however, are hardly more than workouts.

Suttles-Edwards Company Buys Studabaker Agency

The Suttles-Edwards company, the newest financial and insurance institution in the city, has purchased the Studabaker General Insurance agency from David Studabaker and the new owners will continue to write the same high-class insurance as was written by the former owner. The name of the insurance agency will not be changed, although all business connected with it will be transacted in the offices of the Suttles-Edwards company in the Morrison block. Mr. Studabaker will remain with the insurance agency and will continue to write and look after the insurance business and will be glad to be of service when called upon.

The Suttles-Edwards Co. was opened for business on October 1, doing a general loan and insurance business, is incorporated for $10,000, the members of the corporation being Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Suttles and Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Edwards.

State Charities Conference Opens Today at South Bend

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 7.—Plans for meeting the problems of the new Indiana Reformatory were discussed here today by George A. H. Shideler, superintendent at the thirty-first annual state charities conference here today. The meeting will last three days.

Health and social service problems will be the chief topics for discussion.

At tomorrow's meeting Governor McCray will address the conference on the "Practical Side of Public Charities." Other prominent speakers will be Homer Folks, president of the National Conference of Social Work, of New York city; Alexander Johnson, of Fort Wayne; Dr. William King, secretary of the state board of health; Miss Grace Abbott, chief of the children's bureau at Washington.

Indiana Baptist to Hold Convention October 9-13

More than 75,000 Baptists will be represented at a state meeting of the Indiana Baptist convention to be held at Evansville, October 9-13. The sessions will be held in the First Baptist church. The Rev. J. F. Rake, pastor of the church, assisted by members of other local Baptist churches, will act as host to the visiting delegates.

The work accomplished by the church in the last year and a program looking toward future expansion will be discussed. Preceding the formal opening of the convention Tuesday evening, ministers and members of the Woman's Society of Indiana, that meets each year with the convention, will hold separate conferences Monday and Tuesday. Miss Della Dearborn, of Indianapolis, is president of the woman's organization. The Rev. H. N. Spear, of Bluffton, president of the Indiana Baptist convention, will preside thruout the sessions.

CHESS CHAMPIONS IN N. Y.

New York, Oct. 7.—The Ninth Annual American Chess tournament opened here today at the hotel McAlpin and will continue nine days. The chief attraction of this tournament is the participation in it of the young chess wizard, Samuel Rzeschewski, who for the first time will take part in a tournament where masters and champions participate.

The other participants are: Frank J. Marshall, present champion of U. S. B. Janowski, champion of France; Edward Lasker, champion of Western states; Charles Jaffe, former champion of N. Y. states; S. Chajes, champion of I. R. L. Progressive Chess club; M. Shapiro, champion of Manhattan Chess club; John F. Berry, champion of Massachusetts.
