"Red" Grange Makes His 1925 Debut Tomorrow

By Edward C. Derr
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, Oct. 2.—Red Grange will make his 1925 gridiron debut in the University of Illinois stadium at Urbana tomorrow when his team takes on the Nebraska Cornhuskers.

Chiefly because of this fact, the Illinois-Nebraska game will be the headliner on the football program in the middlewest this week end. Fans are anxious to know whether eh red-headed wonder of 1925 and 1924 will be able to repeat in this—his last year of competition.

Grange is in excellent condition. His backfield running mates are faster this year than last. But his line, although a bit heavier than last year, is green and inclined to be slow. Much will depend on this unseasoned line; it may make big holes for Red or it may get in his way. Grange is a fast starter and his forward wall must make its holes in a hurry or else make it necessary for Red to go wide to get into the open field.

Students Of Wabash College Will Strike

Crawfordsville, Oct. 2.—President McIntosh of Wabash, announced that the college trustees today had ruled students can not drive autos from Monday until Friday, but the present cars will be permitted over week-end. Indignation over the order has been brewing for the past week and, following the statement, a meeting of the students was held.

William Frazee, of Rushville, a senior and editor of the student paper which has taken such a violent stand against the ruling, was spokesman. A unanimous rising vote of the students followed his appeal and the students will continue driving their cars and will strike if punishment is attempted. "The Batchelor," the student paper, takes the stand that since the college is not coeducational the ruling should not have been made.

NEW STATE ROAD SEEMS ASSURED

from Huntington to Roanoke will be let this fall. It is possible that they will not be able to have very much done on that stretch in this construction year.

"With reference to the matter of adding the road from Huntington to Decatur to the state system, wish to say that we have discussed this proposition from every angle and the commission is of one accord—that it will be impossible to add any mileage to the state system this year. We have in mind, however, in case we have a favorable winter with no heavy snows and midwinter thaw-ups, that we might be able to save enough out of our maintenance fund to justify some additions to our system along about the first of next April.

"I know you are enough of a practical road man to know how uncertain it would be to make any definite promises based on this contingency. I believe that if any mileage is added to the system that the commission will try and add approximately 500 miles and I feel reasonably certain that the road from Huntington to Decatur will be a part of that mileage.

"There is no dissension among the members of the commission as to the logic of this road being a part of our road system. I am glad to note what you have in mind as to a county improvement. It certainly would be a great benefit to your county."

tion in refusing to settle the French debt on the terms of any of the French offers was manifest in congressional circles today, following the interruption of negotiations. Nevidence was given of any intention to oppose the temporary five-year settlement when presented to congress for ratification, but the silence was regarded as the calm before the storm.

That opposition will be made is believed certain because of the cost of the temporary settlement to the American people.

Statisticians estimated today that this cost would be about $525,000,000 in the five year period.
