Daily Report Of Local And Foreign Markets

CHICAGO GRAIN REVIEW

Wheat was the main attraction in initial dealings on the board of trade today. The leading cereal was weak and lower. Coarse grains made inconsequential changes.

Without the support of cash buyers wheat sagged. Disappointed longs and shorts were best sellers. The latter looked for the strong cash situation to assert itself in later trading. Liverpool made fractional upturns.

Sentiment in corn was inclined to be bearish. Trade at the opening prosaized little activity during today's session.

Oats started unchanged on a featureless market.

Urovisions dropped on a continuation of cash selling.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS

Notice is hereby given that Monday, November 2, 1925 will be the last day for paying your fall installment of taxes. The Treasurer's office will be open from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. during the tax paying season. All taxes not paid by that time will become delinquent and a penalty of 10% will be added. Do not put off your taxes as they must be paid, and the law points out the duty of the taxpayer. Those who have bought or sold property and wish a division of taxes should come in at once. Don't wait for the rush. No receipts can be laid away for anyone, so do not ask for it.

ALL OVER INDIANA

Frankfort. — A giant cottonwood tree, 100 feet high and six feet in diameter, which blew down near here, was brought from Ohio as a cottonwood switch in 1834 by the father and mother of Mrs. William Grull, here.

Bluffton. — Motorists here will have to watch their step now. Three new electric signs, stop and go signals, have just been installed by the city.

Elwood. — Warm weather here has its effects upon the trees, vines and shrubs. Several persons have reported freaks of trees, vines and shrubs. A pear tree at the home of Glen Poor has blossomed again, and small pears have formed on it.

Windfall. — A plan of co-operative live stock marketing, whereby producers will sell directly to the packers, will be tried out here. It is believed to be the first venture in this direction ever tried in the United States.

Sidney. — The largest apple crop ever produced in this section is being harvested around here. The fruit is retailing at $2.00 a bushel.

Terre Haute. — Terre Haute will have 27,000 voters in the fall election for mayor, out of a possible 27,087. Those not voting failed to register.

Nappanee. — North-central Indiana producers near here are holding their onions for higher prices. The crop is growing 'strong,' bringing from $1.75 to $2 a hundred pounds.

Elwood. — Police responded when residents said suspicious looking strangers were trying to enter the New Process laundry. The alleged burglars proved to be the plate factory workers who had just arrived in the city with tools.

Marion. — Approximately 500 persons received a sample of the mammoth water melon when it was cut here. The giant specimen, which had been exhibited in a Marion drug store was grown in Arkansas.

Tipton. — A watch, lost by Robert Haskett in a wreck at the Range Line road and the Nickel Plate railroad, near here August 20, was found undamaged by Sarley Kelly. When wound the timepiece ran perfectly.

Warsaw. — More than $50,000 has been paid to Kosciusko county farmers during the last few days by the Pierceton Packing company which is converting hundreds of tons of tomatoes into catsup.

Bluffton. — Jail break at Bluffton. A monkey-faced owl on display in the H. Thomas furniture store rung the wires of its cage and escaped.

Alexandria. — George K. Sherman, newsboy, is watching his step in the woods from now on. He's suffering from poison ivy.

Marion. — The fourth annual reunion of the 139th Field Artillery will be held here Friday and Saturday.

Lafayette. — Rev. Frank Daugherty has been called to the pastorate of the First Methodist church at Marion.

Seymour. — L. C. Bacon, grocer here, may have cherries by Thanksgiving. His cherry tree is in bloom, although the leaves are shedding.

Muncie. — Citizens through the Chamber of Commerce have guaranteed $25,000 to purchase the site of the proposed Knights of Pythias home.

Plymouth. — Salaries of the police here have been raised from $90 to $125 per month.

Spikerville. — Theodore Russell is exhibiting a squash weighing thirty pounds.

Lebanon. — Mrs. Bessie Smith of here has filed a suit for divorce against Charles A. Smith, alleging he abandoned her twenty-six years ago. She said she did not know of his whereabouts until he returned to attend the funeral of his father a short time ago.

Columbia City. — An epidemic of disaster is causing the death of many dogs owned by residents here. Veterinarians have been unable to ascertain the cause.

Mansion. — Ripe strawberries are on the daily menu at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Murray of here. A patch of Everbearing berries is still producing fruit.

Bloomington. — Death is fast thinning the ranks of the Paul E. Slocum Post G. A. R. here. Post has lost six members this year and now only sixty-six members are left on the roster.

