DEMOCRATIC TICKET

For mayor—George Krick.
For treasurer—Luella Magley.
For clerk—Catherine Kaufman.
Councilman at large—George Miller.
Councilman at large—Fred Ashbacher.

Councilman, first ward—Fred Linn.
Councilman, second ward—Joseph Hunter.
Councilman, third ward—O. L. Vance.

STICK TO KRICK.

These October snow storms are a little unusual and must have been arranged for by those Florida land sharks who are continually referring to our severe winters.

A Fort Wayne woman has filed a divorce suit here and asks $100,000 alimony. That's fixing a new value on this kind of thing around here. Must be in accordance with the present fast age.

A fellow down near Indianapolis bet a mule against twenty-seven roosters on the world series and lost. He ought to have known better than to have opposed the roosters this year. They are going to crow all over the state next Tuesday.

Just a couple of more days until election. Remember that besides voting you should aid in getting your friends to go to the polls. We must take an interest in these affairs if we would continue as a progressive and live city.

The Stephenson case is attracting considerable attention these days and will for a week or two probably, for every inch of it is to be hard fought, according to indications. The state of Indiana is certainly wasting a lot of time on these law violators.

Last minute charges do not count. We have a faint remembrance of something like that occurring on the eve of the election four years ago. We don't believe it will be tried this year.

Perhaps some of you old timers can remember winters which started like this one but we haven't. This is the first time we have ever had to sweep the snow away before we could sweep the leaves up and before most of the trees have shed their coats.

STICK TO KRICK.

While indications are for a democratic victory next Tuesday, there should be no let up on the part of the workers. Keep at it and remember that the biggest job is on election day. You must get out the vote and you must have workers at the polls.

This is a moral city with an excellent police force, excelled by none and equalled by but few municipalities. This is a well protected city in every way with an excellent fire department and good equipment, this is a splendid city of the very first class, with a good municipal plant, going good and making money. Lets keep it that way. That's what the candidates on the democratic ticket stand for.

The present administration has stood the test. Four years ago they were elected upon a platform of promises. They have kept them, as did the administrations previous to them. They have improved conditions and lowered the tax rate, they have added ornamental lights, new streets, equipment at the plant, and have done it largely on the profits of the city plant. The candidates on the democratic ticket now promise you certain things and we believe they will likewise make good if elected Tuesday. And we believe they will be elected for we feel sure the people of this city recognize what has been done, is being done and will be done, that they are satisfied with conditions here and want them continued.

As president of the board of works here the past four years, George Krick has proven his ability to serve the city. He knows his duties and will perform them to the satisfaction of every tax payer and citizen. He is honest, efficient, industrious. He knows how to conduct business and he will serve you well. His associates on the ticket are all splendidly qualified and deserve your support. Mrs. Magley is the candidate for treasurer and can take care of that office in a most satisfactory manner; Mrs. Kaufman, candidate for clerk has served four years and has no opposition in this election. The candidates for council are O. L. Vance, Fred Linn, Joe Hunter, George Miller and Fred Ashbacher, good business men who will prove worthy officers. Its a splendid ticket and there is no reason we know of why you should not vote it.

Remus Says Prison Life Agrees With Warren T. McCray

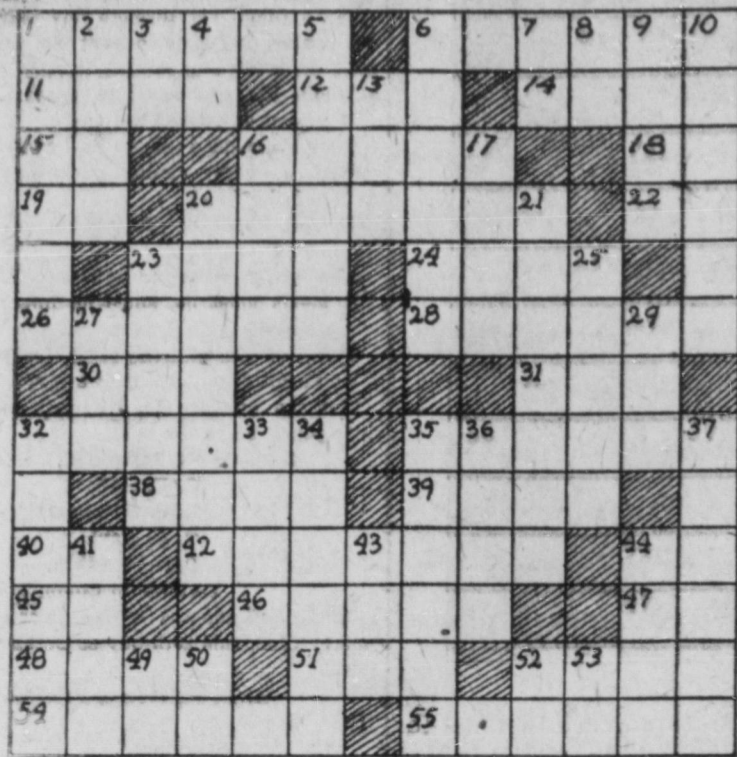

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 30.—(United Press.)—Warren T. McCray, former governor of Indiana, is looking more fit than he did when he entered the Atlanta federal penitentiary eighteen months ago, George Remus, Cincinnati bootleg king, declared today.
Remus, who is in Indianapolis to testify before the federal grand jury in a booze conspiracy investigation, became acquainted with McCray while serving time at the prison.

