

SENATORS WANT TO END SERIES

Washington Team Needs Only One Game To Win World's Championship

By Henry L. Farrell
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
Washington, Oct. 12.—Within one game of baseball's greatest honor and its richest prize, the Washington Senators were anxious to end the 1925 world's series here today in the fifth game against Pittsburgh.

Three victories in the first four games are recorded for the Senators against the National league champions—three victories that mean more than a mathematical advantage.

The 1924 champions now need only one game to win the championship and they have more than a good chance to take the deciding game today.

The Senators were almost prohibitive favorites to win the series and the odds were long that they would win today behind Stanley Coveleskie, who failed to win the second game of the series.

Defens Is Airtight
The brilliant support that was given Walter Johnson in the few tight places he worked into during yesterday's game, made the Washington fans believe that almost any pitcher can win one more game with such spirited defense.

Johnson was found for only six hits, but each of them got him in a hole and it was only the superb fielding of young Bucky Harris, his manager, and several nice catches in the outfield that enabled him to register a shut-out and win his second game of the series.

Johnson Injures Leg
He pitched the last five innings with a severe "charley horse," which he pulled trying to stretch a hit in the fourth inning.

The Pirates had several fine chances to score but they have had such little energy with men on bases during the whole series that they were unable to make anything out of their opportunities.

It was pointed out before the series started that the Senators had a better defense and had an attack that by its timeliness might be more effective than the imposing array of 300 averages in the Pittsburgh batting order.

It has turned out so far to be that way. Although Washington considers it a cinch that the Senators will win again there was no waning of interest in today's game. The most interesting topic seemed to involve the question "What's the matter with the Pirates?"

Pirates Are Puzzle
The poor showing of the National league leaders might be explained if they were in a terrific batting slump, if they were crippled at a vital corner like the Senators are or if they were getting poor pitching. But their stupid baseball and their present curled up spirit cannot be explained.

Bucky Harris said today he fears that "Case" Bluege, who was bearded by Vic Aldridge in their second game, might not be able to play in the remaining games of the series and that he would use "Buddy" Myer, the $50,000 rookie, on third base.

Coveleskie is sure to pitch today and if he does not win his game, Alec Ferguson will be started tomorrow. "Fip" Marberry and Tom Zachary will be used for relief men.

Bill McKechnie, manager of the Pirates, said he planned on using Lee Meadows today and Aldridge tomorrow. He seemed certain that the teams are going back to Pittsburgh tonight for the sixth and seventh games of the series.

Today's Game Ended Share For Players

Washington, Oct. 12.—The world series players' pool, which closed Sunday with the addition of $78,235.50, amounts to $329,644.16, of which the eligible members of the two contesting teams will receive the lion's share.

The members of the second, third and fourth place teams in each of the big leagues will receive diminishing shares.

The total attendance at the four games thus far played was 159,264 and the total receipts $665,969.

The advisory council's share of the total receipts thus far amounts to $69,896.85.

The players' pool closes with the dividend from the fourth game. Sunday's figures were: Attendance, 38,701; receipts, $153,403; council share, $23,010.45; players' share, $78,235.50.

Only a few more people may buy a lot for $1.00 down, then $1.00 a week. The sale will not last long. Most of the lots are already sold. Come out today or tonight.

Supreme Court Reverses Decision In Murder Trial
Indianapolis, Oct. 12.—The state supreme court today reversed the decision of the Vigo county circuit court in the case of Joseph Parker, convicted of the murder of a policeman at Terre Haute, and sentenced to die Dec. 18.

Parker, who was in the state prison at Michigan City, will be turned over to the sheriff of Vigo county immediately and returned to Terre Haute for a new trial.

Action is expected late today on the petition of Edward Barber, also under sentence of death for the same murder, for a new trial.

MICHIGAN TEAM SHOWS STRENGTH

One-sided Win Over Indiana Makes Wolverines Favorite In Big Ten Race

By Edward C. Derr
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
Chicago, Oct. 12.—Michigan and Ohio State, by their showings Saturday, will be serious contenders for the football championship of the Big Ten conference.

