Mr. and Mrs. I. F. Yanev entertained the freshmen class of Kirkland High School, Monday evening, in honor of their grandson, Homer Lincoln's birthday anniversary, which occurred on Feb. 12. The house was decorated in red, white and blue crepe paper in honor of Lincoln's birthday. Games and contests were enjoyed by all Jeanette Wilson carried off the booby prizes. A class prophecy for 1923 was very much enjoyed by all. Refreshments were served at 10:30 o'clock, after which they all departed wishing Homer many more happy birthdays. Those of the freshmen class present were: the Misses Mae Stoneburner, Evelyn Zimmerman, Emma Kaehr Jeanette Wilson, Esther Bumgardner, Deloris Buckmaster, Susie Zimmerman, Lela Slickman and Messers. Gearold Grandstaff, Walter Smith, Herman Santbine, Alfred Heller, Edgar Zimmerman, Chalmers Henschen and Homer Yanev. Those present besides the Freshmen were, Margaret Henschen, Alice Yanev, Mildred and Lucile Henschen, William Griffith, Loyd Bryan and George Yanev.

Mrs. C. E. Bell heard Fritz Kreisler at the Palace Theatre last evening, the concert being given under the auspices of the Morning Musicales.

Miss Helen Swearingner entertained the Tri D Club at her home on Marshall Street last evening. A good social time was enjoyed and the girls sewed. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held with Miss Betty Butler, Wednesday Feb. 21.

Mrs. Minnie Daniels was hostess to the Shakespeare Club yesterday afternoon. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Hooper, Mrs. Dugan presided. The paper which was to have been given by Mrs. Lower, was read by Mrs. John Heller. A committee was appointed to take care of the refreshments and entertainment for the next meeting, which will be a business meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Jesse Deam. Mrs. Deam was appointed chairman of the committee with Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Westveld as assistants.

Mrs. John Tyndall and Mrs. Dan Tyndall went to Ft. Wayne last evening where they heard Fritz Kreisler. The concert was given by the Morning Musicales.

Miss Dorothy Haley entertained at a party yesterday evening after school in observance of her twelfth birthday anniversary. The party was a valentine party. Those present consisted of the Junior Campfire girls, of which Miss Dorothy is a member. They were Dora Shofen-burg, Isabel Cloud, Frieda Merryman, Betty Hoffman, Vivian Thomas, Nedra Abbott, Isabel Peterson, and their guardian Miss Margaret Ash-baucher. Contests and games were played and prizes awarded to Betty Hoffman and Vivian Thomas.

Mrs. James R. Blair was hostess to the Historical club at her home, 116 North Fourth street, yesterday afternoon. The meeting was in the nature of a valentine party. Mrs. Lois Beane read a very interesting paper on "Japan." During the business session arrangements were made for holding club guest day at the home of Mrs. Dr. J. M. Miller, on South Second street, next Tuesday. The husbands of the members of the club will constitute the guest list. A pot luck supper will be a feature of the evening. Eighteen members of the club and two guests, Mrs. Vera Davis and Mrs. L. A. Graham, were present at the meeting yesterday. The hostess served a valentine luncheon, the spirit of the occasion being carried out in the refreshments.

On account of the basketball game between the Ministers and the High School Faculty, the proceeds of which will be donated to the Woman's Club, the regular meeting of the Woman's Club will be postponed from Monday night until a week from Monday night, February 26th. At this time the Music Section will be in charge and will give a very interesting program. "In Days Of Yore."

Mr. and Mrs. Chalmers Porter, and son, Robert Chalmers, will leave in the morning for Greencastle. Mrs. Porter and son will visit with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cook, for a couple weeks.

A Quarter Century Of Service

"If a man write a better book or preach a better sermon or build a better mousetrap, Tho he live in the depths of the forest, The world will beat a path to his door." —Emerson.

25 years ago a small druggist—in a small town—discovered a new way—an "external" way—to treat colds. So Vicks was born.

And for a quarter of a century, in ever increasing numbers, the world has beaten a path to its door.