"McCray is physically fit and looking better than he did when he went to Atlanta," Remus said. "All the prisoners play baseball and McCray is exceptionally good. He is very popular among the prisoners."
McCray's petition for parole from his ten-year sentence for fraudulent use of the mails is now before Attorney General Sargent in Washington.

DAILY DEMOCRAT CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

HOW TO SOLVE A CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

When the correct letters are placed in the white spaces this puzzle will spell words both vertically and horizontally. The first letter in each word is indicated by a number, which refers to the definition listed below the puzzle. Thus No. 1 under the column headed "Horizontal" defines a word which will fill the white spaces up to the first black square to the right, and a number under "Vertical" defines a word which will fill the white squares to the next black one below. No letters go in the black spaces. All words used are dictionary words, except proper names. Abbreviations, slang, initials, technical terms and obsolete terms are indicated in the definitions.

WHEN NIGHT COMES

When night comes down
Away from town
Tramp all the weary men,
And glad are they
To close the day
And turn toward home again

The swinging gates
Where laughter waits
Receive them with a smile;
The open door
Clicks tight once more
Upon the finished mile.

A man must hide,
His gentler side
At desk and lathe and drill,

Must hold his place
And keep the pace
In courage, strength and skill.

But always great
To those who wait
He comes when night slips down,
Love seldom asks
How went his tasks
Or hangers for renown.

Beneath his roof
None stands aloof
Nor scorns his motives true,
There love has tried
His gentler side
And knows him through and through.

Women Better Students Than Men At Indiana U.

Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 30.—(Women are better scholars than men, according to figures made public at Indiana University here today.)

The announcement was based on records of the summer term, in the college of arts and sciences and were made public by David A. Rothrock, dean of the college.

Forty-eight women and thirty men were listed as straight "A" students. The students were listed from the college of arts and sciences, school of education, law school and schools of medicine and commerce.

Pupils Refuse To Take Iodine Tablets As Ordered

Columbus, Ind., Oct. 30.—One hundred and fifty students in the Bartholomew county schools have refused to abide by the order of Dr. Will J. Norton, county health commissioner and take iodine tablets.

The tablets were prescribed by the doctor as a precautionary measure. In some cases the children appear to be anxious to take the medicine and apply to the teacher more often than specified in the orders. It is believed that the children only refused the treatment when ordered to do so by their parents.

Notorious Confidence Man Is Held In Indianapolis

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 30.—(United Press.)—John F. Petrie, alias Thomas Kelly, Jr., of New York, said to be one of the most notorious confidence men in the country, was held under $10,000 bond today.

A plea that he be allowed to return to New York to "fix up" a six year prison term which is hanging over him availed Petrie nothing when arraigned on a charge of forgery.

Police say Petrie is wanted in many cities and has a long prison record.

Guard Against Spread Of Infantile Paralysis

Jeffersonville, Ind., Oct. 30.—(United Press.)—Fear of infantile paralysis today caused local health officers to close all schools in this city and Jeffersonville township.

No cases of the disease have been reported, but the action was taken because of the epidemic raging in the neighboring cities of Louisville and New Albany.

OBITUARY

Linza B. Okeley was born in Wabash township, Indiana, September 26, 1847, and died at his home in Blue Creek township, Adams county, Indiana, October 25, 1925, age 78 years, 29 days. He was a son of John and Magdalena Okeley and was a member of a family of eight children, all of whom preceded him in death. Fifty-five years ago he moved with his parents to Blue Creek township, where he spent the remainder of his life.

On September 21, 1872, he was married to Sarah Jane Young. To this union were born six children, two of whom are still living, namely: J. F. and William B. Okeley. Mrs. Okeley died in 1896, and on June 3, 1897, he was united in marriage with Sarah Elizabeth Harker, and to them were born one son, Clarence, who survives. The direct survivors are: the devoted wife and sons, Fred, William and Clarence; four step children, Alton L. Morris, Rolla R. Morris, Mrs. Otis Sims and Mrs. Jesse Sipe. He had been a father to them all. Besides these there are left to mourn their loss, four grandchildren and a wide circle of friends.

Mr. Okeley was converted in the Union church 19 years ago and later joined that religious body.

The deceased had been in failing health for some time, but it was not thought that the end was so near.

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning, October 27, at 10 o'clock from the Union U. M. church, southwest of Willshire, Ohio, in charge of Rev. F. W. Lutz, of Bryan, Ohio, assisted by the pastor, Rev. R. R. Risley. The funeral was largely attended. Interment was made in the Willshire cemetery.

Examiners Find Two Cows Afflicted With Tuberculosis

Warsaw, Ind., Oct. 30.—The work of examining every cow in Kosciusko county to find and stamp out tuberculosis so far has resulted in the discovery of only two animals afflicted with the disease.

The work is being carried on under the direction of the state veterinarian's office, with Dr. C. W. Keith in charge.

Pay By Check

When you pay your bills by check, there is never any danger of having to pay the same bill a second time through failure to get a receipt. Once a check has been cancelled by your bank it will stand in any court as proof that the bill for which the check was given, has been paid, and that the person to whom the check was made payable has received his money.

Besides, when you pay by check, you always have the right change.
