Leonard Has Hard Fight With Tendler Tonight

United Press Staff Correspondent
New York, July 23.—(Special to Daily Democrat)—After six years of rather trifling cases, Benny Leonard, the good-looking lightweight champion, will have to go to work in the Yankee stadium tonight when he meets Lew Tendler, the less handsome challenger from Philadelphia.

For the first time since he won the championship, the experts reckon that Leonard will not only have to work but will be forced to serious manual labor if he is to leave the stadium with the crown on his dome.

During the six years of his reign, the champion was mostly engaged in preventing an opponent from mugging the patent leather sheen off his locks. Twice he has been driven to the point of anger where he was forced to knock out impudent opponents who took liberties with him.

Jimmy Johnston, promoter of the fight, expects a crowd of 80,000 in the stadium and he figures on counting $600,000 from the gate. Advance sales have gone beyond $350,000 and many seats still are available for the last minute rush.

Largely because there has been so little Tendler money on the market, the odds favor Leonard at 2 to 1, with very little betting. Most of the money being offered is on knockouts and the round.

Dr. Starkweather Dies

New has been received here of the death of Dr. R. L. Starkweather at Goshen, Indiana. He was ill but ten minutes, death being due to heart trouble. He was forty years old. He practised here as an osteopath two years, moving from here to Goshen a number of years ago.

out. Thinking she was armed, the convict halted and waited in the darkness until guards took him into custody.

Forty-two Escape

An inmate from Chicago named Mitchell was said to be the ring leader of the break which occurred last night at dusk when the entire body of 227 convicts at exercise in the bull-pen rushed unarmed guards, battered a hole in the fence, and enabled 42 of their number to escape.

Mitchell was captured just before noon by an armed trusty.

Ralph Dilday, guard who was badly backed by a madman armed with a butcher knife during the rush for liberty, was in a dangerous condition at the institution hospital.

James Denny, another guard severely cut in the same fracas, will recover. Several others received bites and scratches.

William Jackson, insane negro murderer from Chicago, was shot down as guards seized rifles and fired at the fleeing mob. His body was riddled with bullets.

the features of the Purdue exhibit to be seen at the fair. This division will show results of work being done among farm women's clubs throughout Indiana and will be of especial interest to the ladies of Adams county who are interested in such work. The Purdue exhibit will be found in the grand stand building along with the show of garden and farm products. It will contain interesting information concerning poultry, dairying, hog feeding, fruit growing, soils and crops.

The agricultural exhibit is another new feature at the local fair. Several exhibits were already entered this morning and many more were coming in during the day.

Ford Given Away Tuesday

One of the big events on Tuesday's program at the fair, will be the awarding of the Ford touring car. This will take place immediately after the last race of the afternoon. The holder of the winning ticket must be on the ground to receive the Ford.

The Myers Glass Show

THE WORLD'S FAIR GLASS BLOWERS

Will be the feature show at the Fair Grounds this year.

Special Show Tuesday, Children's Day

Mothers and fathers should take the advantage of this opportunity and attend and insist on their children attending as the Myers Company has the most interesting and educational show on the road. Mr. Myers has spent 20 years in the art of glass work and has the latest and largest glass furnace and spinning wheel, spinning glass finer than silk, so it can be folded like cloth or tied in a knot same as a string. Don't fail to see the only glass steam engine in the world running by steam, demonstrating the action of steam from the time it leaves the boiler.

This MAY Happen To You

DANGER! DO you know that the risk you run when you take your bath is seventy times greater than the danger of being hurt when your home catches fire? The ratio is based on statistics, recently compiled by an insurance company, showing the causes of accidents investigated by the company. For 3,370 accidental injuries the following causes were determined:

- 1 person was hurt in a burning home;
- 70 slipped in bathtubs;
- 626 fell on lawn, veranda or stairs;
- 168 women were scalded while cooking;
- 92 men were burned lighting cigars;
- 545 were hurt working around barn or shed;
- 22 cut themselves with razors while "doctoring" corns, and
- 59 others cut themselves shaving;
- 125 tripped on rugs;
- 73 fell from chairs or tables;
- 175 bumped into furniture in the dark;
- 460 cut themselves on bottles;
- 78 fell from ladders;
- 31 got foreign bodies in their eyes;
- 70 were hurt by falling objects;
- Babies poked inquiring finger in eyes of
- 39 mothers and nurses;
- 104 were bitten by pet animals;
- 116 were hurt moving furniture, and
- 61 in the most peaceful pursuit of all—getting in and out of bed.
