SEED CORN IN
Instructions from the county agent are that each ear should be tested. A good test should contain at least four kernels from each ear. Those who must have seed corn should obtain it locally, since sending to other localities, especially in a southern direction, is risky. Differences in soil, climate, length of growing season and other factors make the chances great that a variety not adapted to this locality may be purchased.
In addition, the reliability of some seed houses is questioned and differences can be adjusted better if only local parties are concerned. It is the opinion that one had better pay a small amount more and get value received of a variety which is adapted to the locality than to get questionable seed.

Those who wish to know where seed corn can be obtained locally are asked to get in touch with the county agent.

Mr. and Mrs. William Uman, of north of the city, spent the afternoon here shopping.

Fifty Appendicitis Cases in Small Town
In a small Southern town over 50 cases of appendicitis occurred in a short time! Simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adlerika, guards against appendicitis because it acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel and brings out all poisons. Helps any case gas on the stomach in TEN minutes. Brings out matter you never thought was in your system. Smith, Yager & Falk, Drug-gists. In Monroe by Otis O. Hocker.

FLOOD WATERS ARE
receded two inches or more since yesterday.
(United Press Service)
Indianapolis, March 31—Unless there are further heavy rain, the danger of a flood in the Indianapolis area of the White river valley is past J. H. Armstrong, of the local weather bureau, reported.
The river continued rising slowly during the night, but there is no danger of the flood stage of 18-foot being reached, Armstrong said.
The river was out of its banks in lowlands southwest of Indianapolis and a number of families vacated their homes as a precautionary measure.
Rivers in the northern part of the state were reported falling as the crest of the high waters moved on southward and southwest.

Columbus, Ohio, March 31—Central and southern Ohio cities and towns reported today all danger from high water was averted by the sudden drop in temperature over the week end.

The Scioto river here dropped four-feet from Saturday's mark and Newark and Zanesville reported rivers rapidly reaching normal.

Baltimore, Md., March 31—Five persons, all members of one family have been drowned and property valued at millions of dollars have been damaged or destroyed by the floods on the Potomac river in western Maryland, which have driven hundreds of persons from their homes since the water began to rise early Saturday.

Pittsburgh, March 31—Devastating flood waters of the Monongahela, Allegheny, Ohio and Youghiogheny rivers today were slowly receding, leaving in their wake a path of ruin and human suffering.
The floods at 2 p. m. Sunday reached the highest recorded in eleven years. The Monongahela, Allegheny and Ohio rose to 29.2 feet. Then the swollen streams began to recede.
Thousands of families have been made homeless by the high waters and many persons living near the river fronts were forced to move to the upper floor of their dwellings. Basements of more than 1,000 business houses were flooded.
Property damage is estimated at nearly $5,000,000.

C. C. H. S. Defeated In Semi-finals Of Tourney
Chicago, March 31—Port Wayne Central Catholic high bowed before the De LaSalle quintet, of Kansas City, Mo., in a desperately fought contest, 24 to 29. The Port Wayne aggregation led until the final minute, when De LaSalle rallied with two baskets within 30 seconds of the final shot.
The Port Wayne team was eliminated from the tournament in the afternoon by Spalding, of Peoria, Ill., 14 to 7. Spalding captured the Mundelein trophy from Marquette 24 to 7, placing them national Catholic champions of the United States. Central Catholic led 8 to 3 at the end of the first quarter, and at end of half had the leads from the "Show Me" state 12 to 3.

Charming indeed was the cleverly planned surprise party in honor of Miss Margaret Moran's twenty-first birthday which was held last evening. Concealment lends enchantment and it was with suppressed excitement that the seven invited guests waited for Miss Moran's entrance into the living room, at her home on Marshall street, and it was a gay surprise that greeted her. The dinner table was beautiful in its color scheme of green and yellow. The birthday cake with its dainty green and yellow candles graced the center of the table and it was immersed in a shower of Smilax. Individual baskets with a nest of Easter eggs marked by place cards directed the guests to their places. Mrs. Moran, assisted by Mrs. Clara Meyers, then served a delectable four-course dinner to the following guests and celebrant: Misses Agnes Kohne, Naomi Durkin, Helen Gass, Irene Holthouse, Margaret Holthouse, Cecile Miller, and Margaret Mylott. Miss Moran was presented with a lovely gold vanity case and a wrist watch mesh bracelet. After the dinner two tables of bridge were formed and the evening was devoted to bridge. Miss Agnes Kohne had high score and won the first prize and Miss Naomi Durkin was awarded second. Miss Kohne also rendered several beautiful vocal solos during the evening.
