Show an interest in your city. Get ready to vote. The officials elected Tuesday, November 3rd., will conduct your municipal affairs the next four years.

The usual number of upsets occurred in Saturday's football games. The Army defeated Notre Dame, Ohio nosed out the great Columbia team, Iowa won over Illinois and Holy Cross took Harvard. That's what makes it interesting, you never can tell just what will happen in college sports.

By the way, you aren't overlooking the Calithumpian parade on Halloween or neglecting your preparations to take part, are you? Its a good idea to furnish entertainment for those who gather here to shop and trade and the event is sure to furnish a lot of fun and pleasure. Help make it a big success. Its good to play once in a while.

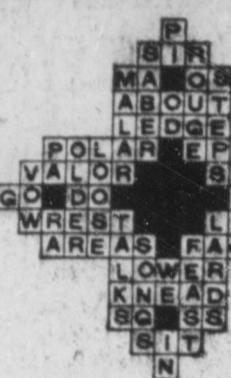

Senator Ralston has been laid to rest and now begins the scramble for his place in Washington. They may find as good an orator as good a politician but they will most likely not find one who will prove a better friend to the people. Men and women from every walk of life, regardless of politics have expressed but one opinion and that is that the nation will be poorer without the services of this great public character.

Decatur is a moral city and by that we mean that the laws are well enforced here and that our people are well behaved. Few cities in all the land can boast of better regulations, less crime or a better people. We defy any person to disprove these statements and we resent any intimation that Decatur is not the best city in the state in every way. Our police force is efficient, we have a splendid fire department, we have the equipment for protection of property and we congratulate those who have been in authority and who have brought about the conditions existing.

The Rt. Rev. John F. Noll, bishop of the Fort Wayne Catholic diocese made his first official visit here yesterday, confirming a class of boys and girls and assisting in the dedication of the handsome new school. The bishop has many friends here, both in and out of his church, who recognize in him a man of broad ideas, splendid ability and pleasing personality. He was for many years publisher and editor of "Our Sunday Visitor," at Huntington and was recognized there as one of the progressive leaders in every way. He is a speaker of ability, has a voice which filled the large auditorium and a direct manner of saying things in a convincing manner.

Two weeks from next Tuesday is election day, an important occasion for every citizen and every taxpayer, for those elected that day will handle large sums of money each year during the next four years. They will fix the tax rate, operate the city plant, spend your money. George Krick, the candidate for mayor has had years of experience as a manufacturer, knows how to conduct affairs, how to buy material, how to save money for the city. For four years he has served in an important capacity on the city council and if elected will begin his duties January 1st., with a knowledge of what is before him. ## Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

Hunter, George Miller and Fred Ashbacher as councilmen and by Mrs. Magley as treasurer and Mrs. Kaufman as clerk, you may feel assured of excellent management of public affairs.

This is a democratic city politically, that party having a majority of several hundred in every general election. During the past twelve years democrats have been in charge of affairs in the city and we point to the record made by them with pride. We doubt if there can be found in the entire state a better one. We are paying off the city debt and progressing, we have a municipal light, power and water plant that is unexcelled anywhere, we have built streets, added several miles of ornamental lights, built a swimming pool and reconstructed the city plant and at the same time reduced the tax rate and have money in the treasury. That is certainly the kind of management which will receive your endorsement at the polls. Two weeks from tomorrow is election day and it is time that the voters be apprised of the policies of candidates. We believe most of you know the facts but there is always danger of laxity in voting unless a campaign of sufficient interest to arouse the voters is made. There should be several public meetings held and there should be an organization to get out the vote which will not permit a slip.

