Build a home in Decatur, boost for the best town in this part of the country, do your part and take your responsibility. The more home owners we have the better it is for every one.

The democratic candidates and committeemen met last evening and planned the campaign which will be a lively one from this time on until election day. You are invited to visit headquarters.

Ladies of Decatur are urged to attend as many of the precinct democratic meetings as they can. It is important that you assist in the organization for election day. Attend and take a part in the campaign. It's your right and your vote counts the same as any other. So does your influence.

The democratic ladies will make a complete organization in each precinct in the city. Mrs. T. J. Durkins is the city chairman and has named two assistants in each precinct who will assist in creating interest and getting out the vote on election day. Meetings will be held over the city and the platform and the record of candidates will be discussed.

The November number of the American magazine contains a feature article boosting Charles Archbold, former Decatur man and now considered one of the best advertising men of the country. His speciality is trite sayings and he has written thousands of them. Here's one every one should remember: "Watch the car behind the one just ahead of you." Charles has made good and every one here is glad of it.

Citizens here were startled last evening to see a car of ministers hanging through the streets, with a string of tin pans and cans attached to the rear of the automobile and the occupants of the car laughing like a lot of boys. And why not? We have become rather accustomed to the dignified attitude of the minister and its good to find them just as human as the editor or the merchant or any one else. It's a great thing to relax and evidently the pastors were doing it last evening.

A smoker will be given at democratic headquarters next Wednesday night and all the men are invited. Candidates and others will speak and you will enjoy the event. The ladies will hold precinct meetings over the city and on the Monday evening just prior to the election a general meeting will be held. You are urged to attend, to visit headquarters, to take part in the coming election when those officials who are to control affairs for four years to come, will be elected.

Arthur R. Robinson, Indianapolis attorney, was last night appointed by Governor Jackson to succeed the late Samuel M. Ralston as a member of the United States senate. He will begin his services at the December session and will serve until his successor is elected next year and qualifies. Senator Robinson belongs to the Jackson crowd of politicians and his appointment was expected provided the governor decided not to bring about his own appointment. The new official is said to be an able speaker. He served as floor leader of the state senate several years ago and was a candidate for the nomination of United States senator at one time but was defeated. Albert J. Beveridge, former member of the senate, Warren Fairbanks, of the Indianapolis News, Frank Ball, of Muncie, and other men of more prominence than Robinson were urged for the place but evidently did not please the governor. Two members of the senate will be chosen next year. Senator Watson will be a candidate to succeed himself and Senator Robinson will also very probably seek a nomination. It is expected that others who have the desire will enter the races and a lively campaign, both spring and fall is predicted by the wisest politicians.

We do not feel that Decatur is a wicked city. On the contrary we believe it one of the best in all the country, morally and otherwise. The democrats will make their campaign this year on the record made by the present and previous administrations and will point to the fact that this community is now in excellent financial condition, is well policed by efficient men, has a good fire department and many improvements of which we are justly proud. The coming election is important for those elected on November 3rd will control the policies during the next four years.

Shabbona, Ill., Oct. 21.—(United Press).—Local school teachers must not yield to the entertainment offered by nearby cities more than one week-end out of the month.

The local board of education made this ruling recently after J. B. Stout, superintendent of schools, had said that the teachers did not take sufficient interest in the civic affairs of the town. Nine teachers are employed in the schools here.

WHEN NELL GETS ME ALONE

You might think as you see, us together at tea
Or whatever the public occasion For never in public her anguish is shown
That my wife has complete admiration She tells me my faults when she gets me alone.

You might fancy when noting the smile on her face
As I make some remark to the throng And shudder to note what a boob I can be!
That she thinks me a marvel of conduct and grace Though she hides it from you, she explains it to me.

And perhaps you may think as to No man to his wife is a hero, full-grown,
And she shares in the laugh at the Complete admiration no husband has known.
That to her way of thinking I've For she tells him the truth when she gets him alone.

Evansville, Ind., Oct. 21.—The citizens of Evansville are faced with a peculiar situation and are wondering just how it can be remedied.

Dr. O. Hovda, head of the physics department of Evansville college recently conducted a series of tests which proved that more soot falls in this city in the summer than in the winter.

The tests showed that average ton-

United Kingdom Urges Local Option; American Prohibition Examined

London, Oct. 21.—(United Press.)—With the United Kingdom alliance convention preaching "local option" as an entering wedge for prohibition and Lloyd George counselling sober examination of American prohibition as a possible model to England, the nation today was giving attention to the wet and dry problem.

Both the alliance and Lloyd George held that Britain's drink bill is a menace in view of the economic situation of the country. Lloyd George supplemented his remarks with a kind word for the American government.

He declared there ought not to be here indiscriminate "condemnation of prohibition which has been carried by 110,000,000." And he added, no political party in the United States dares now to ask abolition of the dry law.

It is impossible to get anywhere if you are a crab. Nobody loves you. To be successful you must have a kindly, lovable disposition. You can not have this with an unhealthy liver and stomach.
