

INDIANA PAYS FINAL HONOR TO RALSTON

"LOVERS' LANE" BANDIT SOUGHT IN WISCONSIN

Murder Near Kenosha Resembles Slaying Of Fort Wayne Couple

DETECTIVE FROM FORT WAYNE JOINS SEARCH

Kenosha, Wis., Oct. 17.—(United Press)—Search for a moron-bandit, who is believed responsible for several "lovers' lane" holdups in the mid-west, was started today in connection with the double murder of pretty Madeline Latimer and her sweetheart, James Sears. The young couple was slain in Sears' automobile early Thursday as it was parked along a lovers' lane near Kenosha.

Just as local authorities felt they had exhausted every possible clue in their investigation of the double slaying, Walter Kavanaugh, Fort Wayne, Ind., detective, arrived by airplane to aid in the search. Kavanaugh went here because of the similarity of the murder here with the slaying of Howard Fischer and Katherine Herbers, near Fort Wayne, on May 6 of this year.

Preys On "Spoons"

It was revealed in the investigation by the Fort Wayne authorities that the "bicycle bandit" laid in wait along roads used by "spooning couples" and would approach them and demand their cash and jewelry, threatening them with exposure if they resisted.

Fearing such exposure, the victims failed to enter complaints, it is believed, and as the result the man was able to continue his banditry unmolested by the law.

Sheriff Frank Willemis expressed the opinion that Sears was shot first and that Miss Latimer fainted when she saw her lover slump in the seat. The murder then deliberately placed the muzzle of the revolver to the forehead of the girl and fired, ending her life, so as to avoid detection.

FARMS DECREASE IN NUMBER IN U. S.

Agricultural America Undergoes Profound Changes In Past Five Years

Washington, Oct. 17.—(United Press)—Agricultural America in the past five years has undergone profound changes, resulting in a loss in the total number of farms under cultivation, according to the 1925 farm census, results of which were announced by the census bureau today.

The total number of farms in the United States at the present time was placed at 6,372,608, compared with 6,448,343 in 1920, a decrease of 75,735 farms, or 1.2 per cent of the total. The bare figures, however, do not tell the story of farm abandonments and the sub-division of great ranches into smaller units which has disguised the extent of the decline.

Abandonments were greater in the south than elsewhere. The west compensated somewhat for this loss by turning in an increase but this increase was at the expense of great ranches and ranges, which were cut up into smaller units without increase of acreage.

The general trend, it is shown, has been toward more intensive operation with the small tract and poultry farm replacing the larger acreage where diversified farming has been the practice.

The ravages of the boll-weevil in the cotton states and the migration of negro farm workers were reported, it was stated, for the decline in the number of farms in the south.

The number of ranches along the Pacific slopes increased 31,413 in the five year period, it was shown.

WALTER HUGHES IS BACK IN JAIL

Hartford City Man Arrested Second Time In Fight Over County Office

Hartford City, Ind., Oct. 17.—Walter Hughes, democrat, who stubbornly refuses to give up the office of county auditor on order of the state supreme court, is back in jail today facing charges of usurping a public office.

Hughes was arrested and placed in jail yesterday on a warrant sworn out by Ruth Werber, republican, head of the supreme court to be the rightful county auditor.

He secured his release on bond and after a few hours of liberty was rearrested on a second warrant and spent the night in jail.

The court has set no bond on the second warrant and both democratic and republican politicians are awaiting Hughes' release as a signal to renew the fight.

For the few hours that Hughes was free, Blackford county had two auditors. Leaving the jail, Hughes went to the auditor's office, took off his coat and went to work.

Miss Werber, who had assumed the office as soon as Hughes was arrested, continued to work in the same room.

The contest over the office has been in the courts for two years. The supreme court held Miss Werber the winner and this week denied Hughes' petition for a rehearing.

Many special meetings for each school department will be held during the three-day session at Indianapolis and much valuable information is always obtained by the teachers. MAKES REPORT ON CLUBS IN DISTRICT

Retiring Chairman Of District Federation Sends Report To This City

Mrs. Charles C. Deam, of Bluffton, retiring chairman of the Eighth district of the Indiana Federation of Clubs, has forwarded her report on the district to the clubs in the different cities in the district. The district includes six counties. The report, which is of interest to all club women of the city, is as follows:

"The retiring chairman of the Eighth district, which consists of six counties, is pleased to report 56 paid up memberships in the District Federation.

"The Randolph County Federation consists of 20 clubs, three of which are federated with the District and three with the State.

"The Jay County Federation was organized this year, and has a membership of 16 clubs, four of which are federated with the District.

"The Wells County Federation has evolved this year from a City Federation to a County Federation of 24 clubs, nearly half of which are rural clubs. Of these 23 are federated with the District, two with the state and one with the General Federation.

"The Federate Club of Clubs of Muncie and Delaware county has a membership of 33 clubs. Of these, thirteen are federated with the District, twelve with the State and two with the General Federation.

"The Madison County Federation consists of 11 clubs, ten of which are federated with the District.

"Adams county has not yet organized, but there is reason to think it will in the near future. Three of their clubs are Federated with the District and two with the State.

"The counties usually hold two regular meetings a year, with called meetings when necessary. The district chairman attended six county conventions, besides speaking to numerous clubs and township gatherings.

"We found the club women of the district most willing to help carry out the policy of the state. Individual clubs and county chairmen seemed to feel the need of a closer touch with the present organization. We believe that some arrangement whereby state officers and heads of state departments could have personal touch with county conventions or other large club gatherings, would be an excellent means of acquainting clubs with the worth and magnitude of our State Federation and would result in a greater number of State Federated Clubs. Perhaps the Club Institutes and itineraries of state speakers to the various county conventions will solve the problem.

"At the district convention held in Bluffton April 22, the subjects of Mental Health, Nutrition in the Home and Memorial Trees were considered. Much inspiration was received from the address and personal touch of our state president, Mrs. O. M. Pittinger.

"The district federation met its quota for the Pauntleroy fund, bought 'The Life of Lincoln' by Chas. Moores for the general federation headquarters, and assisted individually and collectively in entertaining the biennial council at West Baden.

"The hospitality fund received by the district chairman amounted to $52.50. Of this the clubs of Randolph county gave $4.50, of Adams county $10.00, of Madison county $23.00, of Wells county $11.00 and of Delaware county $4.00. Delaware county reported that they had sent $26.20 direct to the state officials making a total of $78.70 from the Eighth district.

"We have tried to faithfully provide (CONTINUED ON PAGE EIGHT)

ANDERSON PULLS ROBBERY IN SOUTH

Man Who Held Up Bank In West Virginia Believed To Be "Dutch"

Huntington, W. Va., Oct. 17.—This town hasn't enjoyed a bank robbery since Jesse James called in the 80's. But yesterday a bandit as good as Jesse ever was, dropped in at the Guyandotte bank. He was "Dutch" Anderson, boon comrade of Gerald Chapman, bandit de luxe.

With two apprentice helpers, "Dutch" flashed a pistol and helped himself to $7,000. He asked for $80,000 but the polite cashier was unable to serve that on short order.

So "Dutch" bowed out and departed hurriedly in the usual high powered car.

Police say they have drawn a net over the neighborhood. They think "Dutch" will get tangled in it.

Police say the bandit's description tallied on all points with that of Chapman's partner. The bank cashier, who claims to have seen Anderson, was positive the bandit was he.