Yesterday was, as the speakers at the dedicatory exercises expressed it, a gala day for the members of St. Mary's Catholic church of Decatur, marking as it did the realization of a dream of years and the culmination of great effort by Rev. Seimetz, his assistant, Rev. Peters, and by many of the members of the congregation. Rev. Louis A. Tieman, of Cincinnati, and Bishop Noll, both expressed the highest praise for the accomplishment and declared the wonderful school building unexcelled in few cities. Bishop Noll made the statement that in all of Europe not a single exclusive parochial school building could be found to compare with it and so we say there was a genuine cause for celebrating the dedication with smiles. It has been a big task and will continue to be so but with the enthusiasm so far shown and the determination of those in charge it will prove a success and a worthwhile asset to the community. Rev. Tieman who has assisted in a great many dedications, his special duties being in such work, was outspoken in his praises for the work done here, as was Bishop Noll. The exercises were largely attended and thoroughly enjoyed.

INVESTMENTS
I have some extra dollars which were better saved than spent. And so I'll buy a gilt-edged bond to earn me four percent. I'll call that an investment, 'tis a term all bankers use. But one which money-minded men so frequently abuse. Not all investments pay in gold, some pay in peace of mind. And some in happy memories of days when we were kind. Life gives us countless dividends in payment for our deeds. The marigolds are coupons which we cut from planted seeds. The good will of our neighbors is a joy which we collect. From having neighbored with them in a way they could respect. Our children are investments, too, in which our worth shall show. For seldom 'tis by luck or chance good men and women grow. We are investors, one and all, by each a choice is made. Some risk their lives in art and some invest them in a trade. And who shall give his best to life shall reap his dividends in peace of mind and happiness, the love and trust of friends; But who invests in selfishness, in cunning or in shame, Shall find, however filled his purse, he's played a losing game. Bleak poverty of spirit is a failure that is worse. Than the error of wrong judgment which brings poverty to purse. For money may be squandered, and a stock not worth its cost, But a good name lives forever and a kind deed's never lost. So I'd invest my hands and brain in all life's fine things And seek the compensation which that sort of venture brings.

LITTLE MISS CHATTERBOX
Little Miss Chatterbox, all the day through
Never was brook that could babble like you;
Never was rivulet, rippling and clear
Could pour such a flood of sweet sound on the ear;
Even the fairies who live in the glen
Know that the song birds keep still now and then.
Little Miss Chatterbox, lovely and young,
Never a bell had so active a tongue.
With the first sunbeam you start in to shout
And of words, until evening, you never run out.
Never a waterfall, tumbling at play
As it runs to the sea could have so much to say.
Little Miss Chatterbox, where did you learn
All the big words which you twist and you turn?
How did you gather that volume of speech?
Even the waves which roll in on the beach
Sometimes are silent, but a l the day through
Somebody has to be listening to you.
Little Miss Chatterbox, babble away,
There is more joy in the things which you say,
More lovely laughter, and more tender mirth
Than in all of the brooks and the rivers of earth.
Nothing in nature, untutored, and wild
Approaches the charm of a chatter-box child.

State Deputy Examiners Receive Many Questions

Indianapolis, Oct. 19. — Legal nurse-maids for the state of Indiana, that is what Walt Owen and Greenberry Lowe, deputy examiners for the state board of accounts have come to be. Questions of all kinds, lengths and degrees of absurdity come drifting to these men through the mails. Many of the questions come from county officials but even a few citizens write in for information. Just the other day the examiners found in the mail an inquiry as to whether it would be necessary to hold an election in a certain city, there being only one ticket in the city.
Another county official wanted to know if he was authorized to pay for a dog killed under an order of the board of health.
The dog fund seems to be the greatest puzzle to officials hundreds of letters are received each month relative to the administration of that fund.
It is said that in many cases farmers will demand payment for sheep which died from asthma or colic, claiming the animal was killed by a dog.
First Church of Christ, Scientist, Fort Wayne, announces a free lecture on Christian Science by Mr. John Randall Dunn, C. S. B., of Boston, Mass., member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., to be given in the Majestic Theatre Tuesday evening, October 20th, at 8 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend.