CLAYPOOL. — Melba Shoemaker Strayer of here is nothing if not regular. She attended the public schools here for twelve continuous years without even missing a half day, and without ever having been tardy.

MARION.—Production of the Marion Shoe Company here is to be increased from 1,000 pairs a day to 1,200 pairs, according to Lindley Butterworth, sales manager. New machinery is to arrive within the next week.

Warsaw. — After two years deliberation the city council has decided to buy a 700-gallon pumper for the fire department costing $12,750.

Washburn. — Plum trees on the farm of H. P. Bare, near here, are in full bloom. The same trees bloomed out last year but failed to bare fruit.

RADIUM TREATMENT OF CANCER

DR. FREDERICK B. GREEN
Editor of "HEALTH"

THE treatment of cancer by radium is one of the miracles of modern science. While we do not as yet know the cause of cancer nor why it occurs in some people and not in others, we do know that, in certain forms of cancer, if used early, radium is almost a certain cure.

The discovery of radium itself reads like a fairy story. It has, of course, always existed but until 25 years ago its existence was unknown and unsuspected.

Röntgen discovered the X rays in 1895. This discovery naturally stimulated interest in all forms of rays. In 1896, Becquerel, a French scientist, found that uranium, one of the rare metals, gave off strange radiations unlike anything previously known.

Madame Curie, a Polish woman, wife of Professor Curie of Paris, became interested in studying these strange rays. She found that some specimens of uranium had much greater activity than others and so concluded that the rays were due, not to the uranium itself, but to some other substance present in uranium in different amounts. In 1900, she succeeded in separating this substance, which she called radium.

Shortly after, Rutherford, an English scientist, found that radium gave off three different kinds of rays, which he called A, B and C rays; so using the Greek letters, as is common in scientific work, he named them Alpha, Beta and Gamma rays.

These rays differ in strength, as shown by their ability to penetrate different substances. The Alpha rays are very weak, so much so that they can be stopped by a single thickness of paper. The Beta rays are stopped by thin sheets of metal, while the Gamma rays are the strongest of all and are not stopped by anything, so far as we know.

No one knew that these rays had any effect on the body until, in 1901, Professor Becquerel received a radium burn from carrying a bottle of radium salts in his pocket. It was then found that the Gamma rays had a wonderful effect on the body cells, stimulating them in small doses and destroying them in large ones and, most remarkable of all, that these rays in doses so small as to have no effect on healthy cells, would kill cancer cells, especially in skin cancers where the rays come into direct contact with the cancerous growth. The cancer is destroyed and the skin heals almost without a scar.

This treatment is especially effective in cancer of the tongue, lip, cheek, ear and nose. To be of any value, it must be used early, before the glands under the jaws and in the neck become enlarged. Early treatment with radium will cure most skin cancers.

St. Marys-of-the-Woods—Contractors are stumped in placing lightning rods on two small smoke stacks at the academy here. Pigeon was obtained, a string tied to its foot with the idea that the bird would fly up through the chimney. By this means they hoped to draw a pipe up through the chimney. The pigeon did its part but the string broke. An airplane may be used next.

Peru. — Constabulary powers given several hundred persons by former board of county commissioners have been revoked by the present Miami county board.

Evansville—Richard Williams, 17, told city court he did not want to steal a freight ride so he took an auto to get to Indianapolis to get a job. He was held to circuit court.

Bluffton—Ben Bennett looked into the gasoline tank of his auto at Hartford City to see if he had enough gas to drive home. He did, but didn't go back to Bluffton. He was badly burned in the explosion.

Newcastle—Newcastle had a big thrill. A pickpocket stole W. G. Bledsoe's purse, and chased by a crew hopped an interurban. The interurban jammed Sam Biffin's auto against the curb, wrecking it. When Doodwils Brothers wrecking crew lifted the auto, the truck reared up on its rear wheels and almost turned over.

Tyne. — Mrs. Ira Pittenger says here is glad she is not a flapper. Her husband shot her in the leg when he mistook her for a chicken thief, but heavy and long skirts saved her from being seriously injured.

Clinton. — Republicans here have a candidate for city treasurer. Mrs. Belle Miller has been nominated, after Henry Nichols, who received the honor in the primary moved from the city.

Alexandria—Comes Paul Schier of here with the story that he is eating green beans out of his own garden.

Attica—The first of the fall crop of paw-paws were placed on the market here recently.
