

BIG GRID GAMES HOLD INTEREST

Eastern, Western And Inter- sectional Contests In- terest Sport World

Philadelphia, Oct. 24.—(United Press)—Pennsylvania and Chicago, pillars of intersectional football, relations after a lapse of 24 years in the Franklin field stadium this afternoon in one of the most interesting games of the day.

Pennsylvania, with one of the best teams developed here in years, is campaigning for the championship of the east and Chicago, western conference champions of 1924, is still in the race for the championship of the Big Ten.

Ideal weather prevailed. There was just enough bite in the wind to make it feel like football weather and the playing field was firm enough for fast football.

Pennsylvania officials said that 64,000 tickets had been sold and that at least 10,000 more could have been marketed if there was enough room in the stadium.

Several sections of the upper tier will be opened for the first time. Michigan vs. Illinois.

Urbana, Ill., Oct. 24.—(United Press)—Red Grange and his Illini football warriors played hosts today to Benny Friedman and his Michigan teammates in a game that drew 67,000 fans to Memorial stadium.

The twin cities of Champaign and Urbana were stampeded by rooters from Michigan and fans from all sections of the middlewest. More than twice the number of people living in the two cities were pounding the pavements toward the huge stadium and policemen from Chicago directed the beehive of automobile traffic.

Tickets could not be purchased at any price. The 67,000 seats were sold several weeks ago and many thousand requests were turned down.

A spirit of revenge was obvious in the Michigan partisans. It was Grange who last year spilled Michigan out of the conference title by spiriting to four touchdowns in the first quarter of the Michigan-Illinois game. This year Red's support is weak and the Wolverines are strengthened which points to a Michigan victory unless Grange breaks loose again.

Notre Dame vs. Minnesota. Memorial Field, Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 24.—(United Press)—The supreme test of Doc Clarence Spears' coaching of Minnesota came today when the Gopher squad faced Knute Rockne's Notre Dame team.

More than 50,000 spectators were expected in the new stadium. Almost the entire student body of Notre Dame came with the team to watch an effort at erasing the gloom which the army painted last week. Minnesota realized that Notre Dame's defeat was not due to Notre Dame's weakness so much as to the army's strength. Yet Minnesota hoped for victory and there was some even money in betting.

Northwestern vs. Tulane. Chicago, Oct. 24.—(United Press)—Rising temperature encouraged Tulane for its intersectional game with Northwestern on Stagg field this afternoon.

Tulane looks with disfavor on the freezing weather it met on arriving in Chicago yesterday, but the chill was taken off during the night, partly restoring the climate to which the southerners are accustomed.

Northwestern had the advantage of night in the line almost to the man, but Tulane was relying upon its back field to give the greater strength.

Indiana vs. Miami. Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 24.—(United Press)—Indiana was ready to challenge the football supremacy of Miami university's unbeaten team here today.

After one of the hardest week's practice in the history of the school, the Hoosiers appeared to be in the best condition of the season.

Miami has not had its goal line crossed this season.

Ohio State vs. Iowa. Columbus, O., Oct. 24.—(United Press)—It will be Marek against Katsch when Ohio State and Iowa meet this afternoon.

Supporters of both teams were keyed to a high pitch in anticipation of a battle between the two stars of their respective teams.

The query seemed to be: "Can Katsch repeat his playing of last week," when he scored all his team's points to defeat Illinois. On the other hand the Buckeyes are convinced that Marek's ability will offset anything that the Iowa cowboy has to offer. Both eleven are undefeated and a defeat for either would mean elimination from the conference championship race.

Purdue vs. Wisconsin. Madison, Wis., Oct. 24.—(United Press)—A smashing attack built around "Red" Kreuz, brother of Al Kreuz, University of Pennsylvania line cruser, who helped spill Yale last Saturday, is expected to be the feature of the Badger's offensive against Purdue here today.

Purdue arrived on the scene Friday afternoon and went through a light drill in preparation for today's tilt, which is the first between Wisconsin and Purdue since 1915.

Wabash vs. Butler. Indianapolis, Oct. 24.—(United Press)—Rain which has fallen steadily since early today, failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the Butler and Wabash college football teams which clash here this afternoon.

It is believed that the rain will hamper the Butler crew more than it will Wabash for the Bulldogs place more reliance on speed.

Franklin vs. State Normal. Franklin, Ind., Oct. 24.—(United Press)—Coach Duggan's Baptist grid machine was all primed for its game with Indiana State Normal here this afternoon. The local crew has been drilled especially hard for this contest as the Terre Haute school has one of the strongest eleven in the history of the institution.

Sen. Pepper In Chicago To "Talk" World Court

Chicago, Oct. 24.—(United Press.)—Here for the purpose of propounding his plan for a world court before the women's Roosevelt Republican club, Senator George Wharton Pepper of Pennsylvania outlined a plan which he says would allow the United States to join the world court and at the same time safeguard American interests.

"This plan would include three reservations in the present court plan," the senator said.

They are: That America shall make no commitments in any way binding the United States to provisions of the League of Nations covenant.

That the world court treaty shall be so amended as to give the United States a hand in the selection of judges.

That there shall be no advisory opinions by the court in cases where defendant nations decline to submit questions to the court. "These reservations," Senator Pepper said, "would safeguard us from any league liabilities or entanglements."

Radio Robs Frozen North Of Its Romantic Glamour

Chicago, Oct. 24.—(United Press.)—The frozen north has been robbed of its romantic glamour because radio has established an unbroken contact with the world, Commander E. F. McDonald, Jr., of the MacMillan expedition into the Arctic, said today.

The attractions of the wastes of the northland were the loneliness and the isolation from a world which seemed far away, but the radio has invaded this silence, McDonald said.

After four months of exploration in the northland McDonald enumerates three conclusions as the achievements of the MacMillan expedition:

Planes are worthless for Arctic exploration; science has received an important contribution in the naming of thousands of species of birds and fish, and the problem of daylight transmission by radio has been solved.

McDonald missed the comfort of attractively cooked civilized food. He didn't relish Polar bear, found seals better, especially their livers; managed to down walrus and liked only the auk.

Three eskimo canoes — Kayaks — were among the trophies of the expedition. One of the canoes will be presented to the Field museum of Chicago.

"Greenland is a fine summer resort," McDonald said. "It isn't very cold. The thermometer stays around 38 degrees and, wearing eskimo clothing, we found that pleasant."

Ward Of Millionaire Convicted Of Burglary

Waukegan, Ill., Oct. 24.—(United Press)—Jack Durand, wandering ward of the millionaire Scott Durand family, was at liberty today under bond of $10,000 pending an appeal from his conviction on a burglary charge.

Young Durand was found guilty by a jury here last night of participating with two other youths in the robbery of the F. Edson White home in Lake Forest. The robbery occurred more than a year ago and a pearl necklace belonging to White's daughter was found in Jack's possession. White is the millionaire president of Armour and company.

Sentence will not be passed pending outcome of the appeal for a new trial, which is to be taken to the state supreme court.

James Miller, Durand's co-defendant, was also found guilty and will be sentenced later. Both youths face terms of from three to twenty years in the penitentiary.

Durand's contention was that he knew nothing of the robbery and that Miller gave him the necklace without explaining where it was obtained.

Francis Patterson, the third youth, admitted the crime and testified against Durand and Miller. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to a 10 year term in prison.