RADIO TOPICS

Tuning Up The Old Set

The Radio season is now in full swing, and to insure the best results from a set that has been in use for some time, several things should be looked after. A list of these follows:
Go over your aerial and ground system, resoldering all joints if necessary. Clean the insulators, and inspect the lightning arrester. Tighten the ground clamp, and make sure you have a good clean connection on the water pipe, or whatever you may be using as a ground. A good aerial and ground are necessary for good reception, and the little time that it takes to go over same, will be well spent. After you have things on the outside in A-1 shape, you are ready to begin on the set, etc., on the inside.
Every owner of a set using a storage "A" battery, should have a hydrometer, or in other words a battery tester. The cost of same is not very much, and by using it you can tell, at all times, the exact condition of your battery. In all probability the battery has set through the summer months without receiving much attention. It should be filled with sufficient distilled water to cover the plates about one-half inch. Never allow the water to get below the plates, as to do so may prove harmful to the battery. Clean the terminals good, and give them a good coating of vasoline, to prevent corrosion. If you are using dry cell "A" batteries, test them with an ammeter, and if they are down, replace them with new ones.
Next comes the "B" batteries—another thing every fan should have as regular equipment is a voltmeter for testing the "B's". Using the voltmeter, place one terminal on the negative post, and the other on the positive. If a 22½-volt battery tests below 15 and a 45-volt below 25 they should be replaced with fresh ones.

When testing a 45-volt battery try the 22½ volt tap, also. Occasionally you'll find a battery testing zero on the 45 tap, and nearly full voltage on the 22½ tap. This being due to a dead cell between the two. In a case of this kind use the 22½ volt part of the battery, by taking the wire off the 45 tap and placing it on the 22½. Now for the set itself. The condenser plates will collect considerable dust, etc., and they should be cleaned by running a pipe cleaner through them. Test the "B" battery circuit by pushing the plug of the ear phones into the jacks, and then removing it. A good click should result.
Now for one of the most important parts of your receiver—the tubes. It is almost impossible for the average owner to accurately test his own tubes, and these should be taken to a dealer having a tube tester. There you can find out the exact condition of your tubes. This is a very important part of getting your set in trim, as you cannot expect good results from any set, if one or several of the tubes are defective.
On nearly every make of loud speaker you will find one of the cords marked with a red stripe. This cord should connect to the B plus, spring of the jack, or binding post. If you do not know which one that is, try them one way, and with a station tuned in, carefully note the results. Then try them the other way, and permanently connect the way giving the loudest and clearest reception.

Tighten all connections, and solder all loose, or near loose ones. Clean the contact springs in the sockets, and make sure the tubes fit down tightly on them. Clean the pins on the bottom of the tubes with a fine piece of sand paper.
If you have carefully followed the above instructions, your set should be in ship shape, and give you splendid service through the season.

May Give More Authority To County Superintendents

Indianapolis, Oct. 19.—A more effective statute designed to enforce appointments made by county superintendents was forecast today by Attorney General Gilliom.

Under the present statutes county superintendents have the authority to appoint book dealers to supply school books for the county. It is understood that when the superintendents name new dealers the dealers who formerly held the appointment continue to sell books. They do this by virtue of their old appointment and it is said that friction often results.

The present statute, the attorney general said, has little force merely making it unlawful to sell books above the standard price. It has been recommended that Dr. Henry Noble Sherwood, state superintendent of public instruction, draft a more effective statute and present it to the next legislature.

No more RHEUMATISM

IT'S GONE! That awful agony! Rheumatism can't stand the rich, red blood that S. S. S. helps Nature build.
But rheumatism will bring pain and misery to your joints and muscles just as long as you are without plenty of rich, red blood in your system. It's the red-blood-cells that S. S. S. helps Nature build that drive out of your system the impurities that cause rheumatism. And until you do build up your blood to where it is pure and rich and red, you simply can't get rid of rheumatism.
And S. S. S. is the thing. Red blood conquers rheumatism. Everybody knows that.
S. S. S. means millions of red-blood cells—means health all over. No more rheumatism. Nights of rest—days of joy, filled with the happiness of accomplishment—made possible by a body brimful of red blooded life, energy and vitality. That's what the end of rheumatism means—that's what S. S. S. brings to you. Get S. S. S. from your druggist. The larger bottle is more economical.
