BAPTISTS TO MEET

Northern Baptists Of Indiana To Hold Missionary Meetings Nov. 14-16

Northern Baptists of the state of Indiana will have a share during the next few days in the greatest series of missionary meets in the history of the denomination. A Bible and Missionary conference, part of a nationwide chain, will take place in Indianapolis November 14-16. Similar gatherings are taking place simultaneously in 35 large cities from coast to coast, in an effort to revive missionary spirit all through the denomination.

The Rev. Robert L. Wilson, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Rochester, Pennsylvania, has been appointed Indiana conference secretary, and will be in charge of arrangements for the Indianapolis meeting. The Rev. Carlos M. Dims, more of Indianapolis, State Director of Promotion of the Northern Baptist Convention, will assist Mr. Wilson in his task. Dr. W. H. Bowler of New York, Secretary of Field Activities of the Northern Baptist Convention, is national director of the nation-wide series of missionary meets.

Interest in the Bible and Missionary conferences runs high all over the state. Practically every city or town in Indiana will be represented at the Indianapolis conference. Conferences are everywhere being engaged in between churches and even between towns to secure the greatest number of registrations for attendance at the conferences.

Ted Hartley Won Auto Race At Indianapolis

Ted Hartley, of Roanoke, who took part in both automobile racing meets held at Belmont Park this fall and who made the fastest time for one lap on the track, won the 100-mile race on the Hoosier Motor Speedway at Indianapolis last Sunday. His time for the distance was one hour, 56 minutes and 23 seconds, or an average speed of a little more than 51 miles per hour. Hartley was in the lead all the way from the 50-mile mark, although he was given several brushes by Huff, who finished a half lap behind. Huff led the first fifty miles. Dempsey Chaney finished third. Sixteen cars were in the race and more than 4,000 persons were in attendance. Homer Ormsby, of Fort Wayne, and Curly Davidson, driving Harry Murray's car, were in the race.

South Dakota Governor Renews Gasoline Fight

BULLETIN.
Mitchell, S. D., Nov. 14.—(United Press.)—Gov. W. H. McMaster today renewed his war on gasoline prices. In the face of an increase of two cents a gallon announced by the Standard Oil company, bring the retail price to 17 1/2 cents, McMaster ordered the state highway depot to sell gas at 16 cents.
The advance price was necessary, the Standard Oil company said, "in order to equalize prices with the rest of the country."
McMaster, in announcing the state of South Dakota would again sell gasoline in competition with the refinery, said the price increase "is unjust and unwarranted."
McMaster opened a campaign on higher prices in August when gasoline was being sold at 28 cents a gallon throughout the state. When his price of 15 1/2 cents was met by the Standard Oil and independent companies, he stopped selling gas. Today the war was on again and the governor said he would continue his campaign until his price was met.

Magnus Johnson Wants Nuisance Tax Explained

Minneapolis, Nov. 14.—(United Press.)—Magnus Johnson, newly elected United States senator from Minnesota, today (challenged Secretary of the Treasury Mellon to define "nuisance taxes."
"Secretary Mellon is right when he says nuisance taxes should be repealed, but what does he mean by 'nuisance taxes'?" Johnson said in an interview with the United Press.
He may figure the excess profits is a nuisance to the war profiteers and the millionaires. If he means repeal of the excess profits tax, I think he will see quite a fight in congress.
"The real nuisance tax, as I see it, is the direct tax on the people."
"Take the movies for an example. The people pay three, five or ten cents extra for entertainment and they call it tax. If there's going to be a tax for the movies, it should be levied on the theatre magnates' profits."

DRY GOODS MEN MEET NOV. 15

State Retail Dry Goods Association Holds Convention In Indianapolis.

On Thursday, November 15, the Semi-Annual Convention of the retail dry goods and ready to wear interests of the state, represented in the Indiana Retail Dry Goods Association, will meet in convention at the Lincoln Hotel, Indianapolis. The entire day will be given over to a discussion of the problems confronting the retail dry goods and ready to wear merchants, of which problems there are many at the present time. The meeting will conclude with a smoker in the evening.

It has been found that a convention of this nature, participated in only by the merchants themselves, has been conducive of many benefits. An all-day discussion of store problems embracing every phase of the stores' activities gives the merchant attending the convention the solution of the problems confronting him by learning how other merchants solve the same problems.

In view of the present trade conditions in the retail dry goods and ready to wear lines this convention is most important, and no doubt will be attended by all of the representative and progressive merchants of the state.

An invitation is extended to every retail dry goods and ready to wear merchant in Indiana to attend the convention whether he is a member of the Indiana Retail Dry Goods Association or not.

Dan M. Niblick, of the Niblick & Company store, left this morning for Indianapolis to attend a meeting of the board of directors of the Indiana Retail Dry Goods Association, of which he is a member. Mr. Niblick was elected a director last summer.

Car Stolen In Fort Wayne Located Here

Frank P. Koester, of Fort Wayne, came to Decatur this morning and returned home with his seven-passenger Studebaker touring car, which was stolen in Fort Wayne Monday night and found in this city early yesterday morning, by Night Policeman Sephus Melchi. The car was left standing on West Monroe street near the Boston Store Monday night. Mr. Melchi had it taken to a local garage yesterday morning and notified William Moeller, chief of police at Ft. Wayne. The thieves had removed the license plates in Fort Wayne and threw them away. They were found in that city. They also had removed the certificate of ownership card.
