

The Fourth Down By Willie Punt

As a dopest we admit we're a flat tire, but honest now, are there any of you fans who didn't think Ft. Wayne Central could beat Columbia City?

Columbia City showed a great reversal of form over last season, by holding Central to a scoreless tie yesterday. D. H. S. downed Columbia City here last year, 67-0.

The Yellow Jackets and the D. C. H. S. squads took another vacation yesterday evening, owing to the muddy condition of their gridirons. They ought to be rarin' to go next week after these frequent rests this week.

Three Hoosier college elevens spring into action today. Butler plays Hanover at Indianapolis and Valpo takes on Lombard. Butler ought to win hands down.

Horrors! Martinsville high school met Shelbyville high in a horseshoe pitching match at Shelbyville yesterday afternoon. They shouldn't permit their boys and girls to play such rough games in school.

South Side played Auburn on Lincoln Life field this morning at 10 o'clock. The game was played in the morning because there was a baseball game scheduled for the field this afternoon and the new South Side stadium was not ready for a game.

Has anybody heard from Richmond?

ATTENDS LETTER CARRIERS' MEET

H. O. Davis, of Pleasant Mills, Sends Account of Kentucky Convention.

H. O. Davis, of Pleasant Mills, is attending the annual convention of the National Rural Letter Carriers' Association at Louisville, Kentucky, this week, as a delegate from Adams County. Mr. Davis sent back a copy of the Louisville Courier-Journal, of Wednesday's issue, which contained the following account of the convention on Tuesday.

Shunning politics Postmaster General Harry S. New greeted simply as comrades members of the National Rural Letter Carriers' Association, who opened their twentieth annual convention at the Hotel Henry Waterson yesterday. He dodged scrupulously any mention of political topics and spoke as a friend to friends.

H. H. Billany, Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, will follow today. Mr. New said, with the "shop talk" from which he refrained yesterday. Mr. Billany's address will come at the close of a session which will open at 9 o'clock. Other speakers will be W. D. Brown, editor of "R. F. D. News," the association organ; O. H. Pierce, of Iowa; H. G. Nichols, chief clerk, and officers and committee chairman who will make their reports.

Goodwill of Department
"I am merely here to know you better," Mr. New told carriers, men and women.

As he made his way to the street he was the bull's-eye for invitations ranging in distance from New Albany, Ind., to San Francisco, showered on him with calling cards or merely by word or mouth.

At his room in the Seelbach, the former Senator from Indiana received friends and callers almost without cessation from the time he arrived at 7:40 o'clock yesterday morning until he left for Indianapolis at 6:35 o'clock last night. Among them were Senators A. O. Stanley and Richard P. Ernst, who were speakers yesterday afternoon and James W. Dunbar, Representative from the Third Indiana District.

It is impossible to foresee what the future of the postal air service will be, Mr. New said in his address. Certainly the government will continue to develop its possibilities. He prophesied that the mail service, which is now consuming more than $600,000,000 a year, will reach $1,000,000,000 ten years from now.

Civil Service Maintenance
Maintenance of a civil service court of appeals, the retirement law, maintenance allowances, the purchase of motor vehicles from the Division. Equipment and Supplies and a civil service newspaper were touched on in the report of the president, A. P. Lang of Pleasantville, Ohio, yesterday afternoon.

When the question of transportation supply by the Government was broached to the Postmaster General he intimated that he hoped it could be brought about, but explained that the unforeseen bulk of mail was rendering inadequate the budget allowed by Congress two years ago, and that until it was increased expenditures would have to be re their own vehicles at present as when strictly. Rural carriers provide the department was created thirty years ago.

Senator Ernst described the hardships of carrying letters through grinding winds and shoveling snowdrifts from the road in describing the discomforts and perplexities that confront the rural postman.

"We do not need Government help for things we can do ourselves," Senator Stanley told the assembly, "but the greatest good the Government achieves is in the dissemination of knowledge."

Fred Schurger has brought in his big sun flower and it's a good one, as to whether he wins over Mr. Dutcher has been left to the county agent. Fred also brought along a box of the finest kind of grapes.

GERMANY WILL QUIT RUHR SOON

Situation Is Serious.
United Press Staff Correspondent.
Berlin, Sept. 22.—The situation in the Ruhr is becoming constantly worse, according to information here today.

Some officials even predict a nationwide outburst inside of a month unless the Ruhr question is settled and assert the outbreak may occur even if the Ruhr problem is liquidated in the near future.

Today's situation in Germany resembled that of 1918, when Germany's armies admittedly had fought many months too long.

MANY KLANSMEN

Atlanta, Ga., when the military investigation started.

"However, we will be able to show from the records," he continued, "that the Klan is a lawless and criminal organization, that the sheriffs of offices and the offices of chiefs of police and the jury commissioners in both Tulsa and Oklahoma City are under domination of the Klan."

Further testimony given before the military court by Dr. Naupin as made public by the governor, Dr. Naupin said:

"At a meeting of klansmen several months ago, Jewett warned local members that there had been doing too much talk about activities of the Klan. Persons who have been doing things around Oklahoma City are liable for both McAlester and Leavenworth prisons."

At Jewett's request, Naupin said, the Oklahoma City Klan gave $500 towards defense of the members of the Klan in Ardmore who were accused of murder when an alleged bootlegger of Ardmore was slain by a masked mob who went to his home to whip him and run him out of the country.

Two klansmen were also killed in that fight.

Governor Walton said that sufficient evidence had been obtained to warrant prosecution of "any man in the United States who joined the K. K. K. and remained in that organization long enough to know its ultimate purposes and an accomplice either before or after the facts."

Several messages from various organizations and individuals throughout the nation lauding his stand against the Klan were read to newspaper men by the governor. He said they pouring into the capital at the rate of 200 and 300 a day.
