SEAPLANES AND SHIPS WRECKED ON COAST

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Twenty-one lives were lost in storms and gales which roared along the Atlantic seaboard and through the south Sunday, while property loss ran into millions of dollars.

Nine whites and seven negroes are known to have died in a tornado which ravaged Pike county, Alabama, while four persons were killed in the vicinity of Greater New York, and one at Woburn, Mass.

A big passenger liner, plying between Boston and New York, was caught in the full fury of the gale sweeping up Long Island Sound, and the lives of its 500 passengers were for a time endangered.

"S.O.S." calls brought help and the steamship, with its engines disabled and side wheels smashed, was towed into Newport, R. I.

Seventeen seaplanes, pick of the flying strength of the navy, were wrecked in a storm on the Patapsco river, below Baltimore.

WILL OPEN NEW PAVEMENT SOON

Thirteenth Street And Fort Wayne Road To Be Ready For Traffic Soon

Work is continuing on the two road improvements out of this city and indications are that they will be opened for traffic before cold weather sets in. The Fort Wayne road north of Decatur, which is being rebuilt with tarvia, probably will be completed in the next two weeks. Considerable trouble has been caused by persons driving their cars on the road before it has been completed and this has caused much extra work.

The Thirteenth street road, which was finished with emulsified asphalt, is also still closed for traffic, but work is completed and it will be opened for traffic next Wednesday.

The street improvements in Decatur have been entirely completed and the cement side walks have been built along the improvements. The Jefferson street improvement has been open for some time and it is regarded as one of the best streets in the city. The old brick sidewalks along this street have been taken up and cement walks have been laid. The South First street improvement is built similar to the Jefferson street and it is the general opinion that this street will be of great service.

Roads leading to other towns and cities out of Decatur are in fair shape for this time of the year. Most tourists going south are using the Hoosier Highway out of Bluffton, but some take the state road 21 straight south from this city. This is probably the best road at present. The roads east of Decatur are in fairly good condition.

West of the city, the roads are rutty, but are in much better shape than a year ago. Probably the best detour to Fort Wayne is the road that leads through Hoagland and thence to the state road at the interurban station. The River road to Fort Wayne is in only fair condition, due to the unusually heavy traffic on it all summer.

The ladies of First ward, A. will hold a meeting at the home of Mrs. Ed Green and all voters are cordially invited to attend this meeting. Several speakers will give short talks. The ladies of the Second ward, A. will have a meeting tomorrow night.

TACK REMOVED FROM WINDPIPE

Operation Performed On Child Of Otto Holle Proves Successful

The carpet tack, which was lodged in the windpipe of Paul Holle, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Holle, of Union township, was removed by surgeons at Toledo, Ohio, Sunday morning, according to word received here Sunday by William Schamroth, the child's grandfather. The child withstood the operation nicely, the message said, and was expected to recover within a short time.

The operation was performed at 9 o'clock Sunday morning. It is not known here whether the tack was removed through the child's throat or by means of an incision. The tack had been lodged in the windpipe since last spring, when the child fell from a chair.

Mr. Holle stated in his message to Mr. Schamroth, that they would keep the child in a hospital at Toledo for two days, before bringing him home.

Corn husking also is another fall occupation that has started. Home-grown vegetables and fruits are disappearing from the local market and a majority of the fruits and vegetables now obtainable are of the hot-hous and southern varieties, which means that values will turn upward soon.

Business has taken an upward move in most of the local stores due to the change in weather and most people are buying winter supplies. Coal and kindling wood are leading the commodities in sales at present.

ABE S. STUCKEY DIES SUDDENLY

Well-known Decatur Man Succumbs To Attack Of Heart Trouble Today

Abe S. Stuckey, 64, residing at 324 Marshall street, died suddenly at 7:20 o'clock this morning. Death was due to heart failure. Mr. Stuckey had not been in the best of health for the past two months, but his condition was not considered alarming and his death came as a shock to his many friends.

TEMPERATURE REMAINS COOL

Community Getting Taste Of Real Fall Weather; Beet Harvest On

Cooler temperature and a taste of fall weather continues to hold this community in an early-fall atmosphere. A snappy cold wave followed Saturday's rain and barometer predictions are to the effect that it will remain cool. Threats of rain prevailed this morning and the sun made no effort to break through the heavy clouds. A flock of wild geese, numbering nearly fifty, flew over Decatur, south bound, about 8 o'clock this morning.

Farmers say that there is very little vegetation in the ground now that frost will harm. Most of the work in the fields is limited to corn and beet fields. Hundreds of cars of sugar beets are on their way to Decatur to be made into sugar and this process is keeping most of the farmers of this community busy at present.

Corn husking also is another fall occupation that has started. Home-grown vegetables and fruits are disappearing from the local market and a majority of the fruits and vegetables now obtainable are of the hot-hous and southern varieties, which means that values will turn upward soon.

Business has taken an upward move in most of the local stores due to the change in weather and most people are buying winter supplies. Coal and kindling wood are leading the commodities in sales at present.

24 HOURS GIVEN FOR WITHDRAWAL OF TWO ARMIES

Bulgars And Greeks Ordered to Evacuate Territory At Once

COMMITTEE WILL FIX RESPONSIBILITY

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Paris, Oct. 26.—The league of nations council tonight gave Greece and Bulgaria 24 hours in which to instruct their troops to withdraw from the occupied territory along the Macedonian frontier. The council will demand definite truth of the evacuation on Thursday.

An investigating committee will be sent to study the incident and to take responsibility for the conflict which threatens to plunge the Bulgars in a new war.

Should there be such, this would be deemed an affront to the league of nations to which both Greece and Bulgaria belong.

Minister Maroff, for Bulgaria, and Minister Carapanos for Greece, accepted the council's decision.

TWELFTH TON LITTER WEIGHED

M. Davison, St. Marys Township, Feeds Last Litter To Cross Goal In Contest

The time-worn expression, "last but not least," might well apply to Marcus Davison, St. Marys township farmer, living four miles east of Monroe, in that his litter of 11 purebred Poland China pigs tipped the scales at 2,571 pounds, Saturday morning. They were exactly 180 days old and are the last pigs to be weighed in Adams county's swine classic this year.

The pigs were large, smooth and heavy-boned, just in good shape to take on finish. Their uniformity is evidenced by the fact that the largest pig weighed 259 pounds while the smallest weighed 203 pounds.

That considerable personal attention was given the pigs by Mr. Davison, was shown by his having driven several miles to obtain the services of a veterinarian in caring for one of the little fellows which was seriously injured when only a few days old by having been stepped upon by its mother. The pig so cared for weighed 222 pounds on weigh day.

The litter was permitted to run with the remainder of the spring pigs during the entire summer and fall. Pasture and small grain was their chief feed during the summer and during the last few weeks they have been "hogging corn," with tankage to balance their ration.

This litter is the twelfth to cross the line this year as the result of the skill of Adams county hog feeders. Although not the largest, Mr. Davison is sure to win one of the cash prizes offered by H. P. Schmitt, butcher of this city.