Until today more than 17 million jars go out yearly to serve the people of this land.

Avoid Influenza—Grip—Pneumonia

How To Apply Vicks To Help Avoid These Infections
How To Use Vicks In Case You Are Attacked

DEEP, grippy colds—frequently leading into pneumonia—have been unusually prevalent this winter. Some authorities insist that they are a form of influenza, not so virulent as the influenza during the first epidemic, though they are worse than ordinary colds.

Vicks As A Preventive

Most medical authorities now agree that these troubles are germ diseases—commonly spread by breathing in the germs. If the system is in good shape—the membrane of the air passages in a healthy condition—these germs do not ordinarily breed.

Keep a little Vicks rubbed up the nostrils at all times, particularly when exposed to crowds. At night melt Vicks in a spoon and inhale the vapors, or better still, use Vicks in a tea kettle as directed. This treatment helps to keep the air passages in good condition.

The Danger Is From Pneumonia

The chief danger lies in the development of pneumonia. What is needed therefore is something to decrease the congestion of the lungs. For this purpose there is nothing like a rubefacient or counter-irritant, as witness the use of blisters, poultices and plasters for many generations. This irritation reddens the skin—draws the blood from the congested parts to the surface; the circulation is improved; there is a sensation of warmth and the possibility of pneumonia is greatly lessened.

A "Quick" Rubefacient Needed

The value of this counter-irritant effect is greatly increased if it is produced quickly. Nearly every family has its favorite method—onion poultices, turpentine stipes, mustard plasters and poultices of various kinds—all are good.

A very simple method is to apply fowels wrung out in hot water, as hot as the patient can stand. This not only reddens the skin quickly, but also opens the pores so that more Vicks can be absorbed. Some, however prefer to use an ordinary mustard plaster, as the reddening effect lasts longer.

Get Skin Thoroughly Red

Whatever method is used, the application should be applied over the throat and chest until the skin is thoroughly reddened. In very deep colds the sides and especially the back from the middle of the shoulder blades to a point just above the waist, should also be treated.

The patient should be given a good purgative and, if convenient, a hot mustard footbath for ten minutes—one tablespoon of mustard to a gallon of water.

Then Massage With Vicks

After the skin is thoroughly reddened, it should be dried lightly and immediately the patient should be given a brisk massage Vicks all over the parts. Continue this for five minutes. This increases the counter-irritant effect. Then apply Vicks thickly over all the parts; that is, spread it on as you would a poultice—about one-sixteenth of an inch thick or more—and cover with two thicknesses of hot flannel cloths.

Vick's Double Action

Thus applied Vicks has a double action. First, Vicks is so made that the body heat gradually releases the ingredients in the form of vapors. The more Vicks applied, the stronger will be the vapors and the longer these vapors will last. The night clothing should always be loose around the neck and the bed clothes arranged in the form of a funnel. These vapors being lighter than air, rise up from the chest and, if the bed clothing is properly arranged, pass by the nose and mouth and are thus inhaled with each breath, carrying the medication directly thru the air passages to the lungs.

The second action of Vicks is external—by absorption thru and stimulation of the skin.

Repeat Treatment

When the vapors begin to lose their strength, fresh Vicks should be applied over the throat and chest. This to keep up the continuous supply of vapors. When the redness of the skin dies out, all the Vicks remaining should be wiped off and the entire treatment repeated. That is, the hot wet towels or mustard plasters should be used until the skin is again thoroughly reddened, then massage with Vicks spread on thickly and cover with hot flannels, just as previously done.

Seam and Vapor Method

Sometimes when the patient is badly choked up, the vapors from the application on the chest are not sufficient to make the breathing easier. In these cases drop a tablespoonful of Vicks into a kettle of boiling water and allow the patient to inhale the warm steam and vapors combined for about 10 minutes. Do this several times a day if needed. Keep the water boiling and put in additional Vicks whenever the vapors decrease. Put a sheet over the patient and the tea-kettle, making a kind of a tent.

Take no chances with these grippy colds. Remember, Vicks must be used freely to be effective—and always call a doctor.
