SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

When Back Hurts Flush Your Kidneys
As You Clean Your Bowels

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, sometimes get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region begin drinking lots of water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is intended to flush clogged kidneys and help stimulate them to activity. It also helps neutralize the acids in the urine so they no longer irritate, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in trying to correct kidney trouble while it is only trouble. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

Lightning Switch Positions

Always throw the switch blade of the lightning switch to the lower clip when the receiving set is not being used, and to the upper clip when sounds are being received. When the blade is in the lower clip it makes a "lightning rod" of the antenna.

AN EASTER LILY

Flower of loveliness in perfect bloom, Thou art a benediction in this room.

Essence of harmony, thou dost express A calm above our mortal restlessness.

Symbol of purity, thou dost suggest The perfect peace of Paradise the best.

B surely our loved ones who had gone before And stand upon the glad eternal shore.

Have flowers there that are like unto thee, Glowing in radiant immortality.

Bright miracle of nature, fresh and fair, Distilling sweetness in the fragrant air;

Incense of Heaven, yielding hope and cheer, Thou shinest with a light serene and clear.

Celestial messenger, thou dost fulfil In acquiescent grace, thy Maker's will.

Not all the riches that the earth can hold, Nor Solomon surrounded by his gold

Within a precious palace, yet could be Arrived in glory that is like to thee.

No wonder the Angelicos of old Made their annunciation angels hold

A lily, token of the love divine That into every human heart must shine;

The love of Christ who rose on Easter Day To show to us the Truth, the Love, the Way

Into the Father's presence—and the sight Of the New Earth and Heaven in the light

Of peace and love—by angel hosts adored, And over all—the glory of the Lord.

CUSTOM OF EGG-ROLLING

Old Pastime of Washington Children, but There Are No Records of Its Origin.

Washington children were the first to play at rolling eggs, but there is no chronicle which sets forth when and how the pastime came to be. The first reference to egg-rolling which has been found occurs in the Evening Star of Easter Monday, 1874, and that reference has to do with some interruption of the egg-rolling at the capitol by ruffians. The reasonable inference is that the custom of rolling eggs at the capitol was then an old one. When Washington was young the small, fenced park about the capitol was the only one in Washington improved with turf, trees and flowers. It was the habit of school children to have an Easter picnic, and with their teachers and their baskets of lunch they would go to the Capitol park. At the west front of the capitol were steep sodded terraces. In sitting at the top of these terraces and eating their lunches, of which dyed Easter eggs formed part, some child or children discovered that the colored eggs would roll down the terraces. In that way the custom started and became a part of the Easter festival in Washington. When the incident of 1874 occurred there were several thousand children rolling eggs down the sodded banks. Congress in 1875, noting that because of the Easter egg-rolling it was hard to keep grass on the terraces, forbade the practice, but egg-rolling festivities were observed in 1876 and 1877 just the same. On Easter Monday, 1878, the children were turned away from the capitol grounds. The word passed from child to child, and the march to the White House was taken up. They invaded the executive grounds and began rolling eggs, and the custom survives.

The time is again at hand when the usual amount of dogs are dumped in town, just before the usual arrival of the assessor. One can select any and all species of canines on our streets at this time, from the shaggy Shepard down to the stubtail cur. At the appearance of the assessors the variety diminishes to a great extent, and our people are not tormented with dogs tracking mud on their front and back porches by these homeless dogs seeking a friend in their hunger. Pay the dog tax and keep your dog, who is among the best friend you can have.

SUGGESTIONS ON HOW TO CLEAR TIMBER TRACTS

Indianapolis, Mar. 29.—The time is here for the annual spring clean up on Indiana farms and unless care is exercised it means that much valuable timber will be sacrificed through carelessness, in the opinion of Charles C. Deam, state forester under the conservation department.

Mr. Deam says that in the past, hunters have been blamed for most of the forest fires. He exonerates them and places the blame on land-owners and tenants who, in cleaning up the premises, grow careless and permit fires to spread.

In order that our rapidly disappearing timber stocks be carefully guarded, Mr. Deam suggests the following precautions concerning fires on the farm.

Don't start a fire on a windy day. Don't start a fire in field or woods if there is danger of it escaping to adjoining woods or field. If fire must be started in such a place, stand guard over it.

It is excellent policy to plow a few furrows around the field or in the woods, thus establishing a fire line and making it easy to keep the flames within a desired fire zone.

Don't leave a fire at night without first raking all combustible material far away.

It is best not to leave a fire at night if it is possible to extinguish it.

The state law provides a penalty for anyone setting fire to a woods or who permits fire to escape from his land to that of another. The fine in such a case, upon conviction, is not less than $5 and not more than $50. Furthermore the guilty one shall be liable for full damage sustained therefrom.

Mr. Deam suggests, in view of the serious lack of timber in our commonwealth, that Indiana's slogan be "plant more trees and do not burn what we possess."

New Method for Filling Vacancies on Tickets

Local political workers are interested in a law that will be effective here in May which provides a method of filling vacancies on tickets in primaries or general elections. Vacancies for county offices shall be filled by the county central committee; vacancies for city office, by the city central committee; vacancies for the office of prosecuting attorney, judge, state representative or state senator, by the county central committees of all counties in the district; vacancies for representative in the congress by the district committee, and vacancies for United States senator or any office elected by all the voters by the state central committee.
