Explains Defeat Of G. O. P. In Washington

(United Press Staff Correspondent) Washington, Sept. 27.—(Special to Daily Democrat) — "The producers are more or less desperate and no doubt ballotted for what they thought would benefit them."

Charles E. Myers, republican candidate for a congressional vacancy in the state of Washington thus explained the apparent victory of his democratic opponent, who ran on a platform favoring wheat price fixing and other measures to relieve the condition of agriculture.

Myers' words provide a startlingly clear explanation of the activity of the Coolidge administration in seeking means to help the farmer out of the slough of debt and despair in which he is laboring.

That the producers, particularly the producers of wheat, are desperate and that their desperation is not an abstraction to be treated academically, has been brought home to Mr. Coolidge and other republican leaders so forcibly that for both economic and political reasons they have side tracked all other problems while they make an honest effort to evolve some formula that really will remove the political and economic menace.

That it is a political menace, the defeat of Myers in Washington clearly shows. Producers there voted for a democrat because they thought he offered them more hope of succor.

The regular meeting of the county commissioners will be held at the Auditor's office next week.

Meland Case Comes Up For a Hearing Today

Ft. Wayne, Sept. 27.—Arguments on a motion for a new trial in the case of the state against Attorney Hans C. Meland, charged with obtaining a signature under false pretenses, will be heard this morning by Special Judge Fred B. Shoaff in circuit court.

Meland was tried before the late Judge John C. Moran, of Decatur, and was found guilty. The court fixed the sentence of Meland at six months on the state penal farm, but did not enter judgment on the decision pending a hearing on a motion for a new trial. Judge Moran was drowned in St. Marys river before the motion was heard and Attorney Fred B. Shoaff was named special judge to hear the demand for a new trial.

Meland was charged with having influenced Mrs. Josephine Noonan, his client, to sign a note for $300 upon the representation that it was to be used as an appeal bond in a divorce case in which Meland was her attorney. Later the note was discounted by Meland, who appropriated the money to his own use, the court found.

Sues Dollings Agent

Newcastle, Ind., Sept. 27.—Charging fraud and misrepresentation,

Crystal—Oct. 4-5-6
"Human Wreckage"
with Mrs. Wallace Reid

Charles E. Estabrook has filed suit to recover $4,000 from James C. Richey, former agent of the R. L. Dollings company.

Estabrook says that in March 1920 he purchased $4,000 worth of the Dollings securities when Richey told him the company had two dollars worth of property for every dollar in outstanding stock.

The court is asked to set aside a transfer of property made in the deal.
