American Proposals Flatly Rejected At Anti-Drug Parley At Geneva

Following Viscount Cecil's flat rejection of the proposals on behalf of England, backed by France and Holland it was expected that Congressman Stephen Porter and the delegates representing the U. S. would withdraw.

Geneva, Jan. 21. — "Idealistic demands" made by the American delegation to the league of nations anti-drug conference are impractical and cannot be accepted, Viscount Cecil, of Chetwood, chief British representative, said at the opening of today's session.

Beware Of Coughs That Hang On

Pneumonia and serious lung trouble usually start with a cough. So if you have a cold or cough—stop it at once with a few doses of that fine old medicine, KEMP'S BALSAM. This famous balsam soothes the nerves of the throat, stops the tickling cough and cures the cold. No form of cough syrup so good for children's coughs. 50 cents at all stores.

For that Cough KEMP'S BALSAM

Colds are the result of an accumulation of poisonous materials in the body. Improper functioning of excretory organs causes this. Chiropractic corrects the cause of abnormality—it restores the full force of vital energy from brain to tissue cell by releasing the pressure on the nerve fibers being interfered with at the only place—the spine.

Its coolness and mellow "body" are a revelation to pipe smokers

Back about 1870, James N. Wellman developed a secret tobacco process which won instant and widespread favor. It yielded a fuller-bodied richness, mildness and fragrance which just seemed to "go" with a pipe. No one else ever knew his secret until we acquired "Wellman's Method" and by its means made "Granger Rough Cut"

Be Thrifty! Insure

Yourself, Your Loved Ones, Your Property Against Loss of Life, Fire, Tornado and Wind Storm

Lots and lots of people save up their money to invest in homes and buildings. This is being thrifty up to a certain point only—insuring that home or building against loss by fire is protection and thrift which enables you to hold that which already has been accumulated.

AN INSURED CITY A SECURED CITY

Casual observers charge the American people with being hopelessly profigate in financial matters. We are even accused of being wasteful to the point of unintelligence. The fact that this year we have been able to absorb four million automobiles is being pointed to by critics as a bit of contributing evidence on this subject. Before such a depressing conclusion is adopted regarding the national disposition, due weight should be given to the significant fact that in the same year in which the American people indulged in the luxuries of four million automobiles, they have paid for new insurance to amount of over eleven billions of dollars. Notwithstanding the lamentable condition of the pessimist and his audible utterances as to what he thinks, the same mind can rejoice in what is.

All evidence of national prosperity is also evidence of national security. Capital does not emerge where no security exists. Business is dormant and industry idle unless security lures to effort. Thrift and economy are unknown if the future is uncertain. A stable and secure government is essential to national progress. It does not need a survey of world conditions or an estimate of national wealth to impress upon us that we are today the most favored nation in the world in enjoying more widely than others all of those things that make for national strength.

Without boasting we can, therefore, state the fact that as a nation we are at present not only more heavily insured, but more widely secured than are others. Is there a relationship between these two facts? If so, which is the cause and which the effect? Analysis will demonstrate, I think, that we are an insured nation because we are a secured nation. Or, to put it in another form, insurance is an evidence of security and thrift.
