

N. Y. FRANKS CASE?

Indiana Supreme And Appellate Courts Open

(United Press Service) Indianapolis, Oct. 7.—The Indiana Supreme and Appellate courts opened their fall terms here today with crowded dockets.

In the Supreme court, 69 criminal cases have been filed since the end of the May term, or during the court's summer vacation, according to Joel T. Baker, deputy clerk. Approximately seventy-five per cent of these are liquor cases, final decisions on many of which will affect the validity of the state prohibition law.

This number of criminal cases is more than three times as many as were on the docket of the Supreme court in 1918, the last year before prohibition, Baker said.

He declared this crowded condition will have a tendency to greatly slow up the work of the court in its action on civil cases.

On the docket are appeals from four convicted murderers.

They are John Shaw, negro, convicted in the Marion county criminal court for the murder of Helen Hager Welches in Indianapolis last fall. The case caused quite a sensation in Indianapolis after the body of the young woman was found by the railroad tracks about three miles west of the city.

Edward Barber and Joseph Parker were convicted for murder of Steve Kendall, in Terre Haute last winter following their alleged robbery of a filling station there. Kendall was a detective and is said to have been at tempting to make their arrest.

Jose Castro, was convicted and sentenced to the electric chair for murdering a Gary policeman. He is a citizen of Mexico.

Barber, Parker and Castro, all three have been granted stays of execution until January 16.

Harry Diamond has petitioned for a rehearing in the Supreme court.

He was sentenced to the electric chair for the alleged murder of his wife in Lake county.

Included in the liquor cases is one from

Delaware county in which the defendant was convicted on a verdict of a jury composed entirely of women. This is the first time and appeal has been filed in the higher court from the verdict of a jury of women, Baker said.

OBITUARY

The death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Headstone on the evening of October 2, 1924 and claimed their darling baby, Howard Dorn, age 1 year, 5 months, 14 days. It is hard to give him up as his death was so unexpected. We cannot call little Howard back to us but we can go to him. He leaves to mourn his going a father, mother, three brothers, Arthur, Eldon and Gene, two grandmothers, two grandfathers, two great grandmothers and many near relatives and friends.

Precious darling, thou hast left us. We our loss so deeply feel. But 'tis God who has bereft us. He can all our sorrows, heal.

COAL COAL

I am unable to get more of the high grade coal. I have a very low price which was wired me from the mine on good clean coal, free from stone, slate and other foreign matter at a much lower price, owing to an over production of the egg size.

Place your orders early and secure some of this coal while it lasts. All high grade coal is getting scarcer and the price has advanced $1 per ton.

WARNS OF SEED CORN SHORTAGE

County Agent Busche Urges Farmers To Pick Seed At Once

(By L. M. Busche, County Agent) There is practically no corn in Adams county which will be fit for seed unless some special care is taken of it. There is any amount of corn if it is picked now and dried carefully before cold weather arrives. Corn does not necessarily need to be fully matured in order to make good corn. If corn which is "dented" is properly taken care of, it will make good seed.

Corn picked now for seed should be placed on racks which will permit of the air circulating around each ear. No two ears should touch. Any farmer with a few spike nails and a few boards can make enough of such racks to hold all the corn he needs. These racks should be placed in a well-ventilated place, where the air can circulate through the corn. A better way, especially for very immature corn, would be to make provisions for artificial heat to hasten the drying. All such corn should be placed where it will not freeze before the time for freezing temperature arrives.

Those who know are predicting another seed corn shortage next spring similar to the one experienced in 1918. There is no doubt but that many Adams county farmers will be paying large prices for seed next spring. This condition is entirely uncalled for. There is plenty of corn which will make good seed, and it is unlikely any farmer will have trouble finding it if a real effort is made. Those who cannot find seed corn in neighbors' fields are invited to get into touch with the writer. Also, those farmers who have corn from which seed may be picked are asked to report the same to the county agent, giving price asked, kind of corn, etc.

Polarine "F" is made and sold by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

After exhaustive tests in the laboratory and on the road, it comes to you with the unqualified recommendation of our Technical Staff.

Polarine "F" builds up and maintains a stable lubricating film on the transmission drum, a film which will hold up even under extreme pressure of the bands.

You can secure Polarine "F" at any Standard Oil service station and at most garages displaying the Polarine sign.

It costs no more than other motor oils. Have your crank case drained today and fill with Polarine "F", the Perfect Motor Oil for Fords. You will notice the difference immediately.