Michigan's victory over Indiana had been expected but nobody anticipated such an overwhelming score as the Wolverines piled up. Any team that can beat another conference team 63 to 0, has an attack that should carry it a long way toward the title.

Ohio State lived up to the hopes of its followers by holding the heavier Chicago Maroons to a 3 to 3 tie. If the Buckeyes succeed in eliminating Iowa, they should find Michigan their biggest stumbling block in the path of a championship.

Chicago's vaunted driving attack proved useless against the scrappy Ohio line. The team that won the conference championship last year despite three tied games was forced to another tie in its 1925 opener.

The other conference teams were engaged in trial games. They came through without a fatality but Illinois was given a scare by Pat Page's Butler eleven, winning by the margin of 16 to 13. Red Grange came to life with some brilliant running but his line still looked weak and slow.

Only three conference games are scheduled for this week end. Illinois goes to Iowa City and unless Coach Zuppke can strengthen his line he may again see the pathetic spectacle of one of the greatest backfield men of all time stopped behind the line of scrimmage. Iowa has an improved team on the face of early performances and a victory over Illinois would not be considered a striking upset.

Michigan will face a strong team at Madison. Under George Little, a graduate of Michigan school of coaching, Wisconsin has a team that many critics look to be among the first three finishers.

Northwestern's wildcats, appearing better each year since they got Glenn Thistlewaite as their coach, meet Chicago in their annual city series and are expected to give the Maroons an even tougher battle than did Ohio State. A victory for Northwestern is more than possible providing Ralph "Moon" Baker, the star halfback, can get his injured ankle into condition.

Both teams had a few opportunities to score but lacked the power to crash through for a touchdown. The Yellow Jackets made three first downs on three consecutive forward passes in the latter part of the second quarter and had the ball deep in Portland territory when the half ended and spoiled the rally.

The team showed much improvement over the showing made against Fort Wayne Central a week ago. The offense had more drive and the defense held better. "Red" Acker, who played his first game with the Yellow Jackets since the game with Auburn here September 26, bore the brunt of the team's offense. He tore through the line for games and straight-armed his way for gains around the ends. Myers and Dierkes were strong in the line.

Portland Scores On Fumble
In the early part of the second quarter, the Yellow Jackets gained possession of the ball on their own 20-yard line. Bognor was called back out of the line to punt. The ball was passed back to him too high and he missed it. In the scramble for the ball, a Portland man picked it up and raced over the goal line for a touchdown. The attempt to kick goal failed. This ended the scoring for the game.

There was a large number of Decatur persons at the game. The Portland merchants had their store windows decorated in the high school colors and the home fans showed fine courtesy to the Yellow Jacket players and fans.

The Yellow Jackets will meet the Columbia City eleven on Abr's Field here next Saturday afternoon.

YELLOW JACKETS LOSE TIGHT GAME

D. H. S. Warriors Lose To Portland, 6-0; Score Made On A Fumble

In a stubbornly fought game, in which honors were evenly divided, the Decatur high school Yellow Jackets were defeated by the Portland Panthers at Portland last Saturday by a score of 6-0. Portland's lone touchdown was scored on a fumble in the second quarter. Outside of that one break, neither team had an advantage.

Portland was a heavy favorite to win from the Yellow Jackets before the game started, but soon after the start it was evident that the teams were evenly matched and that if either team won, it would win on breaks. Coach Marshall had shifted his lineup for the Portland game, and the change appeared to give strength to the team.

BROUGHT RELIEF AFTER 2 YEARS SUFFERING
"The makers of Tanlac will always have my warmest thanks, for I don't consider it any exaggeration to say I owe my life and present good health to Tanlac," is the striking statement of Andrew Greenleaf, fireman.

"I endured for 2 years from indigestion. At times gas pains would catch me around the heart and almost cut off my breath. These awful pains would last two or three hours. My nerves were all unstrung. I slept poorly and got in such a bad way that my days seemed to be shortening rapidly."

"I tried everything, but disappointment was my only reward until I began taking Tanlac. I have been taking Tanlac off and on for a year now and feel so different that there's no room for comparison. I eat good and sleep good and feel that Tanlac has given me a new lease on life."
