

PIRATES RESUME ATTACK AT HOME

Pittsburgh Team Returns to Old Form In Fifth Game Of World's Series

(By Henry L. Farrell, United Press Staff Correspondent)

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 13.—After staging a rally that was forced by sheer desperation, the Pittsburgh Pirates were back home again today to resume their attack on the Washington Senators in the sixth game of the world's series.

With a change of luck, the Pirates began to look like themselves in the fifth game when they rallied and prevented the American league champions from winning the game that would have ended the series.

Although the prospects are much brighter the Pirates are still in a hole where they have to win two games while the Senators have only one game between them and the winner's share of the big purse.

The weather this morning was threatening. It is always cloudy and smoky in Pittsburgh but there was a feeling of rain in the air, and a raw bite in the wind. The weather prediction was for rain.

The two teams arrived on a special train this morning and they were greeted by a small gathering of fans. The Senators were sure that they would end the series today and the Pirates expressed confidence that they would win the next two games.

"We're hitting now and that means everything," Bill McKechnie, manager of the Pirates, said. "When we get the kind of pitching that Vic Aldridge has shown in two games and start hitting like the boys did yesterday, we'll win this series."

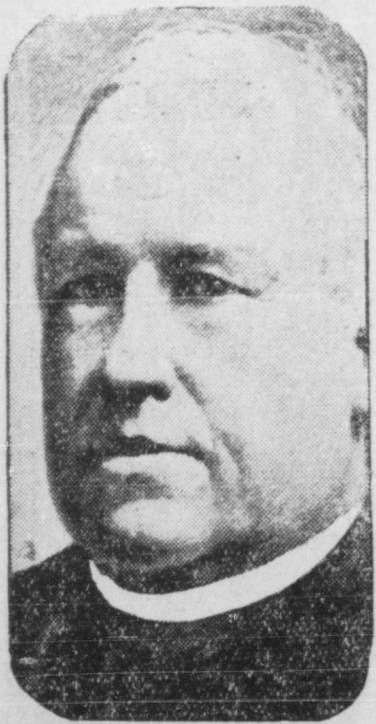

He said he had not decided who would pitch today's game but it seemed likely that Ray Kremer, who is in good form, would be asked to stop the American leaguers. Lee Meadows has a sore arm and cannot be used in another game.

Bucky Harris is getting in a tight place for pitchers now and he will be almost forced to start Alec Ferguson or Dutch Reuther today but Ferguson is likely to get the call. If the Pirates should win, the Senators would have to start Walter Johnson tomorrow and he would not be as strong without longer rest. It would not hurt the Senators if another day of rain broke into the series.

Coveleskie is in bad shape and he can't be used any more. His back is all taped and bandaged and it was obvious from the start of yesterday's game that he was not right.

Playing a hunch that some kind of a change in the lineup would bring a turn in luck, McKechnie benched Charley Grantham and put Stuffy McInnis, the veteran star, on first base. The change worked and it is likely that Stuffy will be used again today.

South Bend, Ind. — The final week of practice for the army game started with an intensive drill for Notre Dame. Army plays were tested and the seven-eleven's defense used against the Irish.

Cub-White Sox Series May End With Today's Game

Chicago, Oct. 13.—Today's game may end the city series, the Cubs having won three games and a victory today would settle the city championship battle with the White Sox.

The Sox, despite a better record during the season, have won but one game.

The Cubs increased their lead to three games yesterday by hitting opportunely while Kaufmann held the Sox to five hits. The Cubs won 3-1.

The Fourth Down BY WILLIE PUNT

The Yellow Jackets took a little exercise on a muddy field yesterday evening. A strenuous workout is on hands for this evening in preparation for the game with Columbia City.

Billy Bell was re-elected yell leader this morning. It's up to Billy and his assistants to stir up lots of enthusiasm now. Lots of pep for the home team and plenty of courtesy for the visitors should be the rule.

After reading the account of the Fort Wayne Central-Columbia City game in the Columbia City Post, we came to the conclusion that the C. C. fans were not very well pleased with the officiating of Bauerle. Of Fort Wayne. The Post accused Bauerle of closing his eyes when Central players pulled unnecessary roughness and seeing fouls on the home team when there weren't any.

Although outclassed throughout the game last Saturday, the Indiana warriors fought gamely against the Michigan team until the final gun, according to all reports from Ann Arbor. On the last play of the game, when Michigan had the ball and the score was 63-0, a Michigan back was thrown for a loss by a charging Hoosier. Surely that kind of fight will be rewarded sooner or later.

Bluffton football fans ought to get a big kick out of the 6-3 victory of the Bluffton Triangles over the Fort Wayne Yales last Sunday.

PICKING JURY IS SLOW PROCEDURE

Little Progress Made In Selection Of Jury In Stephenson Trial

Noblesville, Ind., Oct. 13.—Prospects of early selection of the jury to try D. C. Stephenson, Earl Klenck and Earl Gentry on charges of murdering Miss Madge Oberholzer, faded today.

The defense attorneys continued to remove man after man for having an opinion in the case formed from reading the newspapers.

It appeared possible that another special venire of 100 men would have to be called before the jury was finally impaneled for the trial.

Court was late in opening because a number of the prospective jurors did not report on time. Judge Sparks rebuked them.

Stephenson had a worried look on his face as he came into court and sat down at the table beside his attorneys.

NEW URGES MORE AIRCRAFT ACTIVITY

Postmaster General Thinks Commercial Aviation Should Be Encouraged

By William J. McEvoy

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
Washington, Oct. 13.—The government should abandon its "stand still" attitude toward aviation and inquire into the commercial future of aeronautics, Postmaster General New told the president's special air board today in his second appearance before it.

New reiterated his belief that the government should encourage commercial aviation by establishing a system of airways, equipped with lighted landing fields for night flying. The needed stimulus would be given the commercial field and the manufacturing industry, he said, by setting up a continuing national program for promotion of aeronautics.
